Session 1951.

139th of the General Assembly.

Vol. 32.

HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1951.

No. 48.

SENATE

TUESDAY, May 15, 1951.

The Senate met at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT L. CURRY, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, St. Clair, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

God, it is good for us to take time out to talk with you. This has been a busy day for all of us. It will become more busy as the hours go by. Help us then to know the long-range view of our work and of the world. Teach us the art and wisdom of knowing that always it is better to fail in a cause that will some day succeed, than to succeed in a cause that will some day fail.

Speak to us that we can know Thy way. Keep our minds tuned to Heaven, but at the same time may we know the way of good dealing with earthly problems. Yet above all, give us the faith to know that when God wants us to do something, God will find a way to let us know it. May we not make it too difficult for God to guide us. And, may we always carry out God's program above party or personality. Our Nation needs strength and faith in this troublesome hour, God. Our Commonwealth needs Your grace, God. When those moments come that we disagree, let us always be agreeable even when we disagree. We listen to Jesus say, "Blessed are the peacemakers." We have seen past history tell us that a house divided against itself can never stand. May this Commonwealth, may these men who guide us never fail and, above all, may they never fall. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGES

SENATE CONCURS IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being in-

HOUSE BILL No. 219, PRINTER'S No. 178, BE RECALLED FROM THE SENATE

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, House Bill No. 206 entitled "An act to further amend Section 2401 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto,' by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township, lists of water meter readings, flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates, and providing reimbursement for their expenses," passed the House of Representatives on April 16, 1951 after having been amended on second reading; and

Whereas, The bill was messaged to the Senate on April 17, 1951, was on that day referred by the Senate to its Committee on Corporations, was reported from that committee as committed on May 9 and passed first reading in the Senate on the same day; and

Whereas, The print of the bill, acted on by the House in final passage was No. 219, but inadvertently Printer's No. 178 was message to the Senate in place of Printer's No. 219 and was acted on by the Senate, wherefore there is a lack of concurrence in the final action of the House and that taken so far by the Senate; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 206, entitled "An act to further amend Section 2401 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto,' by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township, lists of water meter readings, flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates, and providing reimbursement for their expenses," (be recalled from the Senate for the purpose of substituting the correct print of the bill as it passed the House finally on April 16, 1951).

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

In the Senate, May 14, 1951.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), that when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, May 21, 1951, at two o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, May 21, 1951, at three thirty o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 60, entitled:

An Act authorizing the court in any proceeding to establish paternity, to order the parties therein to submit to blood grouping tests, and prescribing the conditions under which such evidence may be admitted.

House Bill No. 188, entitled:

An Act relating to the admissibility in evidence and the proof of official records documents and proceedings both domestic and foreign and of copies thereof and extracts therefrom and certificates in reference thereto.

House Bill No. 247, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and the act, approved the sixth day of April, one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 164), entitled "An act authorizing and empowering minors seventeen years of age, or older, to contract for and to make loans in accordance with the provisions of the act of Congress, known as the "Service-men's Readjustment Act of 1944," or any agency of the Commonwealth hereafter created, and saving and relieving parents, guardians, and trustees of such minors from any liability therefor, unless joining therein," by extending the provisions thereof to include certain, adults and empowering the minor spouses of such persons to join in the execution of certain contracts; and validating the actions of minor spouses of such adults in heretofore joining in the execution of any such contracts under certain conditions.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLASS, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 524, entitled:

An Act relating to criminal prosecutions; permitting defendants to make motions in arrest of judgment on the ground that the evidence is insufficient to sustain the charge and providing for the effect thereof.

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 50 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLASS from the Committee on Constitutional

Changes and Federal Relations, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. BERGER, on May 1, 1951, reported the same without amendment as follows, and was laid on the table in accordance with the rules:

URGING CONGRESS TO REJECT THE PROPOSED INCREASES IN AUTOMOTIVE EXCISE TAXES

In the Senate, May 1, 1951.

Whereas, the Congress of the United States is presently considering excise tax increases on new automobiles and gasoline which are estimated to produce approximately $1,264 million, and

Whereas, this amount would be in addition to the nearly $1.5 billion presently being collected in federal automotive excise taxes, and

Whereas, the field of automotive taxation is one that historically and rightfully belongs to the states, and

Whereas, further encroachment by the Federal Government into this field of taxation would interfere with this taxing potential, therefore be it

Resolved, that the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does urge the Congress of the United States to reject the proposed increases in automotive excise taxes for the aforesaid reasons, and be it further

Resolved, that the Secretary of the Senate be directed to forward copies of this resolution upon its passage to the Honorable Robert I. Doughton, Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the United States House of Representatives; to the Honorable Walter F. George, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the United States Senate and to members of the Pennsylvania Congressional delegation.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KESSLER, from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, reported as committed, House Bill No. 983, entitled:

An Act requiring wells and cisterns to be covered or sealed and providing penalties.

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 122 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WAGNER from the Committee on Public Health and Welfare, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. SCARLETT, on May 1, 1951, reported the same without amendment as follows, and was laid on the table in accordance with the rules:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE STATE-WIDE NEEDS AND PROBLEMS OF THE AGING AND THE AGED

In the Senate, May 1, 1951.

Whereas, The personal, family, social, medical, financial and related problems arising from the continued increase in the number and proportion of Pennsylvanians of advanced age are of growing magnitude; and

Whereas, These problems are of such striking significance and so intricate as to warrant special and intensive attention by the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, All aspects of this rise in the aging population presents the Commonwealth with increasingly serious social and human problems; now therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a comprehensive and intensive study of the State-wide needs and problems of the aging and the aged and to develop in cooperation with other governmental and voluntary groups ways and means to assist the Commonwealth in meeting these needs and problems and in such study the commission may appoint and consult with a Citizens Advisory Committee of competent lay and professional citizens who have demonstrated interests in and knowledge of the aging and the aged. Such study shall concentrate on the following:

1. Employment opportunities for older persons.
2. Facilities and services for the aged including: counseling and personal services, employment guidance and placement services, medical care services, institutional services, treatment and rehabilitation for the chronically ill, care of and rehabilitation for the disabled and the handicapped, recreation, education and related community services.

3. Analysis of the problems of the aged receiving old-age assistance with special reference to the adequacy of grants and standards of living, boarding homes and other sheltered care for the indigent aged.

4. Special attention to the problems of care and treatment of the senile aged.

5. Study of other special needs as develop in the course of the study; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall report to the General Assembly on or before February first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, the results of its studies and investigations and recommendations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this is a report from the Local Government Committee. The several bills which I am going to report out now are part of the Philadelphia package.

Now, Mr. President, I am directed by the Committee on Local Government to report out House Bill No. 52, House Bill No. 466, House Bill No. 569, House Bill No. 647 and House Bill No. 827, all as committed.

water-rent or rate; providing that the water-rent rate or rate in force at the time of filing the change shall continue for a period of six months from date thereof and an additional period not exceeding six months pending decision; providing that the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County shall not by the establishment of temporary water-rents or rates, or by rule or otherwise, circumvent, alter or modify provisions of this amendment relative to changes in existing law; providing that the changes in established water-rents or rates during the year one thousand nine hundred fifty-one which do not comply with the provisions of section five as herein amended shall be void and the previously existing water-rents or rates reestablished until changed in accordance with the provisions of section five herein amended; and providing that temporary rates may be established by the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County only after notice and hearing as required by section five as herein amended.

which was re-referred to the Committee on Corporations.

MEMBERS OF NATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION, PENNSYLVANIA REGION, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Pennsylvania Senate to the presence in the Senate of four outstanding students of the Pennsylvania State College. This college is more than one hundred years of age, which started as a farmers high school in Pennsylvania, and has now become a tremendous institution both in size and in caliber of student representation.

Mr. President, these four students who are here today represent a student body of ten thousand three hundred students and they came here on petition to meet with Senator McPherson and his committee, to discuss absentee voting.

I would like to present to the Chair, William J. Klisanin, Chairman of the Student Group, David Fitzcharles, Chairman of the Absentee Voting group. The other members of the Committee are Miss Nancy George and Mr. William Bare. They are present in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT. Will those students please rise in place and take a bow?

The PRESIDING OFFICER (A. H. LETZLER) in the Chair.

MEMBERS OF HAVERFORD LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, it gives me a great deal of pleasure to introduce five ladies from Delaware County who are members of the Haverford League of Women Voters. I might add that these ladies are here today to try to persuade some of our good Senators to consider the Oleomargarine Bill again, and I certainly have referred them to the right party. I might say that they are also good politicians. We do not have any ladies from Delaware County that are not politicians.

Mr. President, it does give me a great deal of pleasure and honor to introduce these ladies to you fine gentlemen.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the guests from Delaware County please rise? The Chair is very happy

DAUGHTERS OF HOUSE MEMBER PETROSKY PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I never had the pleasure in all the years I have been here to have a group come down from Westmoreland County and have the privilege of presenting them to the Senate, but today there is a group. I admit it is a small group, but I would like to present two young ladies, the daughters of a Member of the House, Mr. Petrosky, to the Members of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the guests of Senator Dent please rise and take a bow? The Chair is very happy to extend a cordial welcome to these fine guests of Senator Dent.

SENATE RESOLUTION

APPRECIATION OF SENATE EXTENDED TO PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL AND MUSEUM COMMISSION AND TO THE NATIONAL COUNCIL FOR HISTORIC SITES AND BUILDINGS FOR THE RESTORATION OF HISTORIC WARRIOR RUN CHURCH

Messrs. WOLFE and STIEFEL, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, The National Council for Historic Sites and Buildings, nationwide organization to promote the preservation and proper development of the buildings and places most closely associated with the great historical heritage of the United States, has recently called attention to the fact that historic Warrior Run Church, in Northumberland County, is the first church in Pennsylvania to be taken over as a historical shrine of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The National Council for Historic Sites and Buildings also points that the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission which administers this property is giving consideration to necessary repairs to Warrior Run Church, on the recommendation of the architect in charge; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby recognizes with pleasure the efforts of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to restore and develop in a fitting manner the historic Warrior Run Church in Northumberland County, and that it expresses its thanks to the National Council for Historic Sites and Buildings for the interest manifested in the restoration and development of historic shrines in this Commonwealth.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING THAT THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION MAKE A STUDY OF TAX EXEMPT REAL ESTATE

Mr. PROPERT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Local Government:

In the Senate, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, The exemption from local taxation of much valuable real estate situate throughout the Commonwealth and owned by the Commonwealth, its political subdivisions, educational, religious and charitable institutions has become a highly controversial and increasingly important problem, and

Whereas, A detailed study and investigation of the total assessed value of such real estate in its relation to the total assessed value of taxable real estate, in the various political subdivisions, as well as studies of the justification of all or any of such exemptions, methods of reimbursing taxing authorities for loss of revenue and related problems, are a necessary prerequisite to an intelligent approach to and solution of the problem; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a complete study and investigation of (1) the total assessed value of the various kinds or classes of such tax exempt real estate in the various political subdivisions and the relation such values bear to the total assessed value of taxable real estate therein, (2) ways and means to reimburse the local taxing authorities for the loss of revenue by reason of such exemption, (3) the benefits derived compared to the loss of tax revenue sustained by reason of the location of such tax property in such political subdivisions (4) and such related studies as may be necessary or desirable to present a full report on the problem; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission shall make a report of its findings and recommendations to the next regular session of the General Assembly, not later than January fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, together with such proposed legislation as it may devise to carry out its recommendations.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 378, as follows:

An Act authorizing and requiring municipal authorities and public utility companies engaged in the supplying of water to shut off the supply of water for nonpayment of sewer sewage or sewage treatment rentals rates or charges imposed by municipalities authorizing and requiring them to supply to such municipalities:

lists of metered water readings and flat-rate water bills and other data authorizing them to act as billing and collecting agents for such municipalities and conferring certain powers upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in connection therewith

Section 1 If the owner or occupant of premises served by any water utility as hereinafter defined shall neglect or fail to pay for a period of thirty (30) days from the due date thereof any rental rate or charge for sewer sewerage or sewage treatment service imposed by any municipality such water utility is hereby authorized and required at the request and direction of such municipality to shut off the supply of water to such premises until all such overdue rentals rates and charges together with any penalties and interest thereon shall be paid

Section 2 Every such water utility is hereby authorized and required at the request of any such municipality to supply to such municipality on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month during which water bills are issued a list or lists of all water meter readings and flat-rate water bills issued during the preceding calendar month and the basis of each flat-rate customer's water charge so that such data may be used by such municipality in calculating or computing its rentals rates or charges for furnishing sewer sewerage or sewage treatment service to such water customers

Section 3 Such water utilities are hereby authorized to act as the billing and collecting agents of any such municipality which imposes upon the owners or occupants of premises served by such water utilities any rentals rates or charges for the use of a sewer sewerage system or sewage treatment work Upon request of any such municipality the water utility may include with its own bills for water or water service such rentals rates and charges for sewer sewerage and sewage treatment service Such added rentals rates and charges shall set forth separately from the charge for water or water service but both shall be payable to and collected by such water utility and payment of either may be refused unless both are paid Such water utility shall at least quarter-annually account for and turn over the moneys it has collected to the municipality which shall have imposed such rentals rates or charges

Section 4 The municipality imposing such sewer sewage or sewage treatment rentals rates or charges shall pay to every such water utility the reasonable additional clerical and other expenses incurred by it in providing such billing and collecting services The municipality which shall request and direct the shut-off of water shall also pay to the water utility the cost of such shut-off services and the estimated loss of water revenues resulting from such shut-off Water utilities are hereby authorized to enter into long-term agreements with such municipalities for the performance of such billing and collecting services for such shut-off services which agreements shall be binding upon such water utilities their successors and assigns If a dispute shall arise between any such water utility and the municipality regarding the cost of such services or the amount of such revenues lost or regarding the provisions of any agreement between them concerning payments for such services such dispute shall be submitted by either party to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission whose decision unless reversed on appeal by the Superior Court shall be final but this act shall not be construed to grant to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any other regulatory power or jurisdiction whatsoever over municipalities

Section 5 As used in this act the term "water utility" or "water utilities" shall be construed to include all municipal authorities and public utility companies engaged in the supplying of water or water service

Section 6 All acts and parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

(1) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within this Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the corporation's tangible property situated within this Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the corporation's tangible property wherever situated

(2) Of one-third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said one-third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to its employees and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions and other compensation to all its employees

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business

In cases where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remainder of the net income of the corporation shall be divided into two equal parts only each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules If only one of the three rules is applicable the part of the net income received from business carried on within the Commonwealth shall be determined solely by that rule

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of expenditures of the corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the corporation outside the Commonwealth

The amount of the corporation's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the corporation by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside of the Commonwealth and except rentals and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth If a corporation maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the department shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts by the corporation to the business conducted at such place of business in another state In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office outside the state but performed in the state the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable to the state except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the state and partly outside the state such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in the state under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a corporation for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the corporation are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth

3 In case the entire business of any corporation engaged in doing business as an insurance or surety company is not transacted within this Commonwealth the tax imposed by this act shall be based upon such portion of the net income of such corporation for the fiscal or calendar year as defined in clause one hereof as shall be attributed to business transacted within this Commonwealth by multiplying such net income by a fraction of which the numerator is the gross premiums received from business transacted within the Commonwealth as hereinafter defined and of which the denominator is the amount of the gross premiums received from all its business "Gross Premiums" shall mean the amount of dues fees and premiums stated in the policy contracts and shall include gross premiums of every character and description received during the taxable year from all underwriting activities whether said premiums were received in money or in the form of notes credits or any other substitute for money less the following deductions

(a) All premiums returned on policies cancelled or not taken

(b) In the case of stock companies with participating features an additional deduction for that portion of the premiums returned to the policyholders

(c) In the case of life insurance companies an additional deduction for dividends declared and actually used by policyholders in payment of renewal premiums

"Gross premiums received from business transacted in the Commonwealth" shall mean gross premiums received from policies and annuities written on property or risks located or resident in this Commonwealth whether such premiums were collected in this Commonwealth or elsewhere

"Person" Every natural person association or corporation Whenever used in any clause prescribing and imposing a fine or imprisonment or both the term "person" as applied to associations shall mean the partners or members thereof and as applied to corporations the officers thereof

The singular shall include the plural and the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter

Section 3 Imposition of Tax Every corporation shall be subject to and shall pay for the privilege of doing business in this Commonwealth or having capital or property employed or used in this Commonwealth by or in the name of itself or any person partnership association limited partnership joint-stock association or corporation a State excise tax at the rate of six per centum per annum upon each dollar of net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of six per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six a similar tax at the rate of ten per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of ten per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal year commencing in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six and ending in the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and a similar tax at the rate of seven per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation during the calendar year one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two except when a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of seven per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one and one thousand nine hundred forty-two and a similar tax at the rate of four per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and one thousand nine hundred fifty except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of four per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and one thousand nine hundred fifty and a similar tax at the rate of five per centum per annum upon each dollar of the net income of such corporation received by and accruing to such corporation during the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two except where a corporation reports to the Federal Government on the basis of a fiscal year and has certified such fact to the department as required by section four of this act in which case such tax at the rate of five per centum shall be levied collected and paid upon all net income received by and accruing to such corporation during the fiscal years commencing in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two

The tax hereby imposed shall be in addition to all taxes now imposed on any corporation under the provisions of existing laws

Section 4 Report and Payment of Tax For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of tax payable under this act it shall be the duty of every corporation liable to pay tax under this act on or before the fifteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred fifty-three to transmit to the department upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department a report under oath or affirmation of its president vice-president or other principal officer and of its treasurer or assistant treasurer of net income taxable under the provisions of this act Such report shall set forth

(a) A true copy of its return to the Federal Government of the annual net income arising or accruing in the calendar or fiscal year next preceding or such part or portions of said return as the department may designate

(b) If no return was filed with the Federal Government the report made to the department shall show such information as would have been contained in a return to the Federal Government had one been made and

(c) Such other information as the department may require

The failure of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act to procure or receive any report form shall not excuse it from making a report

Every corporation upon the date its report is required herein to be made shall pay to the department not less than one-half of the tax due to the Commonwealth by it for such preceding year and the remaining one-half of such tax shall be paid within the thirty days next succeeding and except as otherwise provided by law no extension of time for the filing of any report granted by the department shall extend the date any tax imposed by this act shall be due and payable The amount of all taxes imposed under the provisions of this act not paid on or before the times as above provided shall bear interest at the rate of six (6) per centum per annum from the date they are due and payable until paid except that if the taxable income has been or is increased by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States interest shall be computed on the additional tax due from thirty days after the corporation receives notice of the change of income until paid Provided however That any corporation may pay the full amount of such tax or any part thereof together with interest due to the date of payment without prejudice to its right to present and prosecute a petition for resettlement a petition for review or an appeal to court If it be thereafter determined that such taxes were overpaid the department shall enter a credit to the account of such corporation which may be used by it in the manner prescribed by law

If the officers of any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report as herein required or shall knowingly make any false report an additional ten per centum of the amount of the tax shall be added by the department to the tax determined to be due

If any corporation closes its fiscal year not upon the thirty-first day of December but upon some other date and reports to the Federal Government as of such other date or would so report were it to make a return to the Federal Government such corporation shall certify such fact to the Department of Revenue and shall make the report herein required within thirty (30) days after the return to the Federal Government is due or would be due were it to be required of such corporation subject in all other respects to the provisions of this act

If the corporation shall claim in its report that the return made to the Federal Government was inaccurate the amount claimed by it to be the net income taxable under this act and the basis of such claim of inaccuracy shall be fully specified

Section 5 Consolidated Reports The department shall not permit any corporation owning or controlling directly or indirectly any of the voting capital stock of another corporation or of other corporations subject to the provisions of this act to make a consolidated report showing the combined net income

Section 6 Extension of Time to File Reports The department may upon application made to it in such form as it shall prescribe on or prior to the last day for filing any report and upon proper cause shown grant to the corporation required to file such report an extension of not more than sixty (60) days within which such report may be filed and in case the Federal income tax authorities at any time grant a longer extension of time for filing such reports with the Federal Government the department may grant an additional extension of time for filing the report under this act of not more than thirty (30) days after the termination of the Federal extension but the amount of tax due shall in such cases nevertheless be subject to interest from the due dates and at the rates fixed by this act

Section 7 Changes Made by Federal Government (a) If the amount of the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States such corporation within thirty (30) days after the receipt of such final change or correction shall make a corrected report under oath or affirmation to the department showing such finally changed or corrected net income upon which the tax is required to be paid to the United States. In case a corporation fails to file a report of such correction which results in an increase in net income within the time prescribed there shall be added to the tax a penalty of five dollars ($5.00) for every day during which such corporation is in default but the department may abate any such penalty in whole or in part

(b) If as a result of such final change or correction there should be any change made in the amount of the net income of any corporation upon which tax is imposed by this act the department shall have the power and its duty shall be to resettle such taxes. Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made. The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlements and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(c) Where a report of change correction or redetermination of Federal income or Federal tax has been filed after a petition for review or an appeal has been taken such report shall be deemed a part of the original report upon petition of the taxpayer at any subsequent proceeding as though it had been filed with the original report and no separate petition for review or appeal from the resettlement resulting from such report of change correction or redetermination shall be necessary

(d) The provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to permit a resettlement based upon the allowance of any deduction on account of net operating losses sustained in other fiscal or calendar years that are not allowed as deductions under the definition of "Net Income" as contained in section two of this act

Section 8 Settlement and Resettlement (a) All taxes due under this act shall be settled by the department and such settlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General and shall so far as possible be made so that notice thereof may reach the taxpayer before the end of a year after the tax report was required to be made

(b) Promptly after the date of any such settlement the department shall send by mail or otherwise a copy thereof to such corporation. The tax imposed by this act shall be settled resettled and otherwise imposed and adjusted in the same manner within the same periods of time and right of resettlement review appeal and refund as provided by law in the case of capital stock and franchise taxes imposed upon corporations

(c) If within a period of two years after the date of any settlement the department is not satisfied with such settlement or if at any time the net income as returned by any corporation to the Federal Government is finally changed or corrected by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or by any other agency or court of the United States with the result that tax in addition to the amount paid is due under this act the department is hereby authorized and empowered to make a resettlement of the tax due by such corporation based upon the facts contained in the report or upon any information within its possession or that shall come into its possession

Whenever a resettlement shall have been made hereunder the department shall resettle the account according to law and shall credit or charge as the case may be the amount resulting from such resettlement upon the current accounts of the corporation with which it is made

The resettlement shall be subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General as in the case of original settlement and in case of the failure of the two departments to agree the resettlement shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue as in the case of original settlements

(d) If any corporation shall neglect or refuse to make any report and payment of tax required by this act the department shall estimate the tax due by such corporation and subject to audit and approval by the Department of the Auditor General settle the amount due by it for taxes penalties and interest thereon as prescribed herein from which settlement there shall be no right of review or appeal but the department with the approval of the Department of the Auditor General may require a report to be filed and thereupon make a settlement based upon such report and cancel the estimated settlement

Section 9 Enforcement Rules and Regulations Inquisitorial Powers of the Department (a) The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations not inconsistent with this act relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act and the collection of taxes penalties and interest imposed by this act. The department is hereby required to have such rules and regulations promulgated and adopted printed and shall distribute the same to any person upon request

(b) The department or any agent authorized in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers and records and to investigate the character of the business of any corporation in order to verify the accuracy of any report made or if no report was made by such corporation to ascertain and settle the tax imposed by this act. Every such corporation is hereby directed and required to give to the department or its duly authorized agent the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations and investigations as are hereby provided and authorized Any information gained by the department as a result of any returns investigations or verifications required to be made by this act shall be confidential except for official purposes and any person divulging such information shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

(c) Whenever any person acting for or on behalf of the department shall in good faith institute legal proceedings for any violations of the provisions of this act and for any reason shall fail to recover costs of record such costs shall be a charge upon the proper county as shall such costs in the event defendant is imprisoned for failure to pay fine or costs or both and shall be audited and paid as are costs of like character in said county

(d) The powers conferred by this act upon the department relating to the administration or enforcement of this act shall be in addition to but not exclusive of any other powers heretofore or hereafter conferred upon the department by law

Section 10 Retention of Records by Corporations Penalty Each corporation shall maintain and keep for a period of three (3) years after any report is filed under this act such record or records of its business within this Commonwealth for the period covered by such report and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department

Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court

Section 11 Penalties (a) Any person who shall wilfully make a false and fraudulent return of net income made taxable by this act shall be guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to punishment as provided by law Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

(b) Any person who wilfully fails neglects or refuses to make a report or to pay the tax as herein prescribed or who shall refuse to permit the department to examine the books papers and records of any corporation liable to pay tax under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000.00) and costs of prosecution or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court Such penalty shall be in addition to any other penalties imposed by this act

Section 12 Constitutional Construction The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein

Section 13 Effective Date This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment and shall remain in force only for the imposition and collection of taxes on net income of corporations for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-five one thousand nine hundred [and] thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two or for the fiscal years ending in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred thirty-six one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine one thousand nine hundred forty one thousand nine hundred forty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-two one thousand nine hundred forty-three one thousand nine hundred forty-four one thousand nine hundred forty-five one thousand nine hundred forty-six one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty-one one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 842, as follows:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" by postponing the manufacturing exemption with regard to capital stock tax and the franchise tax on domestic and foreign corporations joint-stock associations limited partnership and companies for a further limited period of time

Section 1 Section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-nine (P. L. 420) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation' approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 358) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 (a) That every domestic corporation other than corporations of the first class nonprofit [corporation] corporations and cooperative agricultural associations not having capital stock and not conducted for profit and every joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a tax at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of its whole capital stock of a kinds including common special and preferred as ascertained in the manner prescribed in said twentieth section. Provided That the tax of five mills imposed by this subsection on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two shall apply to the taxation of capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors. Provided further That after said [four] six year period the provisions of this section shall not apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes which is invested in and actually and exclusively employed in carrying on manufacturing within the State excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors and such as enjoy and exercise the right of eminent domain but every corporation limited partnership or joint-stock association organized for the purpose of manufacturing shall pay the State tax of five mills herein provided upon such proportion of its capital stock if any as may be invested in any property or business not strictly incident or appurtenant to the manufacturing business in addition to the local taxes assessed upon its property in the district where located it being the object of this proviso to relieve from State taxation only so much of the capital stock as is invested purely in the manufacturing plant and business.

(b) Every foreign corporation joint-stock association limited partnership and company whatsoever from which a report is required under the twentieth section hereof shall be subject to and pay into the treasury of the Commonwealth annually through the Department of Revenue a franchise tax at the rate of five mills upon a taxable value to be determined in the following manner. The actual value of its whole capital stock of all kinds including common special and preferred shall be ascertained in the manner prescribed in the twentieth section of this act and shall then be divided into three equal parts.

(1) Of one third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the value of the taxpayer's tangible property not actually and exclusively used in manufacturing situated within the Commonwealth and whose denominator is the value of all the taxpayer's tangible property wherever situated.

(2) Of another third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees not exclusively engaged in manufacturing in this Commonwealth and assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the total expenditures of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to all its employees.

(3) Of the remaining third such portion shall be attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth as shall be found by multiplying said third by a fraction whose numerator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business not strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing in this Commonwealth assignable to this Commonwealth as hereinafter provided and whose denominator is the amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from all its business.

The sum of the amounts determined in accordance with the foregoing three rules shall be the taxable value. In a case where only two of the foregoing three rules are applicable the remaining third equal part of the value of the entire capital stock shall be divided into two equal parts each of which shall be apportioned in accordance with one of the remaining two rules. If only one of the three rules is applicable that part of the entire capital monwealth shall be determined solely by that rule.

The amount assignable to this Commonwealth of ex-stock attributed to business carried on within the Commonwealth of the taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation to its employees shall be such expenditures for the taxable year as represent the wages salaries commissions or other compensation of employees not chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth.

The amount of the taxpayer's gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth shall be (1) the amount of its gross receipts for the taxable year except those negotiated or effected in behalf of the taxpayer by agents or agencies chiefly situated at connected with or sent out from premises for the transaction of business maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth and except rents and royalties and interest and dividends (2) rentals or royalties from property situated or from the use of patents within this Commonwealth and (3) dividends and interest except such dividends and interest attributable to the business conducted on premises maintained by the taxpayer outside the Commonwealth. If a taxpayer maintains an office warehouse or other place of business in a state other than this Commonwealth for the purpose of reducing its tax under this subsection the Department of Revenue shall in determining the amount of its gross receipts from business assignable to this Commonwealth include therein the gross receipts attributed by the taxpayer to the business conducted at such place of business in another state.

In the case of construction contracts negotiated or effected at an office in the State of Pennsylvania but performed outside the State the gross receipts under such contracts shall be assignable outside the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under said contract shall be assignable to Pennsylvania as the direct and indirect costs incurred in Pennsylvania under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total costs incurred thereunder for the taxable year. In the case construction contracts negotiated or affected at an office outside the State but performed in State the gross receipts under such contract shall be assignable to the State except that if the activities under any such contract to which the gross receipts are attributable shall occur partly within the State and partly outside the State such proportion of the gross receipts under the contract for the taxable year bear to the total cost incurred thereunder for the taxable year.

A rule shall not be deemed to be inapplicable merely because all the tangible property or the expenditures of a taxpayer for wages salaries commissions or other compensation or the gross receipts of the taxpayer are found to be situated incurred or received without the Commonwealth.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this subsection (b) the franchise tax of five mills imposed by subsection (b) on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two and for fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-eight one thousand nine hundred forty-nine [and] one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock association organized for manufacturing purposes excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors without excluding from the numerators of the applicable fractions manufacturing compensation of employees exclusively engaged in manufacturing and gross receipts from business strictly incident or appurtenant to manufacturing

After said [four] six year period the provisions of this subsection shall apply to the taxation of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officers having charge of any such corporation joint-stock association or limited partnership upon which a tax is imposed by this section to transmit the amount of said tax to the Treasury of the Commonwealth within the time prescribed by law. Provided That for the purposes of this act interest in limited partnerships or joint-stock associations shall be deemed to be capital stock and taxable accordingly. Provided further That corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations liable to a tax under this section shall not be required to pay any further tax on the mortgages bonds and other securities owned by them and in which the whole body of stockholders or members as such have the entire equitable interest in remainder but corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations owning or holding such securities as trustees executors administrators guardians or in any other manner than for the whole body of stockholders or members thereof as sole equitable owners in remainder shall return and pay the tax imposed by this act upon all securities so owned or held by them as in the case of individuals. Provided further That the tax of five mills imposed by this section on reports filed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each calendar year thereafter or for the fiscal year beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and for each fiscal year thereafter shall apply to the taxation of the capital stock of corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for laundering and for the processing and curing of meats their products and by products excepting companies engaged in the distilling of liquors. Provided further That in case of fire and marine insurance companies the tax imposed by this section shall be at the rate of five mills upon each dollar of the actual value of the whole capital stock. Provided That nothing in this act shall be so construed as to apply to building and loan associations chartered by the State of Pennsylvania

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall be retroactive to the first day of January one thousand nine hundred forty-nine so that domestic and foreign corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for manufacturing purposes shall pay the tax imposed for the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two or for the fiscal years beginning in the calendar years one thousand nine hundred forty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and one thousand nine hundred fifty-two as other domestic and foreign corporations limited partnerships and joint-stock associations

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 845, as follows:

An act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six P. L. 13) entitled as amended "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" by providing that the provisions of said act shall continue in effect until repealed

Section 1 The title and all the sections of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-six P. L. 13) entitled as amended "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board" as last reenacted and amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 366) are hereby reenacted and further amended to read as follows

An Act

Imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor as herein defined sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the collection and payment of such tax and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words terms and phrases used in this act for the purposes hereof defined as follows

"Liquor" Any alcoholic spirituous vinous fermented or other alcoholic beverage or combination of liquors and mixed liquor a part of which is spirituous vinous fermented or otherwise alcoholic and all drinks or drinkable liquids preparations or mixtures intended for beverage purposes which contain more than one-half of one percentum of alcohol by volume except alcohol and malt or brewed beverages

"Department" The Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth

"Board" The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board of this Commonwealth

"Fiscal Month" The monthly period established from time to time by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board for the purpose of conducting its business

Section 2 Until the first day of June one thousand nine hundred [fifty-one] an emergency State tax is hereby imposed and assessed at the rate of ten percentum of the net

price of all liquors sold by the board The tax herein imposed shall be collected by the board from the purchasers of the liquor from the board The amount of such ten per centum so collected by the board under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the State Treasury through the department in the manner and within the times herein specified and shall be credited to the General Fund

Section 3 It shall be the duty of the board to transmit to the department on or before the fifteenth day of each calendar month a statement of its receipts from sales of liquor and taxes collected during the preceding fiscal month and such other information as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this act at which time it shall also be the duty of the board to pay to the department the tax imposed upon such liquor by the provisions of this act Provided however That the board may in its discretion add the tax imposed by this act to the wholesale and retail price at which liquors are sold and eliminate any accounting of such tax separate from sale prices and in such case the amount of the tax for any calendar month shall be ascertained by dividing the entire gross receipts derived from sales at Pennsylvania liquor stores during such month by eleven and the quotient thus obtained shall be deemed the amount of the tax for such month payable over under this section

Section 3 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment and shall continue in effect until repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, am I correct that the tax program is now through the Senate? That is the last bill on the tax program.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I will refer the question to the Majority Floor Leader.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on today's Calendar?

Mr. WALKER. On today's Calendar, Mr. President, the answer would be in the affirmative.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, Mr. President.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the Senate, I would like to at this time read into the record some observations that I think are pertinent to the whole question of taxes.

Mr. President, in order that it be clearly understood, the matter that I am going to discuss is one that has been under observation for a long time by both Members of the Majority and the Minority. It is not to be considered as a criticism of any particular administration, but rather a laxity on the part of those who are, in effect, responsible for the collection and the administration of the particular law that I will refer to. If you will listen carefully, although it will be rather academic and not the type of talk that would be interesting to most of us, I believe the time has come in the matter of Pennsylvania's finances when we should investigate every avenue open to us under our present tax law.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Senate to be patient with me while I try to give them the benefit of the studies made by your Democratic Minority, with the best counsel and advice obtainable by us.

Mr. President, I am calling attention to the repeal of the Act of June 22, 1931, P. L. 687.

This Act provides:

"Whenever any corporation, limited partnership, joint-stock association, or company, incorporated or formed under the laws of this Commonwealth, and liable to the payment of tax upon its capital stock, or specifically exempted therefrom under the laws of this Commonwealth, shall own, either directly or through subsidiary or sub-sidiary corporations, a majority of the total issued and outstanding shares of voting stock of any corporation, limited partnership, joint-stock association or company, then, in such cases, so much of the value of all shares of stock, so owned in such other corporation, limited partnership, joint-stock association, or company, as represents property or assets located or having a legal situs without this Commonwealth, shall not be liable to taxation, under the laws of this Commonwealth providing for the taxation of capital stock of corporations, limited partnerships, joint-stock associations, and companies, but shall be excluded in determining the value of the capital stock of such owning company for purposes of taxation." You all remember I referred to this matter more than once over the past years.

Simply stated, this Act provides that a domestic corporation which owns, directly or through a subsidiary, a majority of the total issued and outstanding shares of voting stock of any corporation, is allowed a capital stock tax deduction upon so much of the value of the shares of stock so owned, as is represented by property and assets of the subsidiary located or having a legal situs without this Commonwealth. That is, if a domestic corporation owns 51% of the capital stock of a New York corporation, and if all the property of that New York corporation is outside Pennsylvania, the Commonwealth must follow a full deduction for the value of the 51% of this subsidiary stock, when the domestic corporation files its capital stock tax return. If another domestic corporation owns the remaining 49% of the shares of this New York corporation, this latter domestic corporation is taxed upon the full value of its 49% interest and receives no deduction. I wish that you would catch that particular significance. If one corporation owns 51% of the stock, it is not taxed, and if another holding corporation owns 49% less than a majority of the voting stock, it is taxed to the full extent. We are not speaking of the deduction allowed a domestic company for ownership of shares in a Pennsylvania Company that pays the capital stock tax, which is proper.

The history of this Act is interesting because it sheds light upon how large corporations are able to secure tax preferences through legislation at the expense of smaller corporations.

The Act of 1931 had its inception in the case of Commonwealth vs. Sunbury Conversion Works, 286 Pa. State Reports 555, decided in 1926 by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. In that case the Sunbury company, a Pennsylvania corporation, owned the entire capital stock of a New Jersey corporation, which had no business in Pennsylvania and paid no taxes here, but owned land in New Jersey. The Sunbury company contended that the land, if owned by it directly, would have to be deducted from its capital stock value in Pennsylvania. It argued that since it owned the entire capital stock of the New Jersey company it, in effect, owned this land and should receive a deduction of the value of the capital stock of the New Jersey corporation, since such stock represented tangible property only. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania rejected this argument and held that the land was owned by the subsidiary and not by the domestic corporation and that the Sunbury company was not entitled to have the value of the shares of the New Jersey corporation deducted from its capital stock value in Pennsylvania. As I have stated, this case was decided in 1926.

At the 1927 Session of the Legislature, the Act of April 20, 1927, P. L. 311, was enacted. This Act, in effect, provided that a domestic corporation, which owned any shares from one up, in another corporation was entitled to a deduction from its capital stock value on the ownership of such shares for so much of the value of such shares as represented property located or having a legal situs outside of Pennsylvania. However, the Act did contain a limitation, viz., that the shares of stock to be exempt had to be owned in a company which was engaged in a business auxiliary to the owning company's business. Immediately, questions arose under this Act and exemptions were denied where it did not appear to the courts that the owning company and the subsidiary foreign company were engaged in auxiliary operations. Ever on the alert, certain corporations caused new legislation to be introduced. The Act of 1931 was enacted. This Act removed the necessity of the subsidiary from being in an auxiliary business, but limited the exemption to corporations owning 51% or more of the voting stock of the other corporation. It established a fictional distinction based solely in an extreme case, on a 2% difference in stock ownership.

Is there any reason why, if a particular foreign corporation has two corporate owners, one owning 51% of the stock and the other owning 49%, the 49% owner must include the value of this stock in his Pennsylvania corporate return and pay tax thereon and the 51% owner gets an exemption for his entire 51%? "It places this State at a disadvantage, as it were, in that other states rightfully tax such assets . . ." This last sentence is not my language but the language of the Supreme Court in the Sunbury Conversion Works Case.

But a more serious question arises under the Act of 1931. It is manifestly unconstitutional. So, for twenty years, an unconstitutional tax preference has been granted to certain corporations solely on the basis of the fact that such corporations own more than 51% of the voting stock of some foreign corporation. Article IX of Section I of our State Constitution requires that "All taxes shall be uniform on the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax . . ." In the Sunbury Conversion Works Case, to which I am constantly referring, the Supreme Court said that this section of the Act "would be but little stronger than a rope of sand so far as this matter is concerned, if the owner of 99% of the shares of stock of a foreign corporation could be taxed on their value but the owner of 100% thereof would be entirely exempt." In the face of this language, an administration permitted the Act of 1931 to be enacted which grants preferential treatment solely on the basis of the ownership of more than a majority of the voting and outstanding stock of another corporation.

The Act of 1931 is also unconstitutional for another reason. It states that it is an amendment to the Act of 1927, which I first discussed, and that it is amending the Act of 1927 by "restricting the exemptions." But how does it "restrict"? First, the Act of 1931 removed the necessity of the owning corporation and the subsidiary corporation from being in an "auxiliary business." Certainly, this does not "restrict" the exemption. Next, the Act of 1931 exempted the property and assets of the subsidiary located outside Pennsylvania. This would be tangibles and intangibles. The 1927 Act merely states property which in the light of the Sunbury case could be construed to mean only tangibles, as land, and so forth. Thus, these two provisions enlarged and did not "restrict" the exemption. Therefore, the title of the Act of 1931 does not clearly state the contents of the Act but is patently misleading. That covers a suggestion for the repeal of the Act of June 22, 1931.

Next is the Corporate Net Income Tax Act. It behooves every man in this Senate to pay attention, because the proper application of the intent of the Legislature of Pennsylvania would give Pennsylvania approximately forty million more dollars in revenue under the existing tax laws of this Commonwealth, and that is justification for the action of this Senate yesterday, if no other justification were available. I know that it is difficult to listen, but I think it is important to make the case, in order that the people of the Commonwealth know that the existing laws will give this Commonwealth sufficient moneys to operate within the fabric of the budget advocated by the Governor.

I will take up the Corporate Net Income Tax next and give you some academic observations.

In 1935, the Corporate Net Income Tax Act was passed.

It is an excise tax based upon net income on every corporation for the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania having capital or property employed or used in this State. This language would appear simple and easily understood. However, on January 9, 1939, the Dauphin County Court ruled that this language did not mean what it said. I am referring to the case of Commonwealth vs. Delaware River Railroad and Bridge Company, reported at 48 Dauphin County Reports 18. The facts of that case are as follows: In 1918, The Delaware River Railroad and Bridge Company had leased its railroad containing tracks in Pennsylvania to the parent, Pennsylvania Railroad, for 999 years. In the year 1935, the Delaware company's sole income was $78,000 which it received from the lease and in addition the Pennsylvania Railroad paid $40,200 on the bonded indebtedness of the lessor.

I do not particularly care whether you believe what I am saying or not, but I do believe that you should hear what I am saying.

The Delaware Railroad did no other business. The Delaware company appealed from the Pennsylvania 1935 corporate net income tax assessment based on the above income. The Court held in merely leasing its railroad and receiving income from rental that the Delaware company was not exercising the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania during the year 1935, nor did it have property or capital employed in Pennsylvania, so as to bring it within the provisions of, and subject it to, the Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax Law.

I happened to have been a member of the General Assembly that voted for the Corporate Net Income Tax Law, and I know that in my mind it was not the intent of the Legislature as stated by the Dauphin County Court.

The results of this case are astounding. The parent company, the Pennsylvania Railroad, received deductions as an operating expense, from its corporate net income tax for the amount paid to this lessor railroad as rental. This Commonwealth would not now tax this rental income of this subsidiary railroad, which in turn paid the income back to the Pennsylvania Railroad in the form of dividends. The Pennsylvania Railroad would pay no tax on these dividends because under an administrative interpretation of the Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax Act, dividends received from other corporations are deducted from net income before the Pennsylvania tax rate is imposed even if the dividend paying company pays no income tax here. For the year 1935, other tax appeals were filed by subsidiary railroads, not only of the Pennsylvania Railroad but of other railways and railroads. The facts on three of these subsidiaries taken solely from court records of tax appeals for that year will disclose what this decision has meant to the Commonwealth in tax moneys since the year 1935. The Pennsylvania Railroad filed so many of these appeals for its subsidiaries, that counsel for it used mimeographed or printed appeal forms, and merely typed in the information pertinent to each case. If ever there was a flagrant violation of the intent of the Legislature, this is it. In every single case, the tax was stricken off and no income tax has been paid since then. Although the three that I am going to list are only a small, and I mean a small, portion of the subsidiaries of the Pennsylvania Railroad which enjoys this relief, no particular significance is meant to be attached to this fact, except that they were readily available from court records.

1. The Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad Company had leased its road to the Pennsylvania Railroad for 999 years on March 24, 1870. In the year 1935, it received income in the amount of $334,257.89. The 1935 Corporate Net Income Tax amounted to $20,055.47. Following the decision of the Delaware River Railroad case, the Commonwealth agreed to strike this tax off. No income tax to the State for 1935 or since.

2. Northern Central Railway for the year 1935 had an income of $2,508,390. Pennsylvania assessed tax amounted to $65,417.93. It was stricken off under the above decision. No income tax to the State for that year or any year since 1935.

3. The Western New York and Pennsylvania Railway Company had an income of $1,811,507, on which the Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax was $33,600. This tax was stricken off pursuant to the Delaware case. No income tax to the State for that year of 1935 or for any year since from that operation.

Summarizing the practical results of only those three cases, we find that The Pennsylvania Railroad paid these three subsidiaries, in the year 1935 alone, approximately $4,658,000 as rentals. The Pennsylvania Railroad reported this item as an expense deduction in its income tax report for that year and, therefore, escaped tax on this whole amount. The State of Pennsylvania could not tax the subsidiaries on this $4,658,000 income, and lost, for the year 1936, the sum of $120,000 in tax on three companies alone. The subsidiaries returned income back to the Pennsylvania Railroad in the form of dividends, and these dividends were not taxed under our Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax Law, but all in all it constituted a very excellent net result for the parent railroad. The Pennsylvania Railroad has, I believe, 17 of these subsidiaries. From the case history of three, you gentlemen can estimate the Pennsylvania income taxes which this railroad and all its subsidiaries escaped from 1935 up until 1950. Leased railroads, leased railways and every other type of lease corporations have escaped Pennsylvania Corporate Income Taxes if they did not other corporate business aside from receiving rentals from their leased facilities. Let that sink in for a minute. For instance, my friends, just bringing it down to language we all understand, if I lease a property of mine and get an income from it, I pay for it, although I own that property in its entirety, and I pay a lease upon that property. The income from that property is returned to me, but I still pay income tax on it as an individual, but these corporations do not pay any income tax. I have shown you what three subsidiaries of one parent company have meant in tax loss to the State and unjustified tax gain to the parent, in only one year. How much has this meant to the railroad or other parent company in the 16 years of the Act that the leased companies have escaped tax and how much has the Commonwealth lost in income taxes through failure to correct these inequities? For, down to the present, no administration has corrected the Delaware River Railroad case. The lower court judge left a loop-hole, but in every other tax assessed against the Pop people or any other group in this State, the Attorney General's office has been very very quick to take to the Supreme Court any decision adverse to the intent of the Legislature. This is a circumvention of the tax law to the tune of $40,000,000 a biennium, and if I wanted to be political, or if I were a suspicious-minded person, then I could easily say that the Pennsylvania Railroad makes hundreds of thousands of dollars of contributions to certain political campaigns; it is cheap in the long run.

Recurring to this case, which gave rise to such tremendous tax exemption, the decision which made this ruling was that of a lower court—the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County. Within ten days after the decision, January 17, 1939, a new State Administration, Governor James, came into office. In a matter of this importance, and being on the search for revenue, one would have thought then an appeal would have been taken to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to have its opinion on the matter. Certainly it should not have been left to the decision of one lower court judge to declare that this enormous source of revenue was not covered by the Act.

I believe the Legislature, when it mentioned Corporate Net Income, meant Corporate Net Income for the railroads and parent companies too, about the same, I believe, as this Legislature would have meant with a flat tax on the individuals of the Commonwealth. However, the incoming administration in the 1939 re-enactment did insert language into the Act which was a purile attempt to bring these leased companies, receiving great incomes from operations within the Commonwealth, into the tax structure. At once, this Act was also attacked by parent companies through their subsidiaries.

In 1944 the Dauphin County Court in the case of Commonwealth vs. Reading and Southwestern Street Railway Company, 54 Dauphin County Reports 277, ruled that the title of the Act of 1939 did not give sufficient notice that these companies, who had leased out their assets, were now subject to tax. Not upon the amendment made but upon the title, the court decided upon the title that it had not given sufficient notice to the leasing companies, and there was no appeal made from that decision. From a reading of the case histories in Pennsylvania, probably the most difficult thing to sustain is the proposition that a title does not give sufficient notice of the contents of an Act. Another observation to be made is that while this litigation was in progress, the 1941 and 1943 General Sessions of the Legislature convened and adjourned. The Administration allowed this question to lag without pressing for a decision so as to prepare remedial legislation, in either one of these Sessions, if it became necessary.

Present Senator Duff was Attorney General at that time. Later he succeeded to the office of Governor, where he stated that he was faced with the need for additional revenue, but no attempt whatsoever was made by his Administration sponsored tax bill to obtain the just tax from this source of taxation already upon the books of the Commonwealth, and, if you will remember, we passed new taxes up to the tune of $124,000,000, including a $29,000,000 Pop Tax.

This failure existed despite the fact that in the last case mentioned, the Dauphin County Court itself had suggested in response to the Attorney General's argument, that the mere addition of the word "property" used for "rent" in the Commonwealth could suffice to clear up this subject once and for all, and the Attorney General at the time was the now present Senator Duff, and in the two Sessions of the Legislature under him, never once did they try to insert the word "property" for the word "rent", which would have cleared up the whole matter and would have meant approximately $40,000,000 to the Commonwealth under the existing tax laws.

I do not believe that the Members of this General Assembly realize the full importance of what I am trying to get across. Tax preferences were never intended by the Constitution, and it is my honest opinion that tax preferences were never meant nor intended by any group of Senators or House Members in any act that they passed for the general revenue of the Commonwealth.

Subject No. 3, Dividends received from other corporations deducted from income for Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax Purposes.

In previous sections of these remarks, I have shown the tax free nature of certain income in Pennsylvania, derived solely through cooperative administrations. I would also like to stress again that the lessee companies receive a reduction in arriving at their income for the amounts of rent which they pay to these subsidiaries, who pay no tax on such income. Now what happens to the dividends of these subsidiaries when they are received by the parent company? This is a very cute little trick. The parent company pays no Pennsylvania Corporate Net Income Tax on these dividends because the Pennsylvania Act states that dividends received from any other corporation shall be deducted from the net income reported to the Federal Government before the Pennsylvania tax is assessed. So, you have this situation—you have a parent company receiving an expense deduction for payments of rent to a solely owned subsidiary; you then have the subsidiary payment no tax to Pennsylvania on its income because the Dauphin County Court has held that receiving income from the leased assets and doing no other business is not doing business in Pennsylvania; and you have the parent company receiving dividends from the subsidiary and being relieved from any tax on these dividends.

However, the dividend question is one which should be examined even further. Manifestly, it would be unfair for a parent corporation, subject to and paying a tax in Pennsylvania on its income, to be taxed in Pennsylvania on the income of dividends, which it receives from a corporation paying corporate taxes to Pennsylvania. We all agree upon the fairness of that. I believe that the intent of the Act was to allow such deductions of dividends received only in the case where the subsidiary had paid a corporate net income tax to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Is there any logic, in the all too frequent case, in addition to the leased business cases which I have cited, to allowing a Pennsylvania deduction from a company's income for dividends received from a corporation which has paid no income tax in Pennsylvania, and whose stock ownership certainly is of value to the parent company or to the company owning such shares?

A very simple amendment can cure this manifest inequity to the Commonwealth by adding in the Corporate Net Income Tax Act that the deduction should be only on account of any dividends received from any other corporations subject to the Corporate Net Income Tax Act.

Taxation of companies engaged in interstate commerce is interesting.

As is well known, our Franchise and Corporate Net Income Tax Acts are excise taxes based on the privilege of doing business in Pennsylvania. Under the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution, these privilege taxes cannot lawfully be imposed upon corporations engaged solely in interstate business. The result is that corporations, enjoying hundreds of millions of dollars worth of business with Pennsylvania customers in this Commonwealth escape any share of Pennsylvania taxation because they maintain no inventory in Pennsylvania and ship their merchandise from outside the State. It is amazing to learn that cigarette manufacturers, with their multimillion dollar advertising budgets and their tremendous sales in the Commonwealth, pay no tax on income to Pennsylvania, where they maintain no inventory nor do they manufacture cigarettes in the Commonwealth. To a like effect, without particularly picking on these two items, distilling companies who do not have plants or inventories in Pennsylvania, and yet have enjoyed the privilege of selling billions of dollars of liquors to the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through the Liquor Control Board, pay no income taxes here. I am of the humble opinion that there are sufficient brains in the Attorney General's Department to discover how other states are handling this problem because in other states they pay upon the share of business they do within the confines of that state, so that a tax measured by the amount of income enjoyed by such companies through Pennsylvania customers should be assessed here in the Commonwealth.

I have only used the two classes above in order that you understand there is not a limitation upon the field, but just as examples. I do not think that Members of this Senate are aware of the seriousness of this statement that I have made this afternoon. If we are allowing tax preferences in Pennsylvania to the tune of approximately $40,000,000 in the Commonwealth every biennium, we have no right morally or logically, to increase taxes in Pennsylvania on any corporation, business or individual. We should search—and I here call upon the Attorney General's office to prepare an answer to this, to let me know whether or not the opinions that we have arrived at are just, to let me know whether or not our position that some $40,000,000 of revenue is escaping the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is correct, and if it is escaping, I think that this Legislature ought not to retire from the scene until whatever amendments that have to be passed, whatever repeal laws that have to be passed, are put upon the statute books.

Mr. President, I think that it is an unfair tax proposition when one company can enjoy a tax preference over another, where the size of a company determines the tax preference. I think that these things are important to the Members of the General Assembly. The Democratic Caucus has taken a position on taxation upon the budget. We believe that we can justify that position to the satisfaction of everyone concerned, including the organized schoolteachers. We believe that we know what we are talking about. We hope we can justify, to the Governor's satisfaction, that after a proper review of the taxes in Pennsylvania, a proper change where needed, and a somewhat nearer proper estimation of revenues, we will have in Pennsylvania the moneys sufficient to meet the budgetary requirements with a necessary and sufficient cushion for eventualities not foreseen or unforeseeable by this General Assembly.

Mr. President, I think something that the Chaplain of the Senate said today ought to rule this particular position. He said sometimes it is better to fail in a cause that some day may succeed, rather than to succeed in a cause that some day may fail.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am certain that the gentleman from Westmoreland does not anticipate me answering his few extemporaneous remarks on the tax structure, the fiscal program and the fiscal history of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company this afternoon. I am sure that as soon as the discussion has been reduced to writing so that the facts, the figures, the data and citations, the brief remarks, side bar remarks, are available, whatever answer comes to mind will be spread upon the record.

Mr. President, we are deeply indebted to the gentleman for the painstaking effort and the research involved in preparing this information for the Senate, and I am sure that he will have no objection if I share his remarks and any answer that might be available with people who are deeply interested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I purposely went into the court records and so forth, because if I am wrong I want to know that I am wrong, and I will admit I am wrong, but if I am right, we ought to correct it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Westmoreland is wrong, it will be with a great deal of reluctance that I will bring it to his attention.

HOUSE BILL No. 24 CALLED UP

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, on Page 3 of today's Third Reading Calendar, I call up at this time House Bill No. 24, which was passed over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 24, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 304 of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the board of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by increasing the membership of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 304), page 5, line 8, by striking out the word "Governor" and inserting in lieu thereof "President pro tempore of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives respectively."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 24, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 909, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section 889 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by prohibiting the unauthorized wearing of the insignia badge shield or button of the Air Force Association go over in its order.

BILL ON SECOND READING

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 11, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" authorizing investments in common stocks meeting certain qualifications and eliminating the requirement that stock must be listed on an exchange as to the stock of banks and insurance companies go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 15, 1951.

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Reverend George E. Johnson, guest Chaplain, pastor of the Stephens Memorial Methodist Church, Harrisburg, and guest of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Ziegler, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, we turn to Thee with grateful hearts for all the manifold blessings of life. May we so live as to be worthy of them. We would ask Thy blessing upon this House of Representatives, the Senate, Governor Fine and his Cabinet, and all who share responsibility for the good order of our Commonwealth. Bless this body in all their deliberations, may an unseen hand guide them.

Grant to the Nations of the World, and our Nation to realize that "Righteousness exalteth a nation, and, sin is a reproach to any people." Hold us firm and steadfast in these testing times, to those things which strengthen every phase of our democratic life, and may we be ready and willing to preserve them at whatever cost. To these ends may Thy Grace be sufficient for our every need, through Jesus Christ, Our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, May 14, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

The Chair is pleased to welcome to the House thirty-one members of the senior classes of the Loyalsock and Sullivan Highlands High Schools, Sullivan County, accompanied by two of their teachers, Professors Barrow and Kelly. They are here today as the guests of the gentleman from Sullivan, Mr. Baumunk.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome a former Member of the House, the gentleman from York, Honorable Raymond J. Shettel.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. HALL asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Ways and Means to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to bring various matters to the attention of the House.

Surveying the respective weight of membership present in the House, this would be an excellent time to offer a discharge resolution, but that is not the purpose for which I rise.

First of all, various Members of the House, I presume practically all the Members of the House have been served with a legal document from the District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and those Members who have been served, some of them on this side, have asked me whether the fact that their names were listed as parties to the action and they had been served with this formidable paper, would make it necessary for them to be physically present in the Court on Monday May 21st.

I do not want to get in any difficulty with the bar association by giving a layman's opinion. But, I did tell them that I did not think they had to go, that they had to be physically present. I would like some confirmation from some one of the legal lights on the other side of the House.

Are the Members of the House named in this action required to be physically present in Court on May 21st at 10:00 o'clock in the morning?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will not admit that the Majority Leader is a legal light.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I know that I am taking a lot upon my shoulders here.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, however, will recognize the Majority Leader.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, thank you.

Not being a legal light, but just a plain ordinary coal man, I understand that the Attorney General will give us an opinion on that subject sometime today.

I am inclined myself, as a layman, to take the Minority Leader's viewpoint, that the Members do not have to appear. But, I will definitely assure them of that today or tomorrow.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Majority Leader. I think we will eventually be able to make a pretty fair lawyer out of him.

Various things have happened with reference to the administration's tax program. I want to express my personal view that a legislative snake is not dead simply because you put it in a pen.

There is a present temptation to soft-pedal, go slow for a time, on matters of legislation as far as the House is concerned. I believe that this is not a time when this chamber should, as it were, function in a legislative vacuum. Instead of that, it would seem to me that now is the time for full speed ahead. We should have the school program on the calendar just as soon as the orderly functioning of the Education Committee can bring it there.

It is not an occasion for long range bickering. I have been told that the representatives of the teachers have been asked to negotiate and compromise on a basis of $55 million as against the somewhat higher figure that is represented in the bill that the teachers sponsored. I think the bill should come out of Committee pretty much as is.

We should have a labor program before us, outlining our position on compensation legislation, on minimum wage laws and other matters of immediate concern to labor. We should have the FEPC bill out forthwith.

There are other matters that we should railroad across the hall to the other chamber—our welfare appropriations. Now, the Governor's budget short-changes welfare. An examination of that budget shows that it needs some five to seven million dollars more than the budget carries, a figure that can be justified.

We should know whether or not there is any intention to push revision of the Constitution.

We should know what we will be expected to face in the matter of proposed legislative reapportionment, if anything.

We should know whether there are to be any basic amendments to the present relief law.

We should have the status of city-county legislation defined.

In short, we should have a rounded program that we can send over to the other chamber of the General Assembly as a program representing our considered views, and if they want to revise it, that is their privilege. This is not the time to stint the essential needs of the Commonwealth for fear that eventually there will not be enough money.

I have confidence enough in the integrity and judgment of this House to believe that if we enact bills serving the essential needs of this Commonwealth, the membership will see to it that those needs are financed. I say that without being committed to any particular bi-fiscal program.

So I rise simply to urge the need for action. When we come back next Monday, if this administration has a program, it ought to be on first reading. And if you will bring in a program, and you want first reading as the bills are reported, I believe that I could say upon behalf of the Democratic caucus that we will cooperate.

We will do everything possible to make action upon our rounded program possible.

If you do not have a program, let us know, and we will caulk the leaks. We will introduce the legislation that you have neglected to frame or do not want to frame. And if you have a program, bring it out. We will act on it, and we will send it over across the hall where the other chamber of this House will be at liberty to spend as much time as it may desire deliberating. Meanwhile, we will go home and cultivate our gardens.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, just before the gentleman started to speak on his last subject, he asked me a question about the summones that had been served. As he was speaking, one of the Deputy Attorneys General called me and told me that the Attorney General is instituting dismissal proceedings. I hope that answers the layman's question.

as to whether proceedings will be started by the Attorney General to dismiss the suit and that no Member will have to be present at that time.

I will have to agree, Mr. Speaker, with the gentleman the other side of the House that we should get started; but I think we have been started.

I certainly think this House has proven its courage by passing legislation to the Senate. We have also had courage to pass on to the Senate the ways and means of paying for that legislation. I think that the House has done its duty.

The gentleman mentioned education, and he mentioned $55 millions. I do not know of any set figure, but I do know that the Education Committee is meeting and will definitely bring out a program. I am sure the House will fulfill its duty on that subject. We have never shirked our duty in any respect.

The labor program which the gentleman speaks about will definitely be started next week.

The welfare bills are in Committee—will be referred to the Committee today.

We have a program. We have proven our program. There are bills in Committee on revision of the state Constitution. There are bills in Committee on reappointment of the city and legislative districts at this time. There is a city-county consolidation bill in Committee and I, as one, sincerely hope that that bill comes out of Committee to prove our contention that we do want good government in the city of Philadelphia.

I do think the gentleman overlooks one fact: we do have Committee Chairmen. The prerogative of letting a bill out of Committee is entirely up to the Committee Chairman. We can go so far as to talk with them; but we cannot supersede a Committee Chairman, nor do I ever intend to do so. That is our democratic type of government, and that is the government we have worked under and, that is the government that has made this nation a successful and a great nation.

I can only say this: That in business you do not spend money if you do not have it; if you do, you do not stay in business very long. I do not know what the state is going to do, but I can assure the gentleman, knowing that our Constitution does not allow us to work on a deficiency, we cannot spend money if we do not have it. We have given the people of this Commonwealth the way to find the money. This side of the legislative body has done its duty. We have fulfilled our duty to the citizens and I think we will always be able to fulfill that duty in the future.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would have been content to let the Majority Leader close the discussion if he had not made that moth-eaten, time-worn statement about the infallibility of Committee Chairmen. I would like to ask the Majority Leader a question.

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, who wrote the Rules of this House and when were they written?

Mr. SMITH. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that the House wrote the Rules under which we are proceeding.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there is a Rule that recognizes the jurisdiction of the House over bills at all times, is there not?

Mr. SMITH. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, how long has that Rule been in the Rules of this House?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that question directly.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, has it not been ever since there has been a House?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, at least as far as I remember, yes.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if it is an undemocratic Rule, if it does not have any place in parliamentary discussions or procedure, if it defeats the purpose of legislation, why does the gentleman not have the Rule stricken out of the book? What does he want with a Rule that is undemocratic?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that any of the Rules under which we are working, or the procedure of the House, are undemocratic.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, did not the gentleman just say it was an undemocratic procedure to discharge a committee or to fail to recognize the fact that you could not get a bill out of Committee unless the Chairman was pleased to pull it out of his pocket or some pigeon hole?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman misunderstood me. I did not intend to convey to him that it was an undemocratic process to discharge a Committee. I say it is an undemocratic process for any individual to supersede a Chairman of a Committee.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is hopeless in that particular respect.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

HAVERFORD TOWNSHIP LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome to the Hall of the House members of Haverford Township League of Women Voters. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Delaware, Messrs. Clendenen, Robertson, William C. Leonard and Bloom. They are Mrs. Douglas Gould, President, Mrs. Samuel J. Steinberg, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. Keith Winston, and Miss Grace Farley.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will return to page 3 of today's calendar, bills on second reading, House Bill 346, Printer's No. 313. The Chair hears none.

For the information of the Members, the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Leisey, requested recognition, but the Chair did not notice the gentleman.

If there is no objection, the Chair will withdraw its decision as to House Bill 346 having been agreed to be transcribed for third reading; the bill's having been agreed to on second reading as well as agreement to the various sections and the amendment. The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 346, entitled:

An Act to promote the safety of employes and travelers upon railroads by requiring common carriers by railroad to furnish flag protection to all trains occupying the main track imposing powers and duties on the Public Utility Commission and other agencies of the Commonwealth relative thereto and providing penalties

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. DALRYMPLE offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 10 to 19, by striking out the words "Located at an available" in line 10, and all of lines 11 to 19 inclusive, and inserting in lieu thereof "stationed at or near the rear end of such trains for the purpose of providing flag protection when such train is stopped or being delayed under circumstances that it may be overtaken by a following train."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 846 was reported out of Committee as amended. One of the sponsors wrote the amendments and agreed to them. The bill was reported out as amended and I was hoping that I could go along with it, but now these present amendments simply remove the original amendments and I must ask the House to vote them down.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman who just preceded me stated is correct. The amendments that were put in the Committee of the House on this particular bill were absolutely destroying the bill and its effect on the traveling public and the railroad systems of this state and nation. The bill is worthless with those amendments in it. However, these amendments that I have offered are only brought to the attention of the employees and to the Members in traveling on these trains and working with these trains over the road, to bring safety to them. I would like to bring to the attention of the House a few things that have transpired in this railroad system. I quote from the Philadelphia Bulletin in regard to some of these performances that went on in the last few months; in fact, in the last couple of years.

"A little more than a month ago a wreck on the Long Island Railroad cost seventy-eight lives. Last week the Interstate Commerce Commission ordered installation of recommended safety devices within thirty days. These include automatic speed controls as part of a program that will cost about $600 thousand or possibly more. That may reassure the many thousands who use the Long Island Railroad, but the whole picture of railroad safety may be viewed with real satisfaction. Within thirty days after this wreck. The ICC showed commendable speed. But why was similar action not taken after the wreck last February on the same road in which thirty-two people were killed? The wreck was blamed on human failure but it revealed absence of the automatic safety devices now ordered.

"Before this year's tragedy, the road had one of the best safety records of any American railroad. Yet it is in a unique position too because it handles more passengers than any other line, and it has to do it pretty largely during the rush hours. If ever there was a case that called for greater diligence of the Interstate Commerce Commission, this was it."

My amendments to this bill, only bring to the attention of every traveling person on the public railroad on which they travel, and many, many hundreds of them, also including freight trains, when a train is sometimes compelled to stop by an air hose breaking in the middle of the train, to allow this flagman who is there in the cabin to get out and protect the rear end of the train from an oncoming train which is following him on the same track. Regardless of what signal conditions he may be traveling under, or what his orders are, he is still traveling on the same track.

I further would like to bring to the attention of this House some of the safety measures introduced in an effort to provide safe and efficient operation on trains operating on the railroads of this state. There have been a number of disastrous accidents on railroads of this country. That is the reason for the introduction of this measure. In Pennsylvania we have had several accidents involving rear end collisions in recent years. In one instance a porter was killed on the P. and L. E. Railroad as a result of a rear end accident. There have been a number of persons injured as a result of this type of accident.

The State of New York has witnessed in the recent months several disastrous accidents. The Public Service Commission of New York has seen fit to issue an order on the Long Island Railroad to provide a flagman at or near the rear end of every train operating on that railroad, in the effort to avoid a repetition of this disastrous wreck.

The Members of this Legislature should take every precaution to protect the traveling public and the employees of various railroads operating in Pennsylvania. We could go on at length in the discussion of this legislation, and we could bring possibly many other things to your attention.

I want to say, this amendment is not farfetched. It is not costing the company one dime, but many railroads, ninety-nine percent of them, with the exception possibly of one or two, are carrying out this thing; but a few of them do not care to go along with it. So I recommend to the Members of this House, for the safety of the men on the railroad and everybody who travels on the railroad, vote for these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Leisey.

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, we have the operating rules and we have the safety rules and they are strictly enforced. I do not feel that we should write operating rules into law when they are agreed on by both employer and employees. I ask the Members of this House to vote the amendments down.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I have been a conductor on the railroad for thirty-seven years, and this bill that you have before you now is a protection for the American Railway Association throughout the United States of America and Canada, and asks for the protection of trains according to the operating book of rules of the railroad.

I would like to quote the operating book of rules of the railroad:

"When a train is stopped, or may be overtaken by another train, the flagman must be allowed sufficient distance with stop signals for full protection to insure full protection to the train. When recalled, he may retire. First, by placing two torpedoes on the track or fuses when necessary."

This rule is the first rule that any railroad employee learns when he is hired. He is given a preliminary examination and he must live up to that agreement. If he is caught at any time not giving sufficient distance he is given a subpoena and he gets time for it. I wish this House would vote for this amendment.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order that I may understand the point at issue; as I understand, this bill as amended would require all trains or locomotives operated on main tracks of a railroad in this state to include a flagman in the operating crew. Is that true?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Dalrymple, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DALRYMPLE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is that true?

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, the flagman is there now on all crews, which is required by the rules and regulations. This is a protection to the rear end, not to sit in the cabin and let the other train run into him.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in the event that the train stops, the flagman will be required under this act to take a certain position in the rear of the train that has stopped?

Mr. DALRYMPLE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the nub of the objection raised by the Chairman of the Committee? I could not gather what his point was.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I am not a member of the Committee and I am not the Chairman of course.

The chairman of the Committee is not a trainman, he is not a brakeman, he is not a railroad conductor, he is not a freight handler or a train transportation man; he is only a telegraph operator running trains over the roads. He does not throw switches or know anything about it.

I want to say this: I do not know who introduced the amendments and that is immaterial, but the amendments that were introduced in this bill in the Committee, destroy the bill. It has no value and it is worthless in its original form as it appeared on the first reading calendar.

My amendments strike those amendments out and bring it back to its proper status in regard to safety and protection to the employes and other trains of the railroads on the same track.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one thing further. As I understand them, the provisions to which objection has been raised in the bill as amended are found in lines 15, 16, 17, and 18. "That this bill would not apply to any train operating in areas where the speed of such train is restricted by rules or orders or other means." Is that right?

Mr. DALRYMPLE. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there may be some local rule then that you would not place a flagman back there; but you want a flagman back of all trains that have been stopped when there is any danger that somebody will run into them from the rear?

Mr. DALRYMPLE. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Leisey.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Leisey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LEISEY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Leisey, will the gentleman inform the House for what railroad he works?

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, I have 46 years of service. At the present time I am on leave of absence.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I asked a question. Will the gentleman inform the House for what railroad he works. I do not care how many years, that is immaterial.

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, I started on the Atlantic City Railroad, I worked for the B & O, worked as yard agent for the Pennsylvania, and at the present I am with the Reading Company on a leave of absence.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform the House in what capacity he works on the railroad?

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, I started out as a telegrapher clerk, I was agent, I was yard master, I was ticket agent, I ran locking towers and about everything but ride the trains.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform the Members of the House in regards to whether he handles any trains as a brakeman or as a conductor over the road and responsible in the same capacity?

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, only as a block operator.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, only in the watch tower, is that correct?

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the gentleman is not a brakeman; and is not a conductor?

Mr. LEISEY. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. I thank the gentleman

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to bring to the attention of the Members of the House, being on the head end of a train myself, and having seen so many things happen during my short period of time—I do not have forty years of service—that this is nothing but a safety measure, creating no expense to any company.

The New York Central Railroad called me several weeks ago and they were very much in favor of this bill. They are complying with it as it is in its original form.

However, I do want to bring to the attention of the Members of this House, if you have ever been tangled up with a bunch of cars and railroad engines in a wreck and have seen injury and lives lost, I do not think there would be a dissenting vote against this bill here today. I ask the House to vote for these amendments.

I request a roll call.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, did the sponsor of the amendments desire a roll call?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Dalrymple, requested a roll call.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I see my colleague in the rear of the House, I would like to have him recognized if the Chair can see its way clear. I would like to have him recognized, if possible.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to make the statement that the railroad for which I work complies with all the plans and requests that are in this present bill, and I think the railroad for which Mr. Dalrymple works is the only one that is a violator of this rule. So, just to keep the record straight, the railroad for which I work is already complying with the present rules and the standards that have been established.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 443, entitled:

An Act to further amend the ninth paragraph of Section 2 of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 493) entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof" by increasing the annual re-registration fee to be paid by master plumbers firms or corporations and journeyman plumbers

On the question

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain the purpose of the bill, what the bill does.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, my city solicitor and the city officials have asked me to sponsor this bill along with my colleague.

When I was a youngster myself I was sort of a plumber's helper. I can recall my foreman sending me to the City Hall to obtain permits at various times, which was still a quarter in those days.

What this bill attempts to do is get away from the bygone days and try and get up to date by now increasing the licensing fee from a quarter to two fifty. A letter must be mailed to inform the plumber for renewal; the license card must be prepared for his use; a record must be kept for the life of the license. The clerical work takes a few hours time which exceeds by far the twenty-five cents. That is, for the journeyman plumber's permit.

Now for the master plumbers, a three man civil service board conducts the examinations which sometimes take two or three days for which the city pays each and every member of that board twenty-five dollars a day, we are increasing his fees from a dollar to five. I hope that answers the gentleman's question.

Mr. MORAN. The gentleman says that he has answered the question and he thinks it is clear. It is to me as clear as mud. I know about as much now as I did before, and I would like to ask the gentleman here if the plumber's organization, union organizations in the state are favorable or unfavorable toward this bill?

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, I have never received until this time any objection to the bill.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he would be willing to pass this bill over today until tomorrow?

Mr. JUMP. Why does the gentleman want to have it passed over for today?

Mr. MORAN. To reconsider the bill; study the bill.

Mr. JUMP. Well I do not see where there is anything to study; I explained the fundamentals of the situation. Does the gentleman think that times have changed from back in the days of 1912?

Mr. MORAN. I certainly do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. In answering the gentleman's question about the things that changed in recent years and so on and so forth, I would say that a lot of things have changed, but a lot of people have not and a lot of people have. This bill is going to affect a lot of people throughout the state and I think it ought to be given consideration on its merit. I do not think it is asking too much to ask that this bill be passed over for one day. We can then come here tomorrow and vote intelligently on it.

Mr. JUMP. Mr. Speaker, I will gladly abide by the gentleman's wishes. Let it go over for today.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will withdraw its decision that this bill was agreed to on third reading. The Chair hears none.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 443, Printer's No. 300 was passed over at the request of Mr. JUMP.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 444, as follows:

An Act to protect the blind and incapacitated pedestrians on public streets and highways requiring vehicles to come to a full stop in certain cases restricting the use of certain colored canes by other pedestrians and imposing penalties

Section 1 It is unlawful for any person unless totally or partially blind or otherwise incapacitated while on any public street or highway to carry in a raised or extended position a cane or walking stick which is metallic or white in color or white tipped with red

Section 2 Whenever a pedestrian is crossing or attempting to cross a public street or highway at or near an intersection or crosswalk guided by a guide dog or carrying in a raised or extended position a cane or walking stick which is metallic or white in color or white tipped with red the driver of every vehicle approaching the said intersection or crosswalk shall take such precautions as may be necessary to avoid injuring or endangering such pedestrian and if injury or danger to such pedestrian can be avoided only by bringing his vehicle to a full stop he shall bring his said vehicle to a full stop.

Section 3 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to deprive any totally or partially blind or otherwise incapacitated person not carrying such a cane or walking stick or not being guided by a dog of the rights and privileges conferred by law upon pedestrians crossing streets or highways nor shall the failure of such totally or partially blind or otherwise incapacitated person to carry a cane or walking stick or to be guided by a guide dog upon the streets highways or sidewalks of this Commonwealth be held to constitute nor be evidence of contributory negligence

Section 4 Any person who violates any provision of this act shall upon summary conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof shall undergo imprisonment not exceeding ten (10) days

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

vania Industrial School at Camp Hill Cumberland County Pennsylvania shall have the charge and management of the [said Reformatory] school They shall appoint a general superintendent chaplain and physician and shall have power to remove them for causes impairing their faithful and intelligent administration of their office after opportunity shall be given the officer so charged to be heard upon written charges All other officers and employes shall be appointed and selected by the general superintendent and shall be reported to and confirmed by the said board of [managers] trustees at their next stated meeting It shall require at least the votes of [three managers] six trustees to confirm any of said appointments and upon report of the failure of any appointee to receive the [three] six votes required to confirm his appointment he shall be immediately discharged by the superintendent The general superintendent shall have the power to remove any employe appointed by him at his pleasure and all such subordinate officers shall be appointed only after rigid examinations as to their education trade knowledge moral character and fitness for the care and custody of those persons who may be assigned to the instruction and guardianship of said [Reformatory] school The annual compensation of the general superintendent the several officers and other employes shall be fixed annually at their first stated meeting after the first day of January of each year by the board of [managers] trustees in their discretion

Section 3 Section 2 to 14 inclusive of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 3 The board of [managers] trustees shall examine all the accounts and expenditures with the vouchers for the same relating to the business of the [reformatory] school at least once each quarter year and shall certify the same with their approval or disapproval to the Governor And they shall at least once in each year report to the Legislature through the Governor the condition of the said [reformatory] school their proceedings in regard to inmates with a detailed statement of all moneys expended together with such recommendations as they shall deem proper

Section 4 Any court in this Commonwealth exercising criminal jurisdiction may sentence to the said [reformatory] school any male criminal between the ages of fifteen and [twenty-five] twenty-one years and not known to have been previously sentenced to a State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or to an industrial school of reformatory grade in this or any other State or country upon the conviction in such court of such male person of a crime punishable under existing laws in a State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or to an industrial school of reformatory grade And the said board of [managers] trustees shall receive and take into said [reformatory] school all male prisoners of the class aforesaid who shall be legally sentenced on conviction as aforesaid and all existing laws requiring the courts of this Commonwealth to sentence to the State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or to an industrial school of reformatory grade male prisoners convicted of any criminal offense between the ages of fifteen and [twenty-five] twenty-one years and not known to have been previously sentenced to a State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or to an industrial school of reformatory grade in this Commonwealth or any other State or country shall be applicable to the said [reformatory] school so far as to enable courts to sentence the class of prisoners so last defined to said [reformatory] school and not to a State prison or State penitentiary

Section 5 Any person who shall be convicted of an offense punishable by imprisonment in the Pennsylvania Industrial [Reformatory at Huntingdon] School at Camp Hill Cumberland County Pennsylvania and who upon such conviction shall be sentenced to imprisonment therein shall be imprisoned according to this act and not otherwise

Section 6 Every sentence to the reformatory of a person hereafter convicted of a felony or other crime shall be a general sentence to imprisonment in the said Pennsylvania Industrial [Reformatory at Huntingdon] School and the courts of this Commonwealth imposing such sentence shall not fix or limit the duration thereof. The term of such imprisonment of any person so convicted and sentenced shall be terminated by the board of [managers] trustees as authorized by this act but such imprisonment shall not exceed the maximum term provided by law for the crime for which the prisoner was convicted and sentenced.

Section 7 Whenever there is unoccupied room in the [reformatory] school the board of [managers] trustees may make requisition upon the inspectors of State prisons State penitentiaries State reformatories or industrial schools of reformatory grade who shall select such number as is required by such requisition from among the youthful well-behaved and most promising convicts in the State prisons State penitentiaries State reformatories or industrial schools of reformatory grade of the class described in section four of this act and transfer them to the [reformatory] school for education and treatment under the rules and regulations thereof and the board of [managers] trustees are hereby authorized to receive and detain during the term of their sentence to the State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or industrial school of reformatory grade such prisoners so transferred and the laws applicable to convicts in the State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or industrial school of reformatory grade so far as they relate to the commutation of imprisonment for good conduct and the provisions of this act shall be applicable to said convicts when transferred under this section.

Section 8 Every clerk of any court by which a criminal shall be sentenced to the Pennsylvania Industrial [Reformatory at Huntingdon] School at Camp Hill shall furnish to the officer having such criminal in charge a record containing the trial and conviction of the defendant and the clerk of the court shall receive such compensation as is now allowed by law for making and certifying to the record as in other criminal cases.

Section 9 That when any person has been convicted and sentenced it shall be the duty of the sheriff of the county in which the person has been so convicted and sentenced to deliver the said person to the proper officer or officers of said [reformatory institution at Huntingdon] Pennsylvania Industrial School at Camp Hill.

Section 10 The board of [managers] trustees shall have the power to transfer temporarily to the State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or industrial school of reformatory grade of the proper district any prisoner who subsequent to his committal shall be shown to their satisfaction to have been at the time of his conviction more than [twenty-five] twenty-one years of age or to have been previously convicted of crime and may also so transfer any apparently incorrigible prisoner whose presence in the [reformatory] school appears to be seriously detrimental to the well being of the institution. And such [managers] trustees may by written requisitions require the return to the [reformatory] School of any person who may have been so transferred. The said board of [managers] trustees shall also have power to make all rules and regulations necessary and proper and not contrary to the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth for the employment discipline instruction education removal and absolute temporary or conditional release of all convicts in said [reformatory] industrial school and shall have authority to prevent the escape of convicts at all hazards.

Section 11 As the aim and purposes of the industrial [reformatory] school is to prevent young first offenders against the laws of the State from becoming criminals and to subject them while in custody in this [reformatory] school to such remedial preventative treatment training and instruction as may make them honest reputable citizens the board of [managers] trustees is authorized and hereby empowered to establish by rules and regulations governing the superintendent and other officers such a system of discipline for the inmates as will secure to each instruction in the rudiments of an English education and in such manual handicraft skilled vocations as may be useful to each of the inmates after his discharge from the [reformatory] school whereby said person will be able to obtain self-supporting employment. The contract system of labor shall not exist in any form whatever in said [reformatory] school but the prisoners shall be employed by the Commonwealth. It shall be the duty of said board of [managers] trustees to maintain such control over all prisoners committed to their custody as shall prevent them from committing crime best secure their self-support and accomplish their reformation. When any prisoner shall be received into the [reformatory] school upon direct sentence thereto they shall cause to be entered into register the date of such admission the name age nativity and nationality of the prisoner with such facts as can be ascertained of parentage of early social influences as seem to indicate the constitutional and acquired defects and tendencies of the prisoner and based upon these and estimate of the then present condition of the prisoner and the best probable plan of treatment. Upon such register shall be entered quarterly yearly or oftener minutes of observed improvement or deterioration of character and notes as to methods and treatment employed also all orders or alteration affecting the standing or situation of such prisoner the circumstances of the final release and any subsequent facts of the personal history which may be brought to their knowledge.

Section 12 The board of [managers] trustees shall under a system of marks or otherwise fix upon a uniform plan under which they shall determine what number of marks or what credit shall be earned by each prisoner sentenced under the provisions of this act as the condition of increased privilege or of release from their control which system shall be subject to revision from time to time. Each prisoner so sentenced shall be credited for good personal demeanor diligence in labor and study and for results accomplished and be charged for derelictions negligences and offenses. An abstract of the record in the case of each prisoner remaining under control of the said board of [managers] trustees shall be made up semi-annually considered by the [managers] trustees at a regular meeting and filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth which abstract shall show the date of admission the age and the then present situation whether in the [reformatory] school State prison State penitentiary State reformatory or an industrial school of reformatory grade [asylum] or elsewhere whether any and how much progress of improvement has been made and the reason for release or continued custody as the case may be. The [managers] trustees shall establish rules and regulations by which the standing of each prisoner's account of marks or credit shall be made known to him as often as once a month and oftener if he shall at any time request it and may make provisions by which any prisoner may see and converse with some one of said [managers] trustees during every month. When it appears to the said [managers] trustees that there is a strong or reasonable probability that any prisoner will live and remain at liberty without violating the law and that his release is not incompatible with the welfare of society then they shall issue to such prisoner on absolute release from imprisonment in the form provided in section fourteen of this act and shall certify the fact of such release and the grounds thereof to the Governor and the Governor may thereupon in his discretion restore such person to citizenship. But no petition or other form of application for the release of any prisoner shall be entertained by the [managers] trustees. Nothing herein contained shall construed to impair the power of the Governor to grant a pardon or commutation in any case.

Section 13 If through oversight or otherwise any person be sentenced to imprisonment in the said [reformatory] school for a definite period of time said sentence shall not for that reason be void but the person so sentenced shall be entitled to the benefit and subject to the liabilities of this act in the same manner and to the same extent as if the sentence had been in the terms required by section six of this act and in such case said [managers] trustees shall deliver to such offender a copy of this act and written information of his relation to said [managers] trustees

Section 14 When in the opinion of the superintendent after due investigation and obtaining the opinion of the physician and moral instructor any person confined in the [reformatory] said school has given such evidence as is deemed reliable and trustworthy that such person has been so improved by his treatment in said [reformatory] school as to justify his liberation a certificate of the fact and the opinions of the superintendent doctor and moral instructor under their hands and seals shall be submitted to the board of [managers] trustees when after due notice to all the [managers] trustees at the next meeting thereafter said board shall consider the case of the person so presented and when the said board shall determine that such person is entitled to his discharge said board shall cause a record of the case of such person to be made showing the date of his commitment to the [reformatory] school the time he has been detained the cause thereof a copy of his sentence the copy of the certificate as aforesaid of the officers and the action thereon of the board said record to be signed by the [managers] trustees and sent to the judge of the court that sentenced said persons to the [reformatory] school who shall after consulting the district attorney and no further reason for detention existing send under the seal of the court to the said board an order to discharge the said person from said [reformatory] school

Section 4 Section 17 of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-fifth day of April 1929 (P. L. 697) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 17 The duly authorized agent of the Department of Revenue shall cause to be kept an account of the cost of the support and maintenance of each convict with the county from which he is sent to the [reformatory] industrial school which said account shall monthly be approved by the said duly authorized agent of the Department of Revenue and if the same be true and correct shall be sworn to by said agent and shall promptly after the last day of each calendar month be sent to the commissioners of the proper county together with an order payable to the Department of Revenue drawn on the county treasurer of the proper county who shall accept and promptly pay the amount thereof to the Department of Revenue to be by it transmitted to the State Treasurer Provided That the aforesaid account and order rendered as of the thirty-first day of July one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine shall include all amounts due the Commonwealth from the counties which shall have accrued since the last prior billing of the counties by the board of trustees of the said [reformatory] industrial school

Section 5 Section 18 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 18 As soon as the board of [managers] trustees shall be fully organized with a general superintendent other officers and employes and the ground and buildings of the [reformatory] industrial school shall be fitted and furnished for the proper reception detention and management of convicts according to the provisions of this act they shall report the same in writing to the Governor of the Commonwealth who shall forthwith make public proclamation of these facts Thereupon sections four five six and seven of this act shall go into effect and not sooner

Section 6 The provisions of this act shall become effective the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTION

RECALLING HOUSE BILL 206

Mr. SMITH offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, House Bill No. 206 entitled "An act to further amend Section 2401 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto,' by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township, lists of water meter readings, flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates, and providing reimbursement for their expenses," passed the House of Representatives on April 16, 1951 after having been amended on second reading; and

Whereas, The bill was messaged to the Senate on April 17, 1951, was on that day referred by the Senate to its Committee on Corporations, was reported from that committee as committed on May 9 and passed first reading in the Senate on the same day; and

Whereas, The print of the bill, acted on by the House in final passage was No. 219, but inadvertently Printer's No. 178 was messaged to the Senate in place of Printer's No. 219 and was acted on by the Senate, wherefore there is a lack of concurrence in the final action of the House and that taken so far by the Senate; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 206, entitled "An act to further amend Section 2401 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto,' by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township, lists of water meter readings, flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates, and providing reimbursement for their expenses," be recalled from the Senate for the purpose of substituting the correct print of the bill as it passed the House finally on April 16, 1951.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. WILT and FENRICH offered a resolution which was read and considered as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, on the evening of May 7th, the Members of the General Assembly tossed aside their togas, forsook their dignity, and loosed their sparkling wit in a spirit of delightful camaraderie with their clerical and secretarial assistants; and

Whereas, Everyone present at the American Legion Post enjoyed the satisfying food, the cheering drinks, and the enlivening entertainment, despite a lack of hunger, thirst and fresh gags; and

Whereas, The gayety of this carefree party brought smiles to the serious, relaxation to the restrained, and courage to the shy; and

Whereas, The benevolent Speaker and the hospitable Majority Leader were the generous hosts to all who came to this springtime function; thereby be it

Resolved, That the Members of the General Assembly and their departmental employees are deeply appreciative of the generous impulse that prompted the Speaker and the Majority Leader to entertain them so cordially on May 7, 1951; and be it further

Resolved, That every member of the General Assembly and everyone of its legislative employees tender its grateful thanks to the Honorable Herbert P. Sorg and the Honorable Charles C. Smith for the opportunity accorded them for a memorable evening of recreation, relaxation, and refreshment.

THE CHIEF CLERK (William E. Habbyshaw) IN THE CHAIR

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader, the gentleman from Philadelphia who says they are welcome, and the Chair agrees.

RESOLUTION

Mr. GUARNIERI offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 16, 1951.

The Senate met at 9:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (George N. Wade) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I have been requested by the President pro tempore to preside over this Session of the Senate.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT L. CURRY, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, St. Clair, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

God, the night has gone; a new day has come. Help us to know that this day is yours even more than ours. Therefore, may we use his day for your glory, never for our own glory. Teach us to be above the petty and small things of life. Help us to stop majoring in minor things. Lift us above the noise of selfish strife found in some others.

God, force us to appreciate the labor and thought of our colleagues. Make our minds clear to the fact that they have a right to their ideas and expressions as we have to ours. Above all, may there never be malice, or envy or hatred in our hearts against the fellow next door. Make us aware, God, that the other person has a right to this day just as we have. Our Nation is in a critical hour, yet, if God be for us who then can destroy us? Our Commonwealth is our bulwark against those who would rule by force. God, may we ever keep our Commonwealth strong. Keep our State leaders strong, for by their strength we, the people, shall never need then be afraid. And if we be without fear, we cannot but help succeed. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. TAYLOR, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

GROUP OF REPUBLICAN WOMEN FROM PHILADELPHIA PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, we are very happy to have with us today a group of Republican women from Philadelphia, the Republican women of the Hannah Penn House, under the leadership of Mr. John Lord, the wife of former Senator John Lord.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you, Senator Kephart. The Chair welcomes the distinguished group from Philadelphia, under the leadership of Mrs. Lord, the wife of a former Member of this group. The Chair hopes that they will enjoy their stay here today and come back frequently. Will you please rise?

Thank you, Mrs. Lord. I hope you will bring your group back frequently.

THE HONORABLE CYRUS M. PALMER PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, we have with us this morning a very distinguished gentleman from Schuylkill County who, of course, cannot match the beauty of those from Philadelphia who are with us today, but who has a mighty mind and a great record of public service. I would like to present to the Senate the President Judge of the Common Pleas Court of Schuylkill County, The Honorable Cyrus M. Palmer, of Pottsville.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you very much, Senator Wagner. We are very happy to have Judge Palmer with us today.

PENNSYLVANIA LADIES PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, we have with us today a group of very charming ladies from all over Pennsylvania, who are led by a distinguished citizen of Allegheny County, Judge Lois McBride. They are here in the interest of the sale of yellow margarine. They have conferred this morning at great length with Senator Scarlett and I believe they made quite an impression on him. I would like to present at this time Judge Lois McBride and her group of ladies from Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Thank you very much, Senator Fleming, and to Judge McBride and her fine ladies we extend a very hearty welcome.

PRAYER

The Reverend Charles A. Lantz, guest Chaplain, pastor of the Milroy Lutheran Church, and guest of the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Price, offered the following prayer:

Almighty and Eternal God, King of Kings and Lord of Heaven and Earth, as we Thy children begin the duties of the day our first thoughts are thoughts of Thee. And as we think of Thee we recall Thy goodness and Thy loving kindness to us, and to all people. With grateful hearts we remember that everything that glorifies life; everything that makes life beautiful and satisfying comes to us from Thy generous hand. For which with one accord we give Thee thanks. Thou art the source of all life, and of all wisdom. So, in our need, we come to Thee for wisdom. Let Thy Holy Spirit guide the words of our mouths and the meditation of our hearts that in all things we may please and serve Thee. Let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us, and to Thee will we give praise and glory in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, May 15, 1951. If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. GUARNIERI (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 46

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, has presented to the Legislature a proposed budget for the ensuing biennium wherein are made certain requests for appropriations for the various departments and agencies of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, the proposed General Fund budgetary appropriations represent an increase of $87.4 million dollars over and beyond the General Fund appropriations for the present biennium; and

Whereas, the Governor has requested certain increased taxes for the stated purpose of raising additional revenue in order to satisfy the need for the requested augmented budgetary appropriations; and

Whereas, it appears that the increased appropriations and taxation requested by the Governor would not be required or necessary if economies in the cost of government be affected; and

Whereas, General Fund appropriations have increased each biennium from $420,307,000 for the 1939-41 biennium to a requested $853,514,000 for the biennium of 1951-53; and

Whereas, it appears that considerable economies in the costs of operating the various departments bureaus and agencies of the Commonwealth could be effectuated by and through elimination of overlapping functions and activities and duplication and by and through a needed reorganization and consolidation of related functions and activities; now therefore be it

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to begin a study of the increased cost of operating the various departments bureaus and agencies of the three branches of government; and be it further

Resolved, That the said Joint State Government Commission shall make a complete analysis of the expenditures of the departments, bureaus and agencies to determine the need for the increase in fund spending activities; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall submit a full report to be made to the General Assembly by February first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three as to the analysis of the problems involved and their suggestions and recommendations in connection therewith and especially in connection with the need for re-organization of the various departments, bureaus and agencies and the economies to be effected thereby.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 15, 1951.

Whereas, House Bill No. 206 entitled "An act to further amend Section 2401 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto,' by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township, lists of water meter readings, flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates, and providing reimbursement for their expenses," passed the House of Representatives on April 16, 1951 after having been amended on second reading; and

Whereas, The bill was messaged to the Senate on April 17, 1951, was on that day referred by the Senate to its Committee on Corporations, was reported from that committee as committed on May 9 and passed first reading in the Senate on the same day; and

Whereas, The print of the bill, acted on by the House in final passage was No. 219, but inadvertently Printer's No. 178 was messaged to the Senate in place of Printer's No. 219 and was acted on by the Senate, wherefore there is a lack of concurrence in the final action of the House and that taken so far by the Senate; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 206, entitled "An act to further amend Section 2401 of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 1206), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto,' by requiring water utility companies to furnish to the township, lists of water meter readings, flat-rate water bills and other data for the purpose of determining sewer and drainage rates, and providing reimbursement for their expenses," be recalled from the Senate for the purpose of substituting the correct print of the bill as it passed the House finally on April 16, 1951.

RETURNING HOUSE BILL 206

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 16, 1951.

Resolved, That pursuant to a resolution already adopted by the House and concurred in by the Senate that House Bill No. 206, Printer's No. 178, be returned to the House in order that the correct printing of said bill may be returned to the Senate.

CORRECTED HOUSE BILL NO. 206 TRANSMITTED TO SENATE

The SPEAKER. In compliance with the provisions of a resolution adopted by the House, Monday 14, 1951 and concurred in by the Senate to recall from the Senate, House Bill No. 206, Printer's No. 178 for the purpose of substituting therefore the correct print of House Bill 206 as passed by the House which is Printer's No. 219, the Chair hereby instructs the Chief Clerk to send to the Senate, the correct print of House Bill No. 206, Printer's No. 219.

WOMEN'S COMMITTEE FOR YELLOW MARGARINE WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the House this morning the Women's Pennsylvania State Committee for Yellow Margarine with their Chairman, Judge Lois McBride. The Committee represents the Catholic Daughters, Council of Jewish Women, American Association of University Women, the Federation of Democratic Women, Council of Republic Women, Council of Farm Women, League of Women Voters, Business and Professional

PETITION

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the Pennsylvania Committee for passing legislation liberalizing Oleomargarine laws in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I present a petition of our citizens requesting that you enact such legislation.

Mr. Speaker, this is the petition and I would like to add that there are approximately 50,000 names on it. If it were stretched out it would be over two miles long.

The SPEAKER. The petition is referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would the Speaker instruct the Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries to take personal custody of the petition and carry it with him into his committee room from the hall of the House.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I also think the Chairman should definitely be instructed to verify all of those names and check them to see if they are authentic.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recognized for the purpose of having a discharge resolution brought to the attention of the House.

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution to discharge the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries, from further consideration of House Bill No. 41, the Oleomargarine Bill.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1951.

Resolved, that the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 41, Title: An Act relating to oleomargarine, margarine, yellow oleobargarine, butterine and other similar products, regulating the sale thereof, regulating the serving thereof at public eating places, regulating the advertising thereof, conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Agriculture, prescribing penalties and repealing certain acts."

Said bill having been referred to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries on February 5, 1951.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that up until now we have been bombarded with letters, telegrams and telephone calls to remove the restrictions on yellow or colored margarine, I feel that we should go along with the old proverb that if you do not succeed once, try, try again. I am sure we cannot over-look the fact that on that scroll two and one-half miles in length are names of some 50,000 women in Pennsylvania who want colored margarine.

I recall that last week we discussed this bill at length. I am not going to take too much time. The bill was a good bill, the men on the bill were good men, and I feel that maybe some that voted against that particular bill for some reason or other, might have had a change of heart and may have found the error of their way and will feel they can now vote for this measure, House Bill 41.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Coyle.

Mrs. COYLE. Mr. Speaker, my appeal for your favorable vote upon the motion before this body today is made in behalf of the housewives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

At the outset I wish to remind and warn you upon the political significance of this issue—namely that the women of our State want colored oleo—and Mr. Speaker, hell hath no fury like a woman scorned. This will be true, fellow-members regardless of what party label you carry—the legislative body must alleviate the trying task that the housewife is confronted with, due to restrictions in present laws. The women also know that with a committee packed with farmers, it is not very likely that a pro-oleo bill will emerge from its grasps.

Therefore, this is your opportunity to render a good service to the great majority of your constituents; vote for this discharge resolution; place House Bill 41 before this House for its consideration and passage. Vote against this motion and I assure you the women of Pennsylvania will rise in their wrath and, fellow-members, quoting the words of former Governor Duff "Heads will Roll."

Let us all stop this nonsense and approve the motion that is before us today in tribute to the ladies that are present today in the hall of this house.

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I have a letter which I received from Allegheny County. I do not know whether or not the lady who wrote it is here in the House today. It is addressed to me. It says:

"Dear Sir:

"I am writing you regarding your recent stand against securing colored oleomargarine for Pennsylvania housewives. When I was approached about my vote last Fall, I made it clear that this issue was the only one I had any real interest in at this time, and I was assured that the Republicans were solidly in favor of it. Now that I see them in action, I am beginning to wonder if we don't have too many Republicans in Harrisburg and not enough Democrats, although I have been a Republican for years and my parents before me.

"I am surprised that men who are supposed to be representing the best interests of all the people should be so dominated by the 'butter block.' I spell it with a small 'b' purposely, for if ever I heard of a group of block-heads, they head the list.

"Do they prevent me from using oleomargarine? No! They only make me more furious every week when I have to spend time and energy doing the silly job of coloring it myself, when it could be done by the manufacturer so much better, and so much more easily.

"If the State's Pure Food Act isn't strong enough to protect the unsuspecting public who might be fooled by colored oleo, it needs re-vamping too, and that argument only proves what a good substitute for butter oleo is.

"I hope Judge McBride and her delegation can persuade you men to see the light. If she cannot, I'd like to turn over my job of coloring to you for a few weeks, and see if that would help you change your mind.

"I see you plan to run for County Controller. I think you have controlled me long enough. I have an excellent memory and a lot of friends who feel as I do.

"Yours truly,

"Mrs. Martha V. Gerber,
"3552 McClure Avenue,
"Pittsburgh 12, Pa."

Mr. LIGHT. Mr. Speaker, I wish to present several arguments against the adoption of this resolution. I believe the resolution should be defeated because it is contrary to sound legislative practice.

Over a long period of years in legislative procedure in our democratic form of government, bills, resolutions and acts for legislative consideration have been referred to committees. That is the practice in our Federal Congress. It is the practice in deliberative bodies of every description and to do what is attempted by this resolution would create a chaotic situation.

I have been about this Capitol for more than twenty years interested in legislation, and to discharge committees from further consideration of bills has always been frowned upon by both Democratic administrations and Republican administrations. It has been a most unusual practice for any administration to attempt to discharge committees from further consideration of bills. If there were no other reason for opposition to this resolution, that would be sufficient.

However, in the second place, the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries performed their duty by considering and acting upon House Bill 41. The bill was referred to a sub-committee for study. The action of the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries was based upon the report of its sub-committee, and a copy of said report was also placed in the House Post Office for every Member of this House.

The time required by the sub-committee delayed the speedy action of the Committee on Agriculture because numerous issues involved in the subject of oleomargarine required study. Oleomargarine is a subject of controversy due to the much beclouded propaganda involved in publicity which has aroused contention among some people of the state. In the consideration of the subject we could not be swept off our feet by propaganda and it took time to separate the wheat from the chaff and render a report that covered the subject fully.

A flood of yellow hand bills and yellow letters had to be studied and the claims made had to be analyzed and checked. Also, any effect this bill, if enacted into law, might have upon the Pure Food Laws of Pennsylvania were analyzed and studied. Thus, both the sub-committee and the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries performed their duty and for that reason the resolution should be defeated.

Third, this resolution should not pass for the reason that any hasty action which might follow will interfere with the enforcement of oleomargarine and other food legislation now in force. The findings of the Federal Food and Drug Administration are that oleomargarine laws are the only means of preventing wholesale violation of the Federal statute and a fraud epidemic in colored oleomargarine. Pennsylvania leads the nation in the enforcement of all Pure Food Laws and to tamper with these laws by breaking down any one of them, will mean an entering wedge to break others. Before this resolution passes or any other like it, this House should concern itself with the support and defense of the Pennsylvania Pure Food Laws which are a safeguard for health to our people in all walks of life.

Fourth, this resolution to discharge the Committee on Agriculture from further consideration of oleomargarine bills, to me means little so far as oleomargarine and butter are concerned. It must be admitted that the passage of this resolution means sidetracking the orderly processes of legislation and government and substituting therefor an unsound and very questionable method of solving a problem. It means that, if great pressure groups like the Dutch and English interests which control the oleo trust can flood Members of the Legislature with propaganda and get results; it will also mean that many other groups with large interests can get any committee discharged; and further, it may mean that the pressure from any powerful group within our own state may have sufficient strength to upset the working force of the legislative body. We must not submit to the propaganda mill of any outside agency to break down the legislative processes of the Pennsylvania Assembly.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it was with as much regret as surprise that I heard the Chairman of the House Agriculture and Dairy Industries Committee say they had separated the wheat from the chaff, classifying the members of the Committee the wheat and the embattled women of Pennsylvania as the chaff.

I would have been content to have terminated this debate with the statement made by the lady from Philadelphia; but in view of the reiteration of the doctrine that committees are sacrosanct, that action in accordance with the Rules of this House would create confusion; and the other time-worn arguments, since they have been stated for the purpose of the record, I believe that our position regarding the discharge of committees should also be stated for the purpose of the record.

Therefore, I yield to the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Petrosky.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as in the prior week's meeting of the General Assembly we discussed this matter at length, I want publicly and for the information of the Members of the House state that we are proceeding in an orderly manner in an effort to bring about the enactment of colored oleo legislation in this Assembly.

Under Rule 40, which Rules govern the procedure of this House, the membership has an opportunity to bring to light legislation that is bottled in committee, for the consideration of the membership of the House to be voted upon either pro or con here on the floor of the House.

It is an orderly procedure, it is a procedure that has been passed upon by us, the Members of this House, in adopting the Rules which govern us.

So I say to the ladies who are present, we are operating in an orderly procedure and you can consider us voting on oleo and a ban on oleo sales in this state either pro or con, and let the chips fall where they may.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I hesitated about getting into this debate, but I could not sit still and let the statement of the last gentleman stand on the record.

I have said in the past and I reiterate that to vote on a discharge resolution is not to vote on the merits or demerits of a bill. There can be no doubt about that in any way. We are not voting on a bill when we vote to discharge a Committee. As I stated before there are a lot of other important bills in this House, in fact there are fifteen hundred important bills in this House—at least they were important enough to the Member who put them in for him to go to the bother of having us print them, so they certainly must be important to those individuals. Whether I think they are important or not does not justify my taking a stand contrary to what he thinks. Certainly we should not permit discharge resolutions to open the flood gates for every important bill—they are all important bills, or they would not be here.

The committee system is the only system that will operate under our regular procedure. If we voted on every bill that came into this House we would be here until doomsday voting on bills the Members want to consider. I do not think it is fair to say that controversial bills are hid in committee.

I do not know if this is pertinent to the subject, if it is not I hope it will be excused. One of the most important bills and one of the most controversial bills this morning was released by an honest vote of a Committee. I still say if a Committee thinks a bill should be released they should vote to release it; if they think it should not be released they do not have to vote that way.

We are not hiding behind any Committee. We have proven to the House, we have proven to the people of Pennsylvania that the Committees are operating, and when they vote they vote with the sincerity that has been definitely proven today.

Mr. ANDREWS. Might I have the privilege of briefly interrogating the Majority leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. The Majority Leader has stated that if we discharge too many committees we might be here until doomsday. Will the Majority Leader assure us that on the basis of the present procedure we will not be here until doomsday anyway?

Mr. SMITH. I can assure the Minority Leader that we will not be here until doomsday, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I agree that a vote to discharge a Committee is not a vote on the merits of a bill, but I would ask the Majority Leader if a vote to discharge a Committee is not a vote to seek the opportunity to vote on a bill?

Mr. SMITH. That, Mr. Speaker, I cannot deny, but I still say that even in the smallest organization, even though it be a boy's club, we operate under the committee system. It is a regular and orderly procedure and the right way to operate.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Petrosky.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Moran, Rovanssek and Wheeler.

(Following the calling of the roll and during the verification)

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I desire to learn whether the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Geer voted at all.

Mr. GEER. I did not vote.

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman states he did not vote.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman care to vote?

The SPEAKER. For what purpose does the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews rise?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, to ask the Speaker whether the failure of a Member to vote, who is in the hall of the House, raises a constitutional question as to whether a Member in the Hall of the House can be required to vote?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, under Rule 71 of the House, a Member who is present is required to vote "yea" or "nay" on every question. However, at the present time, there is nothing in order but the verification of the roll.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. What is the process of raising the question, Mr. Speaker!

Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to raise the question later I withdraw the inquiry and ask that this situation remain in status quo and that we proceed with the orderly routine of the day.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman object to the verification of the roll. There is nothing in order but the verification of the roll at the present time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I think with the unanimous consent we could hold the situation in status quo.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will do so, if there is no objection. The Chair hears none, and will take up today's calendar.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 100, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to increase the debt limit of the city of Philadelphia

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SMITH. I would like to make a brief statement in regard to bills 100, 101 and 102.

All of these bills pertain to the same subject with a different amount entered. They were passed two years ago by the Legislature and they are amendments to the Constitution.

I move that House Bill 100 be recommitted to Cities of the First Class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, from the Philadelphia standpoint are these controversial bills or has there been at least a general understanding as to which bill the minority representation from Philadelphia favors. I do not see the Minority Floor Leader in the Hall of the House and therefore I am not advised as to whether these bills are or are not controversial?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can assure the gentleman that these bills, passed two years ago without a "nay" vote. There is no controversy on them but if the gentleman desires, I will gladly pass the three bills over until Monday, if that will suit him, and if the gentleman would prefer that.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my motion to recommit.

An Act providing for the destruction and removal of houses condemned as unsafe and unfit for habitation by the owner or at his cost by the political subdivision in which they are located

Section 1 Whenever under the provisions of any act of Assembly any building or part of a building is condemned as unsafe and unfit for human habitation such building or part of building shall either be restored or repaired in such a manner as to be safe and fit for human habitation as required by the laws applicable to the political subdivision in which the same is located or it shall be totally demolished and removed so that the material and debris will not thereafter constitute a nuisance or a menace to health or safety

Section 2 Except as otherwise provided by local ordinance when any public officer authorized by law to condemn unsafe or unfit buildings shall give notice of such condemnation to the owner thereof he shall include in the notice a statement that such building or part of building shall be repaired or rebuilt or demolished and removed as aforesaid within a period of six months from the date of the notice

If the order is not complied with the political subdivision in which the property is located shall cause the building or part of building to be demolished and removed and shall be entitled to collect the cost of such work from the owner of the property in the same manner as other debts due the political subdivision are collectible

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Flack,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 753, entitled:

An Act limiting in certain cases the right of appeal to the court of common pleas from decisions of magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GEER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, first line of title, by striking out the word "Limiting" and inserting in lieu thereof "Relating to appeals from decisions of magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace; limiting."

Amend Title, page 1, lines 1, 2 and 3 of title, by striking out the words "to the court of common" in line 1 and all of lines 2 and 3 and inserting in lieu thereof "and transferring jurisdiction in such appeals in certain cases to County Court of Allegheny County and Municipal Court of Philadelphia."

Amend the Bill, page 2, by inserting between lines 9 and 10 the following:

Section 2. Appeals from decisions of magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace in Allegheny County shall hereafter be taken to County Court of Allegheny County, and in Philadelphia County, to the Municipal Court of Philadelphia. The jurisdiction hereby conferred shall be exclusive within the territorial limits of such courts.

Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 10, by striking out this figure "2" and inserting in lieu thereof.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. GEER. There have been a few questions asked concerning what these amendments are.

Mr. Kent's original bill, provided that there only be an appeal from a J. P. Court upon petition for anything under a hundred dollars, a petition to Common Pleas Court. In the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and County Court of Allegheny County, those appeals are normally taken to those courts instead of to Common Pleas Court. For that reason I just presented the amendment because

Mr. Kent was not aware that those cases ordinarily were appealed to the Common Pleas Court instead to the County Court of Allegheny County.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 829, Printer's No. 316

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 854, as follows:

An Act to further amend clause (17) of subdivision (4) of subsection (1) of section four of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by including services of industrial insurance agents within the definition of employment

Section 1 Clause (17) of subdivision (4) of subsection (1) of section four of the act approved the fifth day of December one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (1937 P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1738) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Definitions The following words and phrases as used in this act shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly requires otherwise

(1) * * * * *

(4) The word "employment" shall not include

(17) Service performed by an individual for an employer as an insurance agent or real estate salesman or as an insurance solicitor or as a real estate broker or as a solicitor of application for or salesman of share of or certificates issued by an investment company or as an agent of an investment company if all such service performed by such individual for such employer is performed for remuneration solely by way of commission or services performed by an individual as an unsalaried correspondent for a newspaper who receives no compensation or compensation only for copy accepted for publication Provided That services performed by an individual all or any part of whose remuneration is derived from the sale of policies and collection of premiums of industrial insurance shall be deemed employment within the meaning of this act "Industrial Insurance" is hereby declared to be that form of insurance either (a) under which premiums are payable weekly or (b) under which premiums are payable monthly or oftener but other than weekly if the face amount of insurance provided in the policy is less than one thousand dollars ($1000) and the words "Industrial Policy" are printed upon the face of the policy,

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1037, as follows:

An Act providing for the merger of certain existing railroad corporations into street passenger railway corporations setting forth the procedure to be followed the effect of the merger upon property and franchises and defining the rights powers and privileges of the surviving company

Section 1 Merger Authorized It shall be lawful for any railroad corporation heretofore formed under the act approved the fourth day of April 1868 (P. L. 62) entitled "An act to authorize the formation and regulation of railroad corporations" its amendments and supplements which conducts its transportation operations through the use of electric power exclusively whose lines of railroad do not exceed fifty miles in length and are entirely within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and which owns at least 90% of the outstanding capital stock of a street passenger railway corporation now or hereafter organized under any act of Assembly authorizing the formation of such corporations to merge its corporate rights franchises powers and privileges (whether acquired by gift purchase condemnation municipal grant or otherwise) with and into those of such street passenger railway corporation so that by virtue of this act such corporations may merge and so that all the property rights franchises and privileges then by law vested in either of such corporations so merged shall be transferred to and vested in such street passenger railway corporation into which such merger shall be made as the surviving corporation in the manner provided in this act

Section 2 Approval of Plan of Merger

(a) The board of directors of each of the corporations which desire to merge shall by resolution adopted by at least a majority vote of all of the members of each board approve a plan of merger setting for the terms and conditions of the merger and mode of carrying the same into effect the manner and basis of converting the shares of each corporation into shares or other securities or obligations of the surviving corporation and such other details and provisions as are deemed necessary

(b) The board of directors of each corporation upon approving such plan of merger shall by resolution direct that the plan be submitted to a vote of the shareholders of such corporation entitled to vote thereon at an annual or special meeting of the shareholders Written notice shall not less than thirty days before such annual or special meeting be given to each shareholder of record of such corporation whether or not entitled to vote on such plan unless the plan of merger contemplates as increase in the aggregate of the authorized capital stock of the merging corporations in which event sixty days' notice of such meeting shall be given to each shareholder. The notice shall state the place day hour and purpose of the meeting and a copy or a summary of the plan of merger shall be included in or enclosed with such notice.

(c) The plan of merger shall be approved upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of the outstanding shares entitled to vote thereon of each of the merging corporations unless any class of shares of any of such corporations is entitled to vote thereon as a class in which event as to such corporation the plan of merger shall be approved upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of the outstanding shares of each class of shares entitled to vote thereon as a class and the affirmative vote of the holders of at least sixty-six and two-thirds per centum of all outstanding shares entitled to vote thereon.

Section 3 Articles of Merger Upon the approval of the plan of merger by the shareholders of the corporations desiring to merge articles of merger shall be executed under the seal of each corporation signed and verified by two duly authorized officers of each corporation and shall set forth

(1) The name and location of the registered office of the surviving corporation

(2) The time and place of the meeting of the shareholders of each corporation at which the plan of merger was adopted the kind and period of notice given to the shareholders and the total vote by which the plan was adopted

(3) Any changes desired to be made in the articles of the surviving corporation

(4) The number names and addresses of the persons to be the first directors of the surviving corporation

(5) The plan of merger

Section 4 Advertisement Each of the merging corporations shall advertise its intention to file articles of merger with the Department of State one time in two newspapers published in the English language one of which shall be a newspaper of general circulation and the other the legal newspaper if any designated by the rules of the court for the publication of legal notices otherwise in two newspapers of general circulation published in the county in which the initial registered office of the corporation is to be located. Where there is but one newspaper of general circulation published in any county advertisement in such newspaper shall be sufficient. Advertisement shall appear at least three days prior to the day on which the articles of merger are presented to the Department of State and shall set forth briefly

(1) The name and the location of the registered office of each of the corporations intending to merge

(2) The name and the location of the proposed registered office of the surviving corporation

(3) A statement that the articles of merger are to be filed under the provisions of this act

(4) The time when the articles of merger will be delivered to the Department of State

Section 5 Filing of Articles of Merger

(a) The articles of merger shall be submitted to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission which commission shall unless it finds that the proposed merger is detrimental to the interests of the riding public issue to the surviving corporation a Certificate of Public Convenience authorizing the ownership and operation of all of the transportation facilities then owned and operated by each of the merging corporations

(b) The articles of merger and proof of the advertisement required by the preceding section shall be delivered to the Department of State. If the Department of State finds that such articles conform to this act and that the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission has issued an appropriate order or Certificate of Public Convenience it shall forthwith but not prior to the day specified in the advertisement required by the preceding section endorse its approval thereon and upon payment of the filing fee for issuing a certificate of merger it shall file the articles of merger to which shall be attached a copy of the approved articles

Section 6 Effective Date of Merger Upon the approval of the certificate of merger by the Department of State the merger shall be effective. The certificate of merger shall be conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions precedent to such merger and the existence of the surviving corporation except as against the Commonwealth.

Section 7 Effect of Merger Upon the merger becoming effective the corporations which are parties to the plan of merger shall be a single corporation which shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation. The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger shall cease except that of the surviving corporation. All the property real personal and mixed and all of the rights rights of way franchises municipal and other grants powers and privileges of each of the corporations parties to the plan of merger and all debts due on whatever account to any of them including subscriptions to shares and other choses in action belonging to any of them shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in the surviving corporation without further act or deed and thereafter the surviving corporation may own hold enjoy and exercise all of the same as fully as could have the corporation entitled thereof prior to the merger but the surviving corporation shall not thereafter by virtue of the provisions of said act approved the 4th day of April 1868 (P. L. 62) or its supplements or amendments acquire any rights rights of way franchises municipal or other grants powers or privileges not belonging to either of the merging corporations prior to the merger which it could not acquire as a street passenger railway and the surviving corporation shall not by virtue of the merger acquire authority to engage in any business or exercise any right which a corporation may not be formed under the laws of the Commonwealth to engage in or exercise. The surviving corporation shall henceforth be responsible for all liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations so merged but the liabilities of the merging corporations or of their shareholders directors or officers shall not be affected nor shall the rights of the creditors thereof or of any persons dealing with such corporations or any liens upon the property of such corporations be impaired by such merger and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if such merger had not taken place or the surviving corporation may be proceeded against or substituted in its place. The articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent if any that changes in its articles are stated in the articles of merger and the aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging corporations which was available for the payment of dividends immediately prior to such merger to the extent that the value thereof is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of shares or otherwise shall continue to be available for the payment of dividends by such surviving corporation.

Section 8 Rights of Dissenting Shareholders

(a) If any shareholder of any corporation which becomes a party to a plan of merger shall file with such corporation prior to the vote at the meeting of shareholders at which the plan of merger is submitted to a vote a written objection to such plan of merger and shall not vote in favor thereof and such shareholder within twenty days after the merger was effected shall also make written demand on the surviving corporation for the payment of the fair value of his shares the merger without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of the merger the surviving corporation shall pay to such shareholder the fair value of his shares upon surrender of the share certificate or certificates representing his shares. The demand of the shareholder shall state the number and class of the shares owned by him. Unless a shareholder files such written objection and also makes such demand within the twenty-day period he shall be conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger and shall be bound by the terms thereof If within thirty days after the date on which such merger was effected the value of such shares shall be agreed upon between the dissenting shareholder and the surviving corporation payment thereof shall be made in cash within ninety days after the date on which such merger was effected upon the surrender of the share certificate or certificates representing his shares Upon payment of the agreed value the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the corporation

(b) If within such period of thirty days the shareholder and the surviving corporation do not so agree then the dissenting shareholder may within sixty days after the expiration of the thirty-day period apply by petition to the court of common pleas in equity within the county in which the registered office of the surviving corporation is situated for the appointment by the court of three disinterested persons to appraise the fair value of his shares without regard to any depreciation or appreciation thereof in consequence of the merger The award of the appraisers or of a majority of them shall be submitted to the court for determination and the judgment of the court thereon shall be final and conclusive The costs of such appraisal including a reasonable fee to the appraisers shall be fixed by the court and shall be borne by the surviving corporation unless in the opinion of the court the action of any shareholder in refusing the offer of the corporation has been arbitrary vexatious or in bad faith in which case the costs shall be assessed in the discretion of the court The award shall be payable only upon and simultaneously with the surrender to surviving corporation of the share certificate or certificates representing the shares of the dissenting shareholder If the award shall not be paid by the surviving corporation within thirty days after the order of the court thereon the amount of the award shall be a judgment against the surviving corporation and may be collected as other judgments in such court are by law collectible Upon the payment of the award or judgment the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the surviving corporation Such shares may be held and disposed of by the surviving corporation as it may see fit Unless the dissenting shareholder shall file a petition within the time herein limited such shareholder and all persons claiming under him shall be conclusively presumed to have approved and ratified the merger and shall be bound by the terms thereof

(c) The rights and remedies at law or in equity of any shareholder who desire to object to or to dissent any merger shall be limited to those prescribed under this section and such rights and remedies under this section shall be exclusive

(d) A copy of this section shall be enclosed with the written notice mentioned in subsection (b) of section 2 of this act and said written notice shall state that this section sets forth the exclusive rights and remedies of shareholders who object to the plan of merger

Section 9 All acts and parts of act are hereby repealed insofar as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the roll call on the resolution offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo. The question at the time the procedure was suspended was: Are there any corrections to the negative roll?

The affirmative and negative rolls were verified.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the lateness of the hour and in view of the fact that this seems to be get-away-day, many Members are anxious to leave, I will withdraw the point raised for subsequent determination upon another occasion.

There were, Mr. Speaker, as the Chair well knows, many ramifications of a parliamentary nature that could be raised in connection with the situation that developed.

I desire to state that I have always been of the opinion that the Rule stating that a Member is not privileged to vote "present" was unconstitutional, and I had intended in connection with the proceedings today to raise that question. It may be raised upon some other occasion.

However, I suggest that the roll be verified in the usual way; that the gentleman from Allegheny state for the record how he would have voted, had he voted, and that we accept the ruling of the Chair concerning the verification of the roll provided the gentleman from Allegheny enters on the record how he would have voted, had he voted.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews for withdrawing his parliamentary inquiry.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. McMILLEN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. BOISE offered a resolution which was head, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1951.

The glorious radiance of May ushers in blue skies, spring zephyrs, budding flowers—and, the natal anniversaries of many outstanding individuals. Not the least conspicuous among the latter is a member of this House of Representatives, Jules Filo, from Allegheny County, who yesterday reached his forty-first milestone of a checkered, ambitious and fruitful career.

His journey to success has been along the rugged highway of trial and error, through frustrating as well as rewarding experience, and has carried him at last to a plateau of prominence and recognition among his fellow citizens that few others have scaled.

There are many aspects to Mr. Filo's nature. His close contact with the grim realities of life has developed in a multi-faceted personality through which he has sharply observed and appraised life at its many levels. His esthetic interests and judgments have developed with a rare and a discriminating refinement and he yields to no one anywhere in his appreciation of the beauty, the vivacity, and the charm of the women of Pittsburgh in particular, and of Pennsylvania generally. For, Mr. Filo has duly qualified as a virtuoso of wondrously fair and breath-taking women the world over. Paens of joy and gratitude in honor of women's inspirational influence on every phase of life have been rapturously sung by his lips. As a most ardent devotee of women's infinite nobility and matchless charm, Mr. Filo has been quick to scorn and to castigate those who would bear tribute and express adoration to a shrine of beauty graced by any other than a Pennsylvania woman.

For his unexampled loyalty to the ladies of Pittsburgh, for his daily and timeless appreciation of plchritude everywhere; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives extend to the Honorable Jules Filo its heartiest felicitations on the anniversary of his birthday; and be it further

Resolved, That this House is fervently wishful that his outlook on life shall always be sprightly and buoyant and his look out for fair women, never dimmed nor impaired; and be it further

Resolved, That this House present to Jules Filo its sincerest hope that many, many more milestones shall fade away into the past as a future of continued health, greater service, and fuller recognition unfolds before him.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Filo.

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I never knew there were that many adjectives in the English language. I do not claim any reward for any place that I was born, or time I was born like the gentleman on the other side of the House. I claim my reward has being a Member of this Body.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. ROVANSEK from the Committee on Labor Relations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 55, entitled:

SENATE

MONDAY, May 21, 1951.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT L. CURRY, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, St. Clair, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Father, days have slipped into history since we were last together as this great body of men. Make us concerned about time to the sense that we worry not now about the past, but that we give ourselves to the making of the greatest future. And when the future fades away and becomes the present, may we never need be ashamed that we helped make it as it is.

Set before us, God, a picture of our tasks. May we never place our own benefits above those of others. May we never think of ourselves more highly than we ought honestly think. When we greed for power, when we push ourselves over others for positions, when we thirst for money, when our eyes stand out with corrupted fatness, when we have far more than heart could wish for let us stop and listen, and then we will hear the drop, drop, drop of the water in the basin, as in the upper room Jesus knelt upon the floor and washed the disciples' feet. And seeing Jesus there, we will turn to God and say, "Make us always humble."

Bless our Nation, for if it ever needed it before it sure needs it now. Guide our Commonwealth, for by Heavenly guidance, we earthly men can see the right, and by that right we can do nothing else but succeed. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on unpaid county, city, and school district taxes, in cities of the first class and in school districts of the first class, with certain exceptions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO (By Request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 674, entitled:

An Act to further amend subsections six and seven of Section 2 of the act, approved the twenty-eighth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities; defining as public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the exercise, surrender, or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including, to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations, or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation, the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by bringing within the provisions thereof persons or corporations furnishing transportation of ashes and rubbish in cities of the first class.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have a resolution which calls for action by the Senate, and I would appreciate it, on behalf of the Democratic Party, if the Senate would give consent to its immediate consideration.

I present this resolution on behalf of Senator Martin Silvert, myself and the Democratic Caucus, calling upon the Democratic National Committee to hold their convention in the City of Philadelphia for the Presidential Nomination.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

INVITATION BE EXTENDED TO THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE TO HOLD THEIR 1952 CONVENTION IN CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

Messrs. DENT and SILVERT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Whereas, Philadelphia is truly a national shrine where our American liberty was conceived and attained, and

Whereas, Philadelphia is intimately identified with the early beginning of a colonial era in which the qualities of tolerance, good will and peaceful living were dominant factors, and

Whereas, Philadelphia has developed from said colonial background into a great metropolitan area in which there are excellent facilities for transporting, housing and reeding thousands of visitors, and

Whereas, Philadelphia offers attractive rewards in culture, art, recreation, and entertainment to its many visitors who would seek esthetic enjoyment and healthful relaxation, and

Whereas, Philadelphia has become by virtue of its geographical site and historical distinction a Mecca for all who re-invigorate their American creed at the fountain head of democratic ideal and inspiration; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend its most cordial invitation to the Democratic National Committee at Denver to hold their 1952 convention for the nomination of president and vice-president in the City of Philadelphia, and express its assurance that every facility and comfort shall be available for the delegates in their efficient discharge of their duties, and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate of Pennsylvania transmit by telegraph, a copy of this resolution to Mr. William Boyle, Democratic National Chairman, Denver, Colorado.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire of the gentleman from Westmoreland, if the resolution just read is a concurrent resolution?

Mr. DENT. No, Mr. President, this is a resolution on the part of the Senate. We thought it would be proper for the Senate to express its opinion in the matter.

Mr. WALKER. May I further interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to advise the gentleman from Westmoreland that we also have, as the gentleman probably knows, a somewhat similar resolution from the House, which is a concurrent resolution, and I would like to ask the gentleman from Westmoreland if he would object if we passed both resolutions in the hope that we will get the Democratic Convention in Philadelphia twice.

Mr. DENT. I think that is a good suggestion, Mr. President. The only reason the House Resolution got over here before I could get the first crack at it, is because it took us so long to reach the hour of three.

The PRESIDENT. Do both resolutions provide for the same year?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in answer to the Chair's question, yes; in answer to the gentleman from Westmoreland, he reminds me of some of the experiences I have had occasionally when I am two minutes late at a meeting with the "President of the Walker Corporation." At such times, I am always reminded that she had to wait for me, but she never takes into consideration the days and days when that is in reverse. On behalf of the Republican Caucus, I apologize to the Minority Party for the new minutes delay which is the first time we have held them up since the Session started.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the Democratic Caucus accepts the apology.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

COMMENDING THE WORK OF THE FORT LIGONIER MEMORIAL FOUNDATION

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Whereas, historic Fort Ligonier played a significant part in Pennsylvania History as the last of the series of forts built along the Forbes Road in 1758 to make possible the capture of French Fort Duquesne, thus helping to determine that the future of Western Pennsylvania and that of North America in general was to be with English-speaking peoples; and

Whereas, the Fort Ligonier Memorial Foundation, with the aid of public-spirited citizens and organizations of the Borough of Ligonier, Westmoreland County and the surrounding area, is raising funds to make possible the re-construction and restoration of this famous fort; Now Therefore Be It

Resolved, that the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby commends the work of the Fort Ligonier Memorial Foundation in reconstructing and restoring historic Fort Ligonier as a memorial to a significant epoch in the history of the Commonwealth, thereby setting an example for emulation for the preservation and restoration of historic sites, landmarks and structures in other parts of the Keystone State.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented for concurrence bills of the House, as follows:

House Bill No. 847, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act, approved the second day of July, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1199), entitled, "Fuel Use Tax Act" by extending the provisions of the additional tax for a limited time.

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

House Bill No. 848, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149), entitled as amended, "Liquid Fuels Tax Law," by extending the provisions of the additional tax for a limited time; and further providing for the distribution of the additional tax to certain political subdivisions of this Commonwealth, with certain conditions

Which was committed to the Committee on Finance.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I present a resolution at this time and ask for immediate consideration. I understand that this resolution is not debatable. Therefore, I will refrain from making any comments about the contents of the resolution, but I believe the Members of the Senate will understand clearly what we are trying to do.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

URGING THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ADJOURN SINE DIE JUNE 15, 1951

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concurs) That this Regular Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, Friday, June 15th, 1951, at 5:00 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, with my sincere apologies to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I object to the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise on a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does not an adjournment resolution presented to the Senate call for an immediate vote without debate?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in order to expedite the disposition of the business before the Senate, may I withdraw my objection to immediate consideration so that we can proceed to act on the resolution, and may I ask the gentlemen of the Majority to vote "no."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to withdraw its order to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules, and ask the Minority Floor Leader if he wishes to make a motion.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move its immediate adoption.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

(During the calling of the roll the following occurred:)

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not want anybody on the rostrum to have a heart attack, but I would like to inquire how the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, is recorded as voting?

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk advises me he is recorded as having voted "present."

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I inquire whether or not under the rules of the Senate, a member of the Senate who is present has to be recorded as voting in the affirmative or in the negative?

The PRESIDENT. I do not think there is any question about that, and I think Senator Yosko realizes he must vote if you insist upon it.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I understand if a Senator is on the floor when the roll is called, he must either vote in the affirmative or in the negative, or else have been excused on the grounds of having a personal interest in the matter being considered by the Senate.

I still return, Mr. President, to the question before the Senate. The gentleman from Northampton was present when the roll was called, and he must either be recorded as voting in the affirmative or in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Majority Floor Leader insist that the gentleman from Northampton be recorded as voting?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I withdraw my insistence. May we proceed with the roll call?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17

Bane,	Dent,	Lane,	McMenamin,
Barr,	DiSilvestro,	Leader,	Neff,

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, at this time I want to present a resolution that in some quarters may be misunderstood, but I am usually misunderstood anyway, so it does not make very much difference. This resolution deals with a very serious problem and one that has become increasingly more serious as the years roll by in the Legislative Sessions.

Mr. President, this resolution deals with hospital appropriations. I have watched hospital appropriations go from one hundred to two hundred fifty per cent increase over the past, almost a generation. In the last few years I have been trying to determine what is happening in the hospital situation, and why this sudden demand on the part of hospital groups for greater and greater State appropriations, and after a careful study of the problem I find that we have created in Pennsylvania a situation that can properly be blamed upon the Legislature.

Mr. President, I have gone into the so-called Blue Cross program and have studied some of the angles that are probably not known to most of the citizens. Blue Cross was set up as a guarantee and sort of insurance that hospitals would receive payment for services rendered, but in most instances Blue Cross has developed into a monstrosity because, Mr. President, too many hospitals have signed contracts with Blue Cross where they give maximum services at minimum prices. Persons able to pay their hospital bills now hide behind a Blue Cross premium, and we find those citizens in a community who, prior to the advent of the so-called Blue Cross program, paid their hospital bills, now buy a policy in Blue Cross and the hospitals in the local communities suffer from it.

Mr. President, we have also set up another situation in which we have passed legislation for the benefit of the so-called Blue Cross program against private insurance company programs, which pay State taxes as well as other considerations, and I find after careful study—and I have with me today complete files that I have carried for the past two years, studies that I have made, and I say to the Senate of Pennsylvania that you cannot go into the appropriations for the hospitals in Pennsylvania without taking serious consideration of the problem of insurance for hospitalization.

Mr. President, I remember distinctly the argument for Blue Cross upon the floor of the Senate, and I want to say if the Senate will pass this resolution, that within two weeks, with a little bit of work on the part of the Senate and the House, we may be able to determine just where we are going in the matter of State-aid to hospitals. You cannot keep appropriating and passing new taxes every two years regardless of who the members of the Senate and House are, because just as surely as we are in this room today, there must be a day of reckoning. You just cannot take 46c out of earned income dollars in the State of Pennsylvania and expect our State to prosper. The hospitals must be taken care of, hospital services must be rendered, but I repeat again and again, we cannot continue a program, Mr. President, that is going to make the fit people of Pennsylvania unfit trying to take care of the unfit. We cannot do that, because the cost is so great that sooner or later there is going to be a breakdown. The hospital situation is one and the school situation is another, and by the grace of God and with the help of a few Marines, next week I will take up the school proposition.

URGING THAT A COMMITTEE BE APPOINTED TO GATHER FACTS ON HOSPITALIZATION THAT MAY BE HELPFUL IN DETERMINING PROPER APPROPRIATIONS TO VARIOUS HOSPITALS

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Whereas, each succeeding biennium brings to the Legislature the problem of hospital appropriations, and

Whereas, in the interest of the health and welfare of the citizens of the Commonwealth, it is imperative that such appropriations be made in an amount necessary for the continued operation of said hospitals, and

Whereas, the problem seems to become more pressing and more acute at each succeeding Session of the Legislature, and

Whereas, there has grown up in Pennsylvania a gigantic organization called BLUE CROSS, the intentions of said organization being the guaranteeing of the payment to hospitals for services rendered according to a pre-arranged and pre-paid insurance plan, and

Whereas, there have been of recent date, instances of hospital rejections of said BLUE CROSS services for reasons according to public statements that may have a direct bearing upon the increasing demands made upon the Legislature by the hospital groups of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, it is not the intention of the Legislature to disrupt the services of the hospital or to deny a hospital adequate appropriations or to deny any pre-arrangement of insurance plans for the payment of hospital bills, however, it is the intention of the Legislature to investigate the growing demand for said appropriations and the relationship of said demands to the BLUE CROSS hospital plan, therefore

Be it resolved, that a proper committee of the House and Senate immediately call before it, representatives of hospitals, representatives of insured groups or persons, representatives of BLUE CROSS plan and representatives of private insurance companies selling hospitalization, in order to gather together pertinent facts that may be helpful to the Legislature before determining the proper amounts of appropriations to be made to the various hospitals in the Commonwealth, and

Be It Further Resolved, that the House concur and that the Senate President Pro Tem name five members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House name five members of the House, its duties would be to immediately begin to investigate and to make a report to the General Assembly within the next two weeks.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I withdraw my request for immediate consideration and request that the resolution be laid upon the table.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will be laid on the table.

THE HONORABLE CHARLES ALVIN JONES AND THE HONORABLE GROVER C. LADNER PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has detected the presence of at least two distinguished members of the Supreme Court, Justices Jones and Ladner, and I would be pleased if they would please rise in place and take a bow.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION
TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WATSON, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, June 4, 1951, at two o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, June 4, 1951, at three-thirty o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BE REQUESTED TO REPORT TO THE SENATE RE
BRUCELLOSIS CONTROL PROGRAM IN PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. LEADER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Agriculture:

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Brucellosis (also known as Bangs disease or infectious abortion of cattle) is one of the major hazards of the cattle industry, and its prompt control is of vital importance both to the industry and to the public health.

At the present time, not quite 700,000 cattle—or less than half of the cattle population receiving surveillance under the program of control for bovine tuberculosis—have had inspections for brucellosis; and of this group, fewer than 200,000 belong to accredited herds, i.e. are completely free of the disease. On the other hand, nearly 775,000 animals have not yet been examined; half of these are on the Department of Agriculture's waiting list because its funds and facilities do not permit faster handling of the program. The equally large uncontrolled group of 400,000 cattle suggests the possible need for mandatory inspection.

This Senate recognizes the many difficulties and problems in satisfactorily and speedily carrying out of program of this scope, and type, but it nonetheless is anxious to aid in accelerating the day when all the cattle in this Commonwealth can be declared free of the disease; now therefore be it

Resolved (by the Senate), That the Department of Agriculture is hereby requested to make a report to the Senate before the thirty-first day of January, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three in which it shall set forth:

(1) the facts concerning the brucellosis control program in Pennsylvania; and

(2) the department's suggestions and recommendations for improving present methods of control especially from the standpoint of accelerating the time factor in such control program.

FORMER SENATOR THEODORE H. DOEHLA
PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair observes the presence of a distinguished former Member of the Senate, the Honorable Theodore Doehla, of Allegheny County. Will Senator Doehla please rise and take a bow?

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

INVITATION BE EXTENDED TO THE DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE TO HOLD THEIR 1952 CONVENTION
IN CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1951.

Whereas, Philadelphia is truly a national shrine where our American liberty was conceived and attained,

Whereas, Philadelphia has become by virtue of its geographical site and historical distinction a Mecca for all who would re-invigorate their American creed at the fountain head of democratic ideal and inspiration; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) extend its most cordial invitation to the Democratic National Committee at Denver to hold their 1952 convention for the nomination of president and vice-president in the City of Philadelphia, and express its assurance that every facility and comfort shall be available for the delegates in the efficient discharge of their duties.

And Be It Further Resolved that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit, by telegraph, a copy of this resolution to Mr. William Boyle, Democratic National Chairman, Denver, Colorado.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

FROM TABLE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, at this time I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 122.

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO MAKE A STUDY OF THE STATE-WIDE NEEDS AND PROBLEMS OF THE AGING AND THE AGED

In the Senate, May 1, 1951.

Whereas, The personal, family, social, medical, financial and related problems arising from the continued increase in the number and proportion of Pennsylvanians of advanced age are of growing magnitude; and

Whereas, These problems are of such striking significance and so intricate as to warrant special and intensive attention by the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, All aspects of this rise in the aging population presents the Commonwealth with increasingly serious social and human problems; now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a comprehensive and intensive study of the State-wide needs and problems of the aging and the aged and to develop in cooperation with other governmental and voluntary groups ways and means to assist the Commonwealth in meeting these needs and problems and in such study the commission may appoint and consult with a Citizens Advisory Committee of competent lay and professional citizens who have demonstrated interests in and knowledge of the aging and the aged. Such study shall concentrate on the following:

1. Employment opportunities for older persons.
2. Facilities and services for the aged including: counseling and personal services, employment guidance and placement services, medical care services, institutional services, treatment and rehabilitation for the chronically ill, care of and rehabilitation for the disabled and the handicapped, recreation, education and related community services.

3. Analysis of the problems of the aged receiving old-age assistance with special reference to the adequacy of grants and standards of living, boarding homes and other sheltered care for the indigent aged.

4. Special attention to the problems of care and treatment of the senile aged.

5. Study of other special needs as develop in the course of the study; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall report to the General Assembly on or before February first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, the results of its studies and investigations and recommendations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 360, as follows:

An Act relating to habeas corpus conferring jurisdiction upon the judges of the courts of Common Pleas Prescribing venue defining procedure in all cases authorizing service to be made upon persons anywhere in the Commonwealth providing for the imposition of costs allowing appeals specifying the appellate court to which appeals may be taken and repealing inconsistent legislation including that conferring jurisdiction on courts of Quarter Sessions

Section 1 Any judge of a court of Common Pleas within this Commonwealth shall have jurisdiction at any time to issue a writ of habeas corpus upon application by or on behalf of any person (hereafter called the relator) alleged to be unlawfully imprisoned or detained in any penitentiary prison reformatory house of detention mental institution or other place (a) within the judge's judicial district or (b) outside of his judicial district if the relator was committed by action of any court of the judge's judicial district provided that when relator's detention or confinement is by virtue of sentence after conviction for a criminal offense only a judge of the judicial district of conviction and sentencing shall exercise such jurisdiction

Section 2 The judges of the several Orphans' Court of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia and of the Allegheny County Court shall continue to exercise the jurisdiction of habeas corpus which they have under existing law

Section 3 An application for a writ of habeas corpus shall be by petition duly verified by the relator or by someone on his behalf in all instances where relator is undergoing detention or confinement as the result of conviction and sentence upon a criminal charge relator shall present his petition to a judge of the judicial district wherein he was convicted and sentenced in all other instances he may present his petition to any judge having jurisdiction

Section 4 Upon the presentation of a petition as aforesaid to any judge having jurisdiction he may if he believes the circumstances justify it direct the writ to issue forthwith or he may allow a rule to show cause why the writ should not be issued returnable in not more than twenty days service of the writ or the rule to show cause as the case may be shall be made forthwith in such manner as the judge shall direct anywhere in the Commonwealth upon the warden superintendent or other person in charge of the penitentiary prison reformatory house of detention mental institution or other place in which the relator is imprisoned or detained Notice shall also be given to such other interested parties (including the district attorney in proper cases) and in such manner as the judge shall direct If a rule has been allowed the judge who allowed it or in case of his absence or disability any other judge of his court may upon or after the return day order the writ to issue or discharge the petition

Section 5 In ordering the writ to issue or in awarding a rule to show cause the judge shall fix a date for a hearing which shall be held as promptly as may be and may or may not order the relator to be produced at the hearing as the circumstances may warrant and except when the relator is charged with a non-bailable offense or has been convicted and sentenced the judge may in his discretion fix bail in such amount as he deems appropriate for the appearance of the relator at the time and place of hearing and may order his discharge meanwhile

Section 6 After hearing the judge shall dismiss the writ order the discharge of the relator or make such other order as shall be appropriate. He shall impose costs which shall include the actual expenses if any of bringing the relator to the place of hearing.

Section 7 From the decision of any judge upon any petition for a writ of habeas corpus or upon any order made pursuant to a hearing on the writ an appeal may be taken as in other cases. When the basis of the petition is an alleged defect or illegality in a criminal proceeding the appeal shall be to the court which has appellate jurisdiction in cases involving the crime with which the person imprisoned or detained is charged or of which he has been convicted. In all cases involving the custody of minors or of persons alleged to be mentally ill appeals shall be to the Superior Court. In all other cases appeals shall be to the Supreme Court.

Section 8 Section 2 of the act of April 4 1873 (P. L. 377) entitled "An act to alter the times of holding Courts in the county of Tioga and for the purposes" is hereby repealed insofar as it relates to the allowance and issuance of writs of habeas corpus and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 374, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by further regulating health and accident insurance.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Sections 617 618 619 620 621 subsection (c) of Section 621.1 and Sections 623 625 and 627 of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund providing penalties and repealing existing laws" and hereby repealed.

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 616 five new sections to read as follows:

Section 617 Conditions Subject to Which Policies Are to Be Issued (A) No such policy shall be delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth unless

(1) the entire money and other considerations therefor are expressed therein and

(2) the time at which the insurance takes effect and terminates is expressed therein and

(3) it purports to insure only one person except that a policy may insure originally or by subsequent amendment upon the application of an adult head of a family who shall be deemed the policyholder any two or more eligible members of that family including wife dependent children or any children under a specified age which shall not exceed nineteen years and any other person dependent upon the policyholder and

(4) the style arrangement and over-all appearance of the policy give no undue prominence to any portion of the text and unless every printed portion of the text of the policy and of any endorsements or attached papers is plainly printed in light-faced type of a style in general use the size of which shall be uniform and not less than ten-point with a lower-case unspaced alphabet length not less than one hundred and twenty-point (the "text" shall include all printed matter except the name and address of the insurer name or title of the policy the brief description if any and captions and subcaptions) and

(5) the exceptions and reductions of indemnity are set forth in the policy and except those which are set forth in the policy and except those which are set forth in section six hundred eighteen of this act are printed at the insurer's option either included with the benefit provision to which they apply or under an appropriate caption such as "exceptions" or "exceptions and reductions" provided that if an exception or reduction specifically applies only to a particular benefit of the policy a statement of such exception or reduction shall be included with the benefit provision to which it applies and

(6) each such form including riders and endorsements shall be identified by a form number in the lower left-hand corner of the first page thereof and

(7) it contains no provision purporting to make any portion of the charter rules constitution or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion is set forth in full in the policy except in the case of the incorporation of or reference to a statement of rates or classification of risks or short-rate table filed with the commissioner and

(8) if such policy is entitled or referred to as "non-cancellable"

(9) if such policy is entitled or referred to as "non-cancellable" such "non-cancellable" policy is automatically renewable until age sixty upon payment of the required premiums by the insured.

(B) If any policy is issued by an insurer domiciled in this Commonwealth for delivery to a person residing in another state and if the official having responsibility for the administration of the insurance laws of such other state shall have advised the commissioner that any such policy is not subject to approval or disapproval by such official the commissioner may by ruling require that such policy meet the standards set forth in subsection (A) of this section and in section six hundred eighteen.

Section 618 Policy Provisions (A) Required Provisions Except as provided in paragraph (C) of this section each policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth shall contain the provisions specified in this subsection in the words in which the same appear in this section provided however that the insurer may at its option substitute for one or more of such provisions corresponding provisions of different wording approved by the commissioner which are in each instance not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary. Such provisions shall be preceded individually by the caption appearing in this sub-section or at the option of the insurer by such appropriate individual or group captions or sub-captions as the commissioner may approve.

(1) A provision as follows

Entire Contract Changes This policy including the endorsements and the attached papers if any constitutes the entire contract of insurance. No change in this policy shall be valid until approved by an executive officer of the insurer and unless such approval be endorsed hereon or attached hereto. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions.

(2) A provision as follows

Time Limit on Certain Defenses (a) After three years from the date of issue of this policy no misstatements except fraudulent misstatements made by the applicant in the application for such policy shall be used to void the policy or to deny a claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after the expiration of such three year period.

(The foregoing policy provision shall not be so construed as to affect any legal requirement for avoidance of a policy or denial of a claim during such initial three year period nor to limit the application of section six hundred eighteen (B) (1) (2) (3) (4) and (5) in the event of misstatement with respect to age or occupation or other insurance.)

(In a policy where the premiums are payable weekly the words "if such application is made a part of the policy" may be inserted in the foregoing policy provision between the word "policy" and the word "shall" immediately following)

(A policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premium (1) until at least age fifty or (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four for at least five years from its date of issue may contain in lieu of the foregoing the following provision (from which the clause in parentheses may be omitted at the insurer's option) under the caption "Incontestable" After this policy has been in force for a period of three years during the lifetime of the insured (excluding any period during which the insured is disabled) it shall become incontestable as to the statements contained in the application)

(b) No claim for loss incurred or disability (as defined in the policy) commencing after three years from the date of issue of this policy shall be reduced or denied on the ground that a disease or physical condition not excluded from coverage by name or specific description effective on the date of loss had existed prior to the effective date of coverage of this policy.

(In policies whereon the premiums are payable weekly the words "or from the date of any reinstatement thereof" may be inserted in the foregoing policy provision between the word "policy" and the word "shall" immediately following)

(3) A provision as follows

Grace Period A grace period of (insert a number not less than "7" for weekly premium policies "10" for monthly premium policies and "31" for all other policies) days will be granted for the payment of each premium falling due after the first premium during which grace period the policy shall continue in force.

(A policy which contains a cancellation provision may add at the end of the above provision "subject to the right of the insurer to cancel in accordance with the cancellation provision hereof")

(A policy in which the insurer reserves the right to refuse any renewal shall have at the beginning of the above provision "unless not less than five days prior to the premium due date the insurer has delivered to the insured or has mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer written notice of its intention not to renew this policy beyond the period for which the premium has been accepted")

(4) A provision as follows

Reinstatement If any renewal premium be not paid within the time granted the insured for payment a subsequent acceptance of premium by the insurer or by any agent duly authorized by the insurer to accept such premium without requiring in connection therewith an application for reinstatement shall reinstate the policy provided however that if the insurer or such agent requires an application for reinstatement and issues a conditional receipt for the premium tendered the policy will be reinstated upon approval of such application by the insurer or lacking such approval upon the forty-fifth day following the date of such conditional receipt unless the insurer has previously notified the insured in writing of its disapproval of such application. The reinstated policy shall cover only loss resulting from such accidental injury as may be sustained after the date of reinstatement and loss due to such sickness as may begin more than ten days after such date. In all other respects the insured and insurer shall have the same rights thereunder as they had under the policy immediately before the due date of the defaulted premium subject to any provisions endorsed hereon or attached hereto in connection with the reinstatement. Any premium accepted in connection with a reinstatement shall be applied to a period for which premium has not been previously paid but not to any period more than sixty days prior to the date of reinstatement. (The last sentence of the above provision may be omitted (a) from any policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age fifty or (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four for at least five years from the date of its issue and (b) from any policy on which the premiums are payable weekly)

(5) A provision as follows

Notice of Claim Written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the occurrence or commencement of any loss covered by the policy or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible. Notice given by or on behalf of the insured or the beneficiary to the insurer at (insert the location of such office as the insurer may designate for the purpose) or to any authorized agent of the insurer with information sufficient to identify the insured shall be deemed notice to the insurer.

(In a policy whereon the premiums are payable weekly the first sentence of the foregoing policy provision may read "written notice of claim must be given to the insurer within ten days of the commencement of any non-hospital confining sickness covered by the policy and within twenty days after the occurrence or commencement of any other loss covered by the policy or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible")

(In a policy providing a loss-of-time benefit which may be payable for at least two years an insurer may at its option insert the following between the first and second sentences of the above provision. Subject to the qualifications set forth below if the insured suffers loss of time on account of disability for which indemnity may be payable for at least two years he shall at least once in every six months after having given notice of claim give to the insurer notice of continuance of said disability except in the event of legal incapacity. The period of six months following any filing of proof by the insured or any payment by the insurer on account of such claim or any denial of liability in whole or in part by the insurer shall be excluded in applying this provision Delay in the giving of such notice shall not impair the insured's right to any indemnity which would otherwise have accrued during the period of six months preceding the date on which such notice is actually given)

(6) A provision as follows

Claim Forms The insurer upon receipt of a notice of claim will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss If such forms are not furnished within fifteen days after the giving of such notice the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss written proof covering the occurrence the character and the extent of the loss for which claim is made

(7) A provision as follows

Proofs of Loss Written proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment contingent upon continuing loss within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable and in case of claim for any other loss within ninety days after the date of such loss Failure to furnish such proof within the time required shall not invalidate nor reduce any claim if it was not reasonably possible to give proof within such time provided such proof is furnished as soon as reasonably possible and in no event except in the absence of legal capacity later than one year from the time proof is otherwise required

(8) A provision as follows

Time of Payment of Claims Indemnities payable under this policy for any loss other than loss for which this policy provides any periodic payment will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof of such loss Subject to due written proof of loss all accrued indemnities for loss for which this policy provides periodic payment will be paid (insert period for payment which must not be less frequently than monthly) and any balance remaining unpaid upon the termination of liability will be paid immediately upon receipt of due written proof

(9) A provision as follows

Payment of Claims Indemnity for loss of life will be payable in accordance with the beneficiary designation and the provisions respecting such payment which may be prescribed herein and effective at the time of payment If no such designation or provision is then effective such indemnity shall be payable to the estate of the insured Any other accrued indemnities unpaid at the insured's death may at the option of the insurer be paid either to such beneficiary or to such estate All other indemnities will be payable to the insured

(The following provisions or either of them may be included with the foregoing provision at the option of the insurer

If any indemnity of this policy shall be payable to the estate of the insured or to an insured or beneficiary who is a minor or otherwise not competent to give a valid release the insurer may pay such indemnity up to an amount not exceeding $..... (insert an amount which shall not exceed $1000) to any relative by blood or connection by marriage of the insured or beneficiary who is deemed by the insurer to be equitably entitled thereto Any payment made by the insurer in good faith pursuant to this provision shall fully discharge the insurer to the extent of such payment

Subject to any written direction of the insured in the application or otherwise all or a portion of any indemnities provided by this policy on account of hospital nursing medical or surgical services may at the insurer's option and unless the insured requests otherwise in writing not later than the time of filing proofs of such loss be paid directly to the hospital or person rendering such services but it is not required that the service be rendered by a particular hospital or person)

(10) A provision as follows

Physical Examinations and Autopsy The insurer at its own expense shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and as often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of a claim hereunder and to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law

(11) A provision as follows

Legal Actions No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after written proof of loss has been furnished in accordance with the requirements of this policy No such action shall be brought after the expiration of three years after the time written proof of loss is required to be furnished

(12) A provision as follows

Change of Beneficiary Unless the insured makes an irrevocable designation of beneficiary the right to change of beneficiary is reserved to the insured and the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy or to any change of beneficiary or beneficiaries or to any other changes in this policy

(The first clause of this provision relating to the irrevocable designation of beneficiary may be omitted at the insurer's option)

(B) Other Provisions Except as provided in paragraph

(C) of this section no such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth shall contain provisions respecting the matters set forth below unless such provisions are in the words in which the same appear in this section provided however that the insurer may at its option use in lieu of any such provision a corresponding provision of different wording approved by the commissioner which is not less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary Any such provision contained in the policy shall be preceded individually by the appropriate caption appearing in this subsection or at the option of the insurer by such appropriate individual or group captions or subcaptions as the commissioner may approve

(1) A provision as follows

Change of Occupation If the insured be injured or contract sickness after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in this policy or while doing for compensation anything pertaining to an occupation so classified the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in this policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rates and within the limits fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation If the insured changes his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in this policy the insurer upon receipt of proof of such change of occupation will reduce the premium rate accordingly and will return the excess pro-rata unearned premium from the date of change of occupation or from the policy anniversary date immediately preceding receipt of such proof whichever is the more recent In applying this provision the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be such as have been last filed by the insurer prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable or prior to date of proof of change in occupation with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided at the time this policy was issued but if such filing was not required then the classification of occupational risk and the premium rates shall be those last made effective by the insurer in such state prior to the occurrence of the loss or prior to the date of proof of change in occupation

(2) A provision as follows

Misstatement of Age If the age of the insured has been misstated all amounts payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age

(3) A provision as follows

Other Insurance in This Insurer If an accident or sickness or accident and sickness policy or policies previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith making the aggregate indemnity for (insert type of coverage or coverages) in excess of $..... (insert maximum limit of indemnity or indemnities) the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured or to his estate or in lieu thereof insurance effective at any one time on the insured under a like policy or policies in this insurer is limited to the one such policy elected by the insured his beneficiary or his estate as the case may be and the insurer will return all premiums paid for all other such policies

(4) A provision as follows

Insurance with Others Insurers If there be other valid coverage not with this insurer providing benefits for the same loss on a provision of service basis or on an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss the only liability under any expense incurred coverage of this policy shall be for such proportion of the loss as the amount which would otherwise have been payable hereunder plus the total of the like amounts under all such other valid coverages for the same loss of which this insurer had notice bears to the total like amounts under all valid coverages for such loss and for the return of such portion of the premiums paid as shall exceed the pro-rata portion for the amount so determined For the purpose of applying this provision when other coverage is on a provision of service basis the "like amount" of such other coverage shall be taken as the amount which the services rendered would have cost in the absence of such coverage

(If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the next following policy provision there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "Expense Incurred Benefits" The insurer may at its option include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage" approved as to form by the commissioner which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada and by hospital or medical service organizations and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner In the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance automobile medical payments insurance or coverage provided by hospital or medical service organization or by union welfare plans or employer or employee benefit organizations For the purpose of applying the foregoing policy provision with respect to any insured any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice In applying the foregoing policy provision no third party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage")

(5) A provision as follows

Insurance with Other Insurers If there be other valid coverage not with this insurer providing benefits for the same loss on other than an expense incurred basis and of which this insurer has not been given written notice prior to the occurrence or commencement of loss the only liability for such benefits under this policy shall be for such proportion of the indemnities otherwise provided hereunder for such loss as the like indemnities of which the insurer had notice (including the indemnities under this policy) bear to the total amount of all like indemnities for such loss and for the return of such portion of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro-rata portion for the indemnities thus determined

(If the foregoing policy provision is included in a policy which also contains the next preceding policy provision there shall be added to the caption of the foregoing provision the phrase "other benefits" The insurer may at its option include in this provision a definition of "other valid coverage" approved as to form by the commissioner which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada and to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner in the absence of such definition such term shall not include group insurance or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations For the purpose any amount of benefit provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) whether provided by a governmental agency or otherwise shall in all cases be deemed to be "other valid coverage" of which the insurer has had notice In applying the foregoing policy provision no third party liability coverage shall be included as "other valid coverage")

(6) A provision as follows

Relation of Earnings to Insurance If the total monthly amount of loss of time benefits promised for the same loss under all valid loss of time coverage upon the insured whether payable on a weekly or monthly basis shall exceed the monthly earnings of the insured at the time disability commenced or his average monthly earnings for the period of two years immediately preceding a disability for which claim is made whichever is the greater the insurer will be liable only for such proportionate amount of such benefits under this policy as the amount of such monthly earnings or such average monthly earnings of the insured bears to the total amount of monthly benefits for the same loss under all such coverage upon the insured at the time such disability commences and for the return of such part of the premiums paid during such two years as shall exceed the pro-rata amount of the premiums for the benefits actually paid hereunder but this shall not operate to reduce the total monthly amount of benefits payable under all such coverage upon the insured below the sum of two hundred dollars or the sum of the monthly benefits specified in such coverages whichever is the lesser nor shall it operate to reduce benefits other than those payable for loss of time

(The foregoing policy provision may be inserted only in a policy which the insured has the right to continue in force subject to its terms by the timely payment of premiums (1) until at least age fifty or (2) in the case of a policy issued after age forty-four for at least five years from its date of issue The insurer may at its option include in this provision a definition of "valid loss of time coverage" approved as to form by the commissioner which definition shall be limited in subject matter to coverage provided by governmental agencies or by organizations subject to regulation by insurance law or by insurance authorities of this or any other state of the United States or any province of Canada or to any other coverage the inclusion of which may be approved by the commissioner or any combination of such coverages In the absence of such definition such term shall not include any coverage provided for such insured pursuant to any compulsory benefit statute (including any workmen's compensation or employer's liability statute) or benefits provided by union welfare plans or by employer or employee benefit organizations

(7) A provision as follows

Unpaid Premium Upon the payment of a claim under this policy any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom

(8) A provision as follows

Cancellation The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address as shown by the records of the insurer stating when not less than five days thereafter such cancellation shall be effective and after the policy has been continued beyond its original term the insured may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered or mailed to the insurer effective upon receipt or on such later date as may be specified in such notice In the event of cancellation the insurer will return promptly the unearned portion of any premium paid If the insured cancels the earned premium shall be computed by the use of the short-rate table last filed with the state official having supervision of insurance in the state where the insured resided when the policy was issued If the insurer cancels

the earned premium shall be computed pro-rata Cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior to the effective date of cancellation

(9) A provision as follows

Conformity with State Statutes Any provision of this policy which on its effective date is in conflict with the statutes of the state in which the insured resides on such date is hereby amended to conform to the minimum requirements of such statutes

(10) A provision as follows

Illegal Occupation The insurer shall not be liable for any loss to which a contributing cause was the insured's commission of or attempt to commit a felony or to which a contributing cause was the insured's being engaged in an illegal occupation

(11) A provision as follows

Intoxicants and Narcotics The insurer shall not be liable for any loss sustained or contracted in consequence of the insured's being intoxicated or under the influence of any narcotic unless administered on the advice of a physician

(C) Inapplicable or Inconsistent Provisions If any provision of this section is in whole or in part inapplicable to or inconsistent with the coverage provided by a particular form of policy the insurer with the approval of the commissioner shall omit from such policy any inapplicable provision or part of a provision and shall modify any inconsistent provision or part of the provision in such manner as to make the provision as contained in the policy consistent with the coverage provided by the policy

(D) Order of Certain Policy Provisions The provisions which are the subject of subsections (A) and (B) of this section or any corresponding provisions which are used in lieu thereof in accordance with such subsections shall be printed in the consecutive order of the provisions in such subsections or at the option of the insurer any such provision may appear as a unit in any part of the policy with other provisions to which it may be logically related provided the resulting policy shall not be in whole or in part unintelligible uncertain ambiguous abstruse or likely to mislead a person to whom the policy is offered delivered or issued

(E) Third Party Ownership The word "insured" as used in this act shall not be construed as preventing a person other than the insured with a proper insurable interest from making application for and owning a policy covering the insured or from being entitled under such a policy to any indemnities benefits and rights provided therein

(F) Filing Procedure The commissioner may make such reasonable rules and regulations concerning the procedure for the filing or submission of policies subject to this act as are necessary proper or advisable to the administration of this act This provision shall not abridge any other authority granted the commissioner by law

Section 619 Age Limit If any such policy contains a provision establishing as an age limit or otherwise a date after which the coverage provided by the policy will not be effective and if such date falls within a period for which premium is accepted by the insurer or if the insurer accepts a premium after such date the coverage provided by the policy will continue in force subject to any right of cancellation until the end of the period for which premium has been accepted In the event the age of the insured has been misstated and if according to the correct age of the insured the coverage provided by the policy would not have become effective or would have ceased prior to the acceptance of such premium or premiums then the liability of the insurer shall be limited to the refund upon request of all premiums paid for the period not covered by the policy

Section 620 Requirements of Other Jurisdictions (1) Any policy of a foreign or alien insurer when delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth may contain any provision which is not less favorable to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions of this act and which is prescribed or required by the law of the state under which the insurer is organized

(2) Any policy of a domestic insurer may when issued for delivery in any other state or country contain any provisions permitted or required by the laws of such other state or country

Section 621 Conforming to Statute (A) Other Policy Provisions No policy provision which is not subject to section six hundred eighteen of this act shall make a policy or any portion thereof less favorable in any respect to the insured or the beneficiary than the provisions thereof which are subject to this act

(B) Policy Conflicting with This Act A policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth in violation of this act shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this act When any provision in a policy subject to this act is in conflict with any provision of this act the rights duties and obligations of the insurer the insured and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this act

Section 3 Said act is hereby amended by adding after Section 622 a new section to read as follows

Section 623 Application (A) The insured shall not be bound by any statement made in an application for a policy unless a copy of such application is attached to or endorsed on the policy when issued as a part thereof If any such policy delivered or issued for delivery to any person in this Commonwealth shall be reinstated or renewed and the insured or the beneficiary or assignee of such policy shall make written request to the insurer for a copy of the application if any for such reinstatement or renewal the insurer shall within fifteen days after the receipt of such request at its home office or any branch office of the insurer deliver or mail to the person making such request a copy of such application If such copy shall not be so delivered or mailed the insurer shall be precluded from introducing such application as evidence in any action or proceeding based upon or involving such policy or its reinstatement or renewal

(B) No alteration of any written application for any such policy shall be made by any person other than the applicant without his written consent except that insertions may be made by the insurer for administrative purposes only in such manner as to indicate clearly that such insertions are not to be ascribed to the applicant

Section 625 Policies Unlawfully Issued A policy issued in violation of subsection (b) of this article shall be held valid but shall be construed as provided herein and when any provision in such a policy is in conflict with any said provision such provision so conflicting shall be invalid and the policy shall be deemed to contain all of the required provisions

Section 5 Subsections (a) and (d) of Section 629 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 678) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 629 Limitations

L. 1368) entitled "An act amending revising and consolidating the laws relating to delinquent county city except of the first and second class and second class A borough town township school district except of the first class and school districts within cities of the second class A and institution district taxes providing when how and upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for such taxes the return and entering of claims therefor the collection and adjudication of such claims sales of real property including seated and unseated lands subject to the lien of such tax claims the disposition of the proceeds thereof including State taxes and municipal claims recovered and the redemption of property providing for the discharge and divestiture by certain tax sales of all estates in property and of mortgages and liens on such property and the proceedings therefor creating a Tax Claim Bureau in each county except a county of the first class to act as agent for taxing districts defining its powers and duties including sales of property the management of property taken in sequestration and the management sale and disposition of property heretofore sold to the county commissioners taxing districts and trustees at tax sales providing a method for the service of process and notices imposing duties on taxing districts and their officers and on tax collectors and certain expenses on counties and for their reimbursement by taxing districts and repealing existing laws" by giving municipal claims equal priority with taxes in the distribution of certain moneys recovered under the provisions of said act

Section 1 Sections two hundred five three hundred one and three hundred four of the act approved the seventh day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1368) entitled "An act amending revising and consolidating the laws relating to delinquent county city except of the first and second class and second class A borough town township school district except of the first class and school districts within cities of the second class A and institution district taxes providing when how and upon what property and to what extent liens shall be allowed for such taxes the return and entering of claims therefor the collection and adjudication of such claims sales of real property including seated and unseated lands subject to the lien of such tax claims the disposition of the proceeds thereof including State taxes and municipal claims recovered and the redemption of property providing for the discharge and divestiture by certain tax sales of all estates in property and of mortgages and liens on such property and the proceedings therefor creating a Tax Claim Bureau in each county except a county of the first class to act as agent for taxing districts defining its powers and duties including sales of property the management of property taken in sequestration and the management sale and disposition of property heretofore sold to the county commissioners taxing districts and trustees at tax sales providing a method for the service of process and notices imposing duties on taxing districts and their officers and on tax collectors and certain expenses on counties and for their reimbursement by taxing districts and repealing existing laws" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 205 System of Accounting and Payment Over In each county bureau a system of accounting certifying of claims and collections and payment over of all moneys collected or received under the provisions of this act between the bureau and the county treasurer shall be established in the bureau as may be determined by the county commissioners the county controller if any and county treasurer

All taxes and municipal claims recovered in full by the bureau or by the county treasurer under the provisions of this act whether by payment by the owner before sale payment by a purchaser who has bid the upset price at a sale by redemption or through sequestration shall be paid over to the taxing districts entitled thereto When through sequestration less than the full amount of taxes is recovered the net amount so recovered shall be paid over to the respective taxing districts in proportion to the taxes due them In all other cases including net moneys received through [sequestration or from] the management or through public or private sale of property the moneys received shall be paid over first to the respective taxing districts in proportion to the taxes [due them second the] and municipal claims against such property [due any taxing district third] owing to such districts second mortgages and other liens in order of their priority and [fourth] third except in cases of property purchased by a taxing district prior to the effective date of this act and turned over to the bureau for sale the balance remaining shall be paid to the owner of the property sold. Such payments shall in all cases be less the percentage to which the county is entitled in accordance with this act. Provided however That where by the sale or redemption of property tax liens of the Commonwealth are recovered payment shall first be made of the tax liens of the Commonwealth to the State Treasurer through the Department of Revenue and in the case of the public or private sale of property by the bureau after the continuance of a former sale because of insufficient bid the purchase price received shall first be applied to the satisfaction of the tax liens of the Commonwealth and shall be paid over in like manner.

Moneys recovered on account of costs fees and expenses advanced by the county or any taxing district shall be repaid to the taxing district making the advance.

The bureau shall keep an accurate account of all moneys received by it or by the county treasurer under the provisions of this act and a separate account for each property.

All payments out of moneys recovered shall be made by the county treasurer under the system of accounting established at stated intervals but not less frequently than once every three (3) months.

Section 301 Taxes a First Lien All taxes which may hereafter be lawfully levied on property in this Commonwealth by any taxing district and all taxes heretofore lawfully levied by any taxing district on any property the lien of which has not been lost under existing laws (whether or not a claim has been filed or return thereof has been made to the county commissioners) shall be and are hereby declared to be a first lien on said property. Such liens shall have priority to and be fully paid and satisfied out of the proceeds of any public sale of said property held under the provisions of this act before any mortgage obligation judgment claim lien or estate with which the said property may have or shall become charged or for which it may become liable save and except only (1) the costs of the sale and of the proceedings upon which it is made and tax liens in favor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which shall have priority to such tax liens and (2) municipal claims which shall have equal priority with such tax liens.

Section 304 Tax Liens and Municipal Claims Divested by Sale The lien of all taxes and municipal claims now or hereafter imposed levied or assessed against any property shall be divested by any public sale of such property under the provisions of this act if the amount of the purchase money shall be at least equal to the amount of prior tax liens of the Commonwealth the amount of all taxes and municipal claims due on such property and costs of sale.

It is hereby made the duty of the bureau and of any other officer having claims or judgments for taxes and municipal claims for collection against any property advertised to be sold at public sale under the provisions of this act to give notice to the officer or person selling any such property of the amount of tax liens of the Commonwealth and of the amount of all taxes and municipal claims against the same and the bureau selling such property shall through the county treasurer pay out the proceeds arising from such sale in the order of their priority first the costs of sale and the proceedings upon which it is made second the tax liens of the Commonwealth third taxes and [costs due thereon fourth] municipal claims and costs due thereon and [fifth] fourth any balance remaining to whomsoever entitled thereto.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 569, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 129) entitled "An act to empower boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund to take property in trust therefor and regulating and providing for the regulation of the same" by providing a method of paying service increments from the retirement fund in cities of the first class to members of the police force after retirement

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 129) entitled "An act to empower boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund to take property in trust therefor and regulating and providing for the regulation of the same" as last amended by the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 2795) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the several cities of this Commonwealth incorporated by general or special laws establish by ordinance a police retirement fund to be maintained by an equal and proportionate monthly charge against each member of the police force which shall not exceed annually three and one-half per centum of the pay of such member and by annual appropriations made by the city which fund shall be under the direction of councils or committed to the direction of such officers of the city as may be designated by councils and applied under such regulations as councils may by ordinance prescribe for the benefit of such members of the police force as shall receive honorable discharge therefrom by reason of age or disability and the families of such as may be injured or killed in the service but such retirement allowances as shall be made to those who are retired by reason of the disabilities or age shall be in conformity with a uniform scale

The annual appropriation made by the city each year shall be sufficient when added to the contributions made by members of the police force during such year and income from investments to pay in full the retirement allowances and in cities of the first class only the service increments payable during such year

Such ordinance may prescribe a minimum period of continuous service not less than twenty years and a minimum age of fifty years after which members of the force may be retired from active duty and such members as are retired shall be subject to service from time to time as a police reserve until unfitted for such service when they may be finally discharged by reason of age or disability

Payments made under the provisions of this section shall not be a charge on any other fund in the treasury of the city or under its control save the police retirement fund herein provided for The basis of the apportionment of the retirement allowance shall be determined by the rate of the monthly pay of the member at the date of death honorable discharge or retirement and shall not in any case exceed in any year one-half the annual pay of such member computed at such monthly rate

Section 2 Said act is hereby further amended by adding thereto after section one a new section to read as follows

Section 1.1 In every city of the first class in addition to the retirement allowance which is authorized by this act and notwithstanding the limitations therein placed upon retirement allowances and upon contributions every contributor who shall become entitled to the retirement allowance and who has reached the age of fifty years shall also be entitled to the payment of a "service increment" in accordance with and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth

(1) Service increment shall be the sum obtained by computing the number of whole years after having reached the age of fifty during which a contributor has been employed by such city and paid out of the city treasury and multiplying the said number of years so computed by an amount equal to one-fortieth of the retirement allowance which has become payable to such contributor in accordance with the provisions of this act In computing the service increment no employment after the contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years shall be included and no service increment shall be paid in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per month

(2) Each contributor from and after the effective date of this amendment shall pay into the retirement fund a monthly sum in addition to his or her retirement contribution which shall be equal to one-half of one per centum of his or her salary Provided That such payment shall not exceed the sum of one dollar ($1.00) per month And provided That such service increment contributions shall not be paid after a contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years

(3) Persons who are contributors on the effective date of this amendment who have already reached the age of sixty-five years shall have his or her service increment computed on the years of employment prior to the date of reaching his or her sixty-fifth birthday

(4) Service increment contributions shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as retirement contributions and may be withdrawn in full without interest by persons who leave the employment of such city subject to the same conditions by which retirement contributions may be withdrawn When any person is re-employed by the city after withdrawal of retirement contributions his or her prior service shall not be used in the computation of service increment unless the amount of such contributions be repaid into the retirement fund subject to the same conditions by which retirement fund withdrawals are permitted to be repaid

(5) All employees of such city who are now contributors to the retirement fund and all persons who are employed by such city after the effective date of this amendment who are required to become contributors to the retirement fund shall be subject to the provisions of this section

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 647, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 4 to amend subsection (d) of Section 4.1 to add Sections 4.2 and 4.3 and to amend paragraph (1) of Section 14 of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and all county or other public employees if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by clarifying the amount of contributions by certain pensioners and the method of computing lesser pensions changing date of completing certain payments and the age to which pension increments may be computed fixing minimum pensions and providing benefits for surviving spouse

Section 1 Section 4 of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and all county or other public employees if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as last amended by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 852) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive a pension from the fund set aside for the purpose of fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average rate of pay at which he or she was employed during the highest salaried five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension shall be paid in monthly payments Provided That if any person be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the pension fund as herein provided during a period of twenty years such person shall be required to pay into the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to [two] four per centum of his or her pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of sixty years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to a pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of sixty years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of sixty years Should any employee however become totally and permanently disabled while in the service after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of sixty years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employee is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office Provided That in cases where the nature of such disability is such as to disable the employee from performing any work whatsoever either within or without the scope of his regular duties or within or without the service of such city or county the board may upon a recommendation of the three practicing physicians herein provided for retire upon pension such applicant after a service of fifteen years Provided further That the benefits of this amendment shall apply to members of the pension fund who have been contributors to the said fund for five years or more the pension paid to any one employee whose monthly payments into the pension fund have been four dollars or less a month shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month The pension paid to any one employee whose monthly payment into the pension fund have been more than four dollars a month for a period of at least two years may exceed one hundred dollars per month but shall not exceed two hundred dollars per month Provided That if an employee upon the date of retirement from service shall have made payments of more than four dollars a month into the pension fund for a period of less than two years his or her pension shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month but an amount equal to the total amount paid in excess over four dollars a month shall be returned to such employee

The pension to be paid to any former employee who was dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner was deprived of his position and employment after having twenty years of service as an employee of said city and who has continued making payments to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service and who has not accepted any pension under the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment shall be at the pension rate as provided in section five and his payments to the board of pensions after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five shall be in an amount equal to the amount which he would have been permitted to make had he continued in the employ of said city after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five and had continued to be paid the same salary as he received when he was last employed by said city This new amount whether it be more less or the same as the amount which he paid prior to the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five he shall continue to pay until he applies for a pension under the provisions of this act If there be any difference between the amount which he has paid from the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five and the amount which he has elected to pay under the provisions of section five he shall pay such difference into the board of pensions [within six months of the effective date of this amendment] on or before the first day of December one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

Section 2 Subsection (d) of Section 4.1 of said act as added thereto by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 845) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4.1

(d) Every such lesser pension shall be proportionate to the pension which the employee would be entitled to receive after twenty years of service and contribution computed as if he had continued to receive during the remainder of the twenty years the [same salary as the the time of the termination of his active service] average rate of pay at which he was employed during the highest salaried five years of his active service as his number of months of service is to two hundred forty-months

Section 3 Sections 4.2 and 4.3 are hereby added to said act to read as follows

Section 4.2 In no event shall the pension hereafter payable after twenty (20) years of service be less than seventy-five dollars ($75.00) a month as after fifteen (15) years and less than twenty (20) years of service be less than sixty dollars ($60.00) a month to any person now or hereafter entitled to a pension under the provisions of this act

Section 4.3 Any married person retiring under the provisions of this act shall at the time of his or her retirement receive the pension provided by this act during his or her lifetime and a pension after his or her death payable to his or her surviving spouse at the time of retirement equal to fifty per centum of his or her pension Provided That such person so retiring shall have been married to his or her spouse for not less than five years prior to the date of retirement and the spouse is dependent upon such deceased employee at the time of his or her death

The pension to be paid to such surviving spouse shall begin on the first day of the month in which the death of the deceased spouse occurs on the first day of the month following the surviving spouse's attainment of the age of fifty-five whichever is the later and shall continue to and terminate upon the death of such surviving spouse unless such surviving spouse shall remarry in which event the payment of his or her survivor's pension shall thereupon be terminated

The word "pension" as used in this section shall be construed to mean the sum of the pension provided by this act plus the amount of service increment if any to which the married person retiring under the provisions of this act shall be entitled

Section 4 Paragraph (1) of Section 14 of said act as added thereto by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 852) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 14 In addition to the pension which is authorized by this act and notwithstanding the limitations therein placed upon pensions and upon contributions every contributor who shall become entitled to the payment of a pension and who has been employed by the said city or county for at least twenty-one years shall also be entitled to the payment in addition to the said pension of a "service increment" in accordance with and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth

(1) Service increment shall be the sum obtained by computing the number of whole years in excess of twenty years during which a contributor has been employed by such city or county and paid out of the city treasury and multiplying the said number of years so computed by an amount equal to one-fortieth of the pension which has become payable to such contributor in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided That no service increment may be paid for employment of more than twenty such excess years nor for any excess years which shall accrue after a contributor has reached the age of [sixty-five] seventy years and no service increment shall be paid in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per month

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 77

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee on Conference on Senate Bill No. 77, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 319 of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 736) entitled as amended "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder and prescribing penalties" by changing the employer's right of subrogation.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there are a few items I would like to mention for the information of the gentleman of the Senate.

Mr. President, due to the necessity for passing an appropriation bill for the Department of Public Assistance so that they can continue to function as of June 1st, it will be necessary to request the gentlemen of the Senate to have a five-day Session this week. The bill has just been reported from the House Committee on Appropriations and it will, therefore, be necessary for us to stand by to pass the bill on Friday. The bill is House Bill No. 1281; reference can be made to the bill in the House History.

Second—Mr. President, I want to call the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate to the fact that we are going to convene tomorrow at eleven-thirty a. m. in order to expedite the tasks at the desk and so that the reports of committees and the introduction of bills can be expedited. Then we will recess for a couple of hours before we take up the Calendar in order to permit the Republican and Democratic Parties to caucus, so that when we make the motion for adjournment today, it will be made until eleven-thirty tomorrow.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, May 22, 1951, at 10:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:29 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, May 22, 1951, at 10:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, May 21, 1951.

The House met at 3:30 p. m., EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend John Yates, guest Chaplain, Minister of the Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Our Lord and our God, we stand before Thee seeking Thy blessing. Grant to this Legislative Assembly Thy guidance. Grant to these Members wisdom, understanding, and a firm determination to work for the good of all the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. In Christ's name we ask this. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, May 16, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

By Messrs. McMILLEN and HELM.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 47

In the House of Representatives, May 16, 1951.

Whereas, The first-aid room established and maintained in the Main Capitol Building pursuant to Concurrent Resolution No. 6, approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1851) has proven to be a necessary and successful venture from its inception; and

Whereas, The constant and varied demands made upon the facilities of the first-aid room during the four years of its existence indicate that if the project is to continue to operate at its present location, remodeling and furnishing of the room is essential for the rendering of adequate and proper services by its highly competent personnel; now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Department of Property and Supplies is hereby directed to remodel the first-aid room in the Main Capitol Building, which shall include the erection of partitions therein to afford privacy, and its equipment with additional needed supplies and to furnish the necessary labor and supplies to effectuate such remodeling and refurnishing in order that the facilities thereof will be adequate to enable the rendering of complete and proper first-aid services.

RESOLUTION

INVITING DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1951.

Whereas, Philadelphia is truly a national shrine where our American liberty was conceived and attained,

Whereas, Philadelphia is intimately identified with the early beginning of a colonial era in which the qualities of tolerance, good will and peaceful living were dominant factors,

Whereas, Philadelphia has developed from said colonial background in to a great metropolitan area in which there are excellent facilities for transporting, housing and feeding thousands of visitors.

Whereas, Philadelphia offers attractive rewards in culture, art, recreation, and entertainment to its many visitors who would seek esthetic enjoyment and healthful relaxation,

Whereas, Philadelphia has become by virtue of its geographical site and historical distinction a Mecca for all who would re-invigorate their American creed at the fountain head of democratic ideal and inspiration; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) extend its most cordial invitation to the Democratic National Committee at Denver to hold their 1952 convention for the nomination of president and vice-president in the City of Philadelphia, and express its assurance that every facility and comfort shall be available for the delegates in the efficient discharge of their duties.

And be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit, by telegraph, a copy of this resolution to Mr. William Boyle, Democratic National Chairman, Denver, Colorado.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SPECIAL ORDERS—HOUSE BILLS 847-848

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL 513

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 16, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 513, Printer's No. 179, entitled "An act to amend section 2 of the act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-five (P. L. 1340) entitled 'An act relating to the financial responsibility of operators and owners of motor vehicles and to make uniform the law with reference thereto requiring owners and operators in certain cases to furnish proof of financial responsibility providing for the suspension of operator's licenses and motor vehicle registration certificates in certain cases regulating insurance policies which may be accepted as proof of financial responsibility imposing duties upon the Secretary of Revenue the State Treasurer and prothonotaries and prescribing penalties' by providing that certain appeals may be taken to the court of common pleas of the county in which the aggrieved person resides."

This bill proposes to amend Section two of the Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Act by, inter alia, eliminating the exclusive jurisdiction of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County of appeals from orders issued by the Secretary of Revenue in the administration of the act and conferring jurisdiction upon the Court of common pleas of the county in which the party affected thereby resides.

I am informed by the Department of Revenue and the Department of Justice that the existing law has the material advantage of uniformity of interpretation and application of the act and the elimination of administrative burdens incidental to litigation in the several common pleas courts. It has functioned well and no substantial reason is apparent for the alteration which this bill would work. Indeed, the public interest dictates the continuation of the existing law.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WOOD asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to increase the debt limit of the city of Philadelphia

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities and County—First Class.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 829, as follows:

An Act to amend clause (b) of Section 1 of the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1183) entitled "An act relating to strikes by public employes prohibiting such strikes providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment providing for reinstatement under certain conditions providing for a grievance procedure and providing for hearings before civil service and tenure authorities and in certain cases before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board" by requiring panel to be set up within five days after the receipt of a request therefor

Section 1 Clause (b) of Section 1 of the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1183) entitled "An act relating to strikes by public employes prohibiting such strikes providing that such employes by striking terminate their employment providing for reinstatement under certain conditions providing for a grievance procedure and providing for hearings before civil service and tenure authorities and in certain cases before the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 As used in this act

(b) The word "strike" means the failure to report for duty the wilful absence from one's position the stoppage of work or the abstinence in whole or in part from the full faithful and proper performance of the duties of employment for the purpose of inducing influencing or coercing a change in the conditions or compensation or the rights privileges or obligations of employment Provided however That nothing contained in this act shall be construed to limit impair or affect the right of any public employe to the expression or communication of a view grievance complaint or opinion on any matter related to the conditions or compensation of public employment or the betterment thereof so long as the same is not designed to and does not interfere with the full faithful and proper performance of the duties of employment nor to limit impair or affect the right of any such employe to attend meetings conferences or hearings relating to such matters so long as such attendance is not designed to interfere with the full faithful and proper performance of the duties of employment for the further purpose of equitably carrying out the provisions of this act In order to avoid or minimize any possible controversies by making available full and adequate governmental facilities for the adjustment of grievances the governmental agency involved at the request of the public employes shall set up within five days after the receipt of such request a panel of three members one to be selected by the employes one by the governmental agency and the two so selected to select a third member The members of the panel shall be compensated for all necessary expenses by the Commonwealth or the political subdivision thereof or the authority involved The panel shall meet within fifteen (15) days If the grievance can be adjusted through negotiation and informal conferences between the various parties it shall be so adjusted if the conference negotiations do not result in rulings satisfactory to all parties concerned the panel shall afford the public employes and the governmental agency a full hearing after which the panel shall make their findings copy of which shall be sent to the Governor to the General Assembly and to the head of the agency or political subdivision involved Upon receipt of the findings of the panel the Governor or the head of the State agency or political subdivision involved may take administrative measures to remedy the complaints If the Governor or the head of the State agency or political subdivision finds that the situation complained of can only be remedied by legislative action the Governor may refer the matter to the Legislature for correction or the head of the State agency or political subdivision may refer the matter to the proper law-making body If the members of the panel decide that legal counsel is necessary they may with the approval of the Attorney General engage local counsel to advise them on the questions involved

Provided however That in the case of grievances or controversies involving employes of the public school system of the Commonwealth the school board or Board of Public Education at the request of the employes shall set up a panel of three members one an employe of the school district to be selected by the employes one a member of the board of school directors or Board of Public Education to be selected by such body and the third shall be the State Superintendent of Public Instruction or his nominee The members of the panel shall serve without compensation but shall receive all necessary traveling expenses which shall be paid by the school district or Board of Public Education involved

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 897, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 7 of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" by further prescribing the effect of a sale where written notice thereof is not given as required by the act

Section 1 Section 7 of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" as amended by the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 498) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 7 The county treasurer shall advertise the fact of holding such sale once a week for the three successive weeks prior to the holding of such sale in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county in which such seated land is located if there be two newspapers so published if there be only one then in such newspaper so published in the county

Such advertisement shall set forth

- (a) The purpose of such sale
- (b) The time of such sale
- (c) The place of such sale
- (d) The terms of such sale
- (e) A list of the seated lands affected and their location and the owner or reputed owner of each
- (f) Amount of taxes and interest

In addition to such advertisement at least ten days before any such sale written notice thereof shall be served by the county treasurer by registered mail upon the owner of such land and if the whereabouts of the owner is unknown such notice shall be served by registered mail upon the terre tenant if any Provided however That no such sale shall be prejudiced or defeated and no title to property sold at such sale shall be invalidated by proof that such written notice was not [served by the treasurer or that such notice was not] received by the owner or terre tenant as herein provided

The cost of such advertisement notices and the service thereof shall be taxed as part of the costs of such proceedings and shall be paid the same as the other costs

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 152, as follows:

An Act to amend Sections 15 and 17 of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 715) entitled "An act empowering authorizing and directing the Secretary of Highways to acquire toll bridges located wholly within Pennsylvania providing the procedure therefor and prescribing certain duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to be exercised in connection therewith conferring jurisdiction in condemnation proceedings on certain courts of common pleas authorizing the Secretary of Highways to enter into agreements with a state authority or agency for the acquisition of such toll bridges providing for the operation of such bridges as toll bridges after acquisition providing a plan for making such bridges free bridges under certain terms and conditions and for their control and maintenance after acquisition and making an appropriation" by authorizing the Secretary of Highways to procure and pay for certain insurance for bridges acquired under the provisions of said act and providing for the assignment of route numbers to such bridges The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section Fifteen and Seventeen of the act approved the twenty-second day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 715) entitled "An act empowering authorizing and directing the Secretary of Highways to acquire toll bridges located wholly within Pennsylvania providing the procedure therefor and prescribing certain duties of the Governor the Auditor General and the State Treasurer to be exercised in connection therewith conferring jurisdiction in condemnation proceedings on certain courts of common pleas authorizing the Secretary of Highways to enter into agreements with a State authority or agency for the acquisition of such toll bridges providing for the operation of such bridges as toll bridges after acquisition providing a plan for making such bridges free bridges under certain terms and conditions and for their control and maintenance after acquisition and making an appropriation" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 15 The Secretary of Highways upon acquiring any such toll bridge is hereby directed to continue the collection of tolls and charges on such bridge or bridges or reconstructed bridges until the Commonwealth has been reimbursed to the full extent of the original cost of acquiring such bridge together with such interest thereon as shall have been expended by the Commonwealth and the cost of compensation of toll collectors and the cost of any insurance procured for such bridge All tolls and charges collected by the Secretary of Highways shall be paid into the Toll Bridge Fund and the salaries of toll collectors and any insurance premiums shall be paid therefrom on requisition of the Secretary of Highways Whenever the tolls collected from such bridge after deduction of all moneys expended for the cost of compensation of toll collectors and costs of insurance shall have become sufficient to reimburse the Commonwealth in full for the cost of acquiring such bridge with interest thereon as aforesaid then such bridge shall become and be thereafter a free bridge Provided however That any such bridge shall be maintained as a free bridge and the collection of tolls thereon shall cease if at any time the legislature shall provide for the payment out of the General Fund or from the Motor License Fund if authorized by constitutional amendment of all interest and sinking fund charges of any bonds issued for the acquisition of such bridge The Secretary of Highways is hereby authorized to adjust readjust and fix from time to time the amount of tolls and charges on such bridge as may be acquired under the provisions of this act for the purpose of paying the interest and sinking fund charges on bonds issued for the purpose of acquisition

Section 17 Whenever any such bridge is acquired by the Commonwealth as hereinbefore provided it shall be a part of the system of State highways and be designated by a number to be assigned by the Secretary of Highways and shall be under the control of the Department of Highways and shall be thereafter maintained kept in repair and rebuilt by the Department of Highways in accordance with the law relating to the State highways and bridges The Secretary of Highways in his discretion may procure insurance upon such bridge for protection against destruction of or damage to such bridge in such amounts not exceeding actual value of such bridge as he shall deem necessary until such bridge becomes a free bridge The Department of Highways shall take over and succeed to all agreements with public service companies or other persons for the use and occupancy of such bridges by the facilities of such companies such use and occupancy to be governed by the law relating to the issuance of occupancy permits on bridges under the jurisdiction of the Department of Highways

The Department of Highways may take over and succeed to any agreement in effect at the time of the acquisition of any toll bridge providing for easements and licenses in respect of such bridge which in the opinion of the Secretary of Highways will not materially interfere with the use and operation of such bridge as a thoroughfare

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for House Bill No. 1280 to be read for the first time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for House Bill No. 1280 to be read for the first time? Is there objection?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the amount carried by this bill?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman the amount carried is $9 million.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, we have no objection to giving appropriation bills first reading and speedy action.

Indeed, we would welcome the opportunity to give first reading to the administration's entire fiscal program, if it has one.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection, and consent is granted.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1280, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the State Treasurer for the purpose of paying salaries and wages of State Officers and employes in the interim between the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and such time as the funds provided by the General Appropriation Act become available.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance and providing for certain allocations therefrom for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

SENATE MESSAGES

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, May 21, 1951.

Whereas, Philadelphia is truly a national shrine where our American liberty was conceived and attained,

Whereas, Philadelphia is intimately identified with the early beginning of a colonial era in which the qualities of tolerance, good will and peaceful living were dominant factors,

Whereas, Philadelphia has developed from said colonial background into a great metropolitan area in which there are excellent facilities for transporting, housing and feeding thousands of visitors,

Whereas, Philadelphia offers attractive rewards in culture, art, recreation, and entertainment to its many visitors who would seek esthetic enjoyment and healthful relaxation,

Whereas, Philadelphia has become by virtue of its geographical site and historical distinction a Mecca for all who would re-invigorate their American creed at the fountain head of democratic ideal and inspiration; therefore be it

Resolved, that this House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) extend its most cordial invitation to the Democratic National Committee at Denver to hold their 1952 convention for the nomination of president and vice-president in the City of Philadelphia, and express its assurance that every facility and comfort shall be available for the delegates in the efficient discharge of their duties

And be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmit, by telegraph, a copy of this resolution to Mr. William Boyle, Democratic National Chairman, Denver, Colorado.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, May 21, 1951.

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), that when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 4, 1951, at two o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, June 4, 1951 at three-thirty o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, it has for some time been my thought that what this General Assembly needed, and what this administration needed was a quiet interval in which to do some prayerful meditation, meditation that might lead to determination. Therefore, personally I have welcomed the resolution that has just passed this House which previously passed the Senate.

I believe with a week in which the leaders of this august body have had an opportunity to collect and collate their thoughts; a week during which the administration can re-orient its thinking—perhaps begin to think in longer terms; to realize that time does not end in June but it extends on for months and months and months, that action concerning legislation, needed legislation, is always possible under our Constitutional set-up.

So, Mr. Speaker, it is my mature conclusion that with this week devoted to prayer and meditation, and I emphasize prayer, because there should be some re-orientation of intent, that with that opportunity for thinking, it will be possible for us, this body, this General Assembly, to re-assemble and in a period of two weeks pass all of the legislation that is necessary to be passed at this time, deferring to a subsequent occasion such legislation as may not have been included in our immediate program.

Therefore, in line with that thought, I am presenting a sine die resolution providing that the General Assembly adjourn sine die on June 15th 1951 at 5:00 o'clock p. m.

The SPEAKER. Under the Rules of the House the resolution will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I can partially agree with the gentleman on the other side. But, I do not believe that the prayers need be offered and the thinking be done by him or us as much as by some of the other sections of this General Assembly.

I would suggest that the gentleman, if he is going to do any praying, consider the higher House. I am afraid that they need the prayers a lot more than we do.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the gentleman from Philadelphia being a trained parliamentarian recognizes the constitutional impropriety of any Member of this House referring to the other chamber of this General Assembly except in terms that refer to it as a sacrosanct body.

I am quite sure that one of the ways to make a balky horse go is to put a burr under its tail, and I would ask the gentleman whether he does not believe that if the august upper chamber,—if you call it an upper chamber,—knew that it had a definite terminal date, it too would not get down to action?

If permissible under the rules to say over in the other chamber they have many rich men to whom time and money are of little consequence, so they can stay here all summer, I suggest to the gentleman that the only way to get action of the sort he would like to have is to let it be known that as far as we are concerned there is a goal toward which we are tending as far as final adjournment is concerned.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, again I agree with the gentleman, but I might also suggest a far more practical way.

We could easily turn off the air conditioning in the other House. I am sure in August or in July, if the air conditioning is turned off it will affect them far more than prayers will affect them.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE MILL No. 77

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 77.

The SPEAKER. This being a Senate Bill, the report will lie over for printing by the Senate.

SENATE MESSAGES

SENATE

TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1951.

The Senate met at 10:30 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT L. CURRY, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, St. Clair, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Father, in this busy day we pause for a moment to speak with You for there is no other help we know. Be kind to us who blunder and fool around doing small things, for we are ashamed, O Lord, and grow weary of our many failures. Deep within us, Father, we want to do the right things. We do love life and we all want to live.

When our minds become irritable and our tempers catch on fire, grant us a portion of Heaven's patience. When we would be quick to condemn each other and fast to criticize, teach us the Jesus way of being slow to anger. And when things go wrong and we want to find the fault in everyone else but ourselves, cause us to look in a mirror and see there the beam in our own eyes.

Father, most of us know what we ought to do, the trouble is we find it hard to do it. Father, You are our only hope. In general, we live in a cynical and discouraged world. We have little faith in our leaders and we doubt the power of bombs to save us. O Lord, let us then trust in Thee, and with that trust and faith we can sing even when it rains. These men who lead our State, bless them. For as they serve with no thought for reward or power and no selfish thought for position, they serve Thee, O Lord. And when they serve Thee, no greater service can be performed. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. WATSON, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair calls to the rostrum the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, to preside.

The PRESIDING OFFICER (James S. Berger) in the Chair.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 11, as follows:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" authorizing investments in common stocks meeting certain qualifications and eliminating the requirement that stock must be listed on an exchange as to the stock of banks and insurance companies

Section 1 Subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 Stocks

(a) Preferred and Common Stock Preferred and common stock of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any commonwealth or state thereof or of the District of Columbia shall be an authorized investment if

(1) purchased in the exercise of that degree of judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of prudence discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds considering the probable income to be derived therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital

(2) in the case of preferred stock the corporation issuing the stock has earned a net profit in eight of the preceding ten fiscal years as reflected in its statements and during each of the preceding ten fiscal years has paid dividends in the specified amounts upon all its preferred stock if any outstanding during such year [and]

(3) in the case of common stock the corporation issuing the stock has earned a net profit in twelve of the preceding fifteen fiscal years as reflected in its statements and during each of the preceding fifteen fiscal years has paid dividends in the specified amounts upon all its preferred stock if any outstanding during said year and in each of at least twelve of the preceding fifteen fiscal years has paid dividends in some amount upon all its common stock if any outstanding during such year

(4) in the case of any stock other than stock of a bank or insurance company the stock is listed or traded (or if unlisted or not entitled to trading privileges shall be eligible for listing and application for such listing shall have been made) on the New York Stock Exchange or any other exchange approved by the Secretary of Banking

No investment in common stock shall be made at this time would cause the market value of the investments in common stocks to exceed one third of the market value of the estate not including in such market value the value of any participation in a common trust fund No sale or other liquidation of any investment shall be required solely because of any change in market values whereby the percentages of stocks hereinabove set forth exceeded In determining the market value of a trust fund a fiduciary may rely upon published market quotations as to those investments for which such quotations are available and upon such valuations of other property as in his best judgment seem fair and reasonable according to available information

When a corporation has acquired a substantial part of its property within ten years immediately preceding the investment by consolidation or merger or by the purchase of a substantial part of the property of any other corporation or corporations the earnings of the predecessor or constituent corporations shall be consolidated so as to ascertain whether the requirements of this section have been satisfied

"Corporation" as used in this section shall include a voluntary association a joint-stock association or company a business trust a Massachusetts trust a common-law trust and any other organization organized and existing for any lawful purpose and which like a corporation continues to exist notwithstanding changes in the personnel of its members or participants and conducts its affairs through a committee a board or some other group acting in a representative capacity

And said bill having been read at length the third time, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. It is a pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. I understand that there are two bills covering the same subject matter, Senate Bill No. 11, and Senate Bill No. 636, with this variation, that Senate Bill No. 636 permits investments in open end and closed end trusts.

Now, if Senate Bill No. 11 is acted on favorably by this Senate, does that mean that Senate Bill No. 636 is out?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the answer is "no."

Mr. SILVERT. Thank you.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 636, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend subsection (a) of Section 9 of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" authorizing investments in common stocks and similar securities of unincorporated associations meetings certain qualifications and eliminating the requirement that stock and similar securities must be listed on an exchange as to the stock and securities of banks and insurance and investment companies go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, it was my impression when I interrogated the Majority Floor Leader that this bill would be acted on today.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I am sorry if the gentleman is confused. I think the specific interrogation was whether or not, if we acted on Senate Bill No. 11, this meant that Senate Bill No. 636 was dead. I think that was the gist of the interrogatory. Is that not correct?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, that may be so, but what I had in mind was whether it would be acted on today.

Mr. WALKER. I am sorry, Mr. President, I did not so understand the Senator. There was no attempt at all to deceive. The bill is going over today at the request of the sponsor.

Mr. SILVERT. Very well, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 684, as follows:

An Act providing for the observance of the 175th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence creating a commission to cooperate with like commissions of the government of the United States and of the City of Philadelphia in arranging ceremonies and making an appropriation

One hundred and seventy-five years ago in the City of Philadelphia a people subjugated to the dictatorial rule of a government in which they enjoyed no representation asserted its right to freedom and self-government. From the bold step then taken has grown a nation strong and enduring in a land of bountiful opportunities a citadel of personal liberties and representative democratic government therefore

Section 1 Fitting ceremonies to commemorate the 175th anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4 1776 shall be held in the City of Philadelphia during the week of July 1 to July 7 1951 one day of which shall be devoted to the Pennsylvania General Assembly

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 827, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" by reducing the retirement age

Section 1 Section 3 of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employes of said cities and all county or other public employes if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions" as amended by the act approved the fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 689) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 3 Every person now or hereafter employed by the said cities or paid out of the city treasury thereof as herein above provided if any of the age of [sixty] fifty-five years and upwards who shall have been so employed for a period of twenty years or more shall upon application to the board of pensions herein created be retired from service and shall during the remainder of his or her life receive a pension or compensation fixed by this act subject to such qualifications as are herein contained Provided That if any person or persons had been employed by the said cities for a period covering eighteen years or more prior to the passage of this act and shall thereafter be reemployed it shall be necessary that the period of their reemployment shall extend over a period of two years or more before such person or persons shall be entitled to receive the pension fixed by this act

Section 2 Section 4 of said act as last amended by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 852) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 During the lifetime of the said person he or she shall be entitled to receive a pension from the fund set aside for the purpose of fifty per centum of the amount which would constitute the average rate of pay at which he or she was employed during the highest salaried five years of his or her employment by the said city or other public employment as aforesaid Said pension shall be paid in monthly payments Provided That if any pension be granted to a person who has not been a contributor to the pension fund as herein provided during a period of twenty years such person shall be required to pay into the board of pensions monthly an amount equal to two per centum of his or her pension until such time as his or her contribution shall have extended during a period of twenty years Should any person so employed after twenty years of service be dismissed voluntarily retire or be in any manner deprived of his position or employment before attaining the age of [sixty] fifty-five years upon continuing a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service said person shall be entitled to a pension above mentioned notwithstanding he or she has not attained the age of [sixty] fifty-five years at the time of his or her separation from the public service but said pension shall not commence until he or she has attained the age of [sixty] fifty-five years Should any employe however become totally and permanently disabled while in the service after twenty years of service and before attaining the age of [sixty] years he or she shall be entitled to the said pension Proof of total and permanent disability shall consist of the sworn statement of three practicing physicians designated by the board that the employe is in a permanent condition of health which would totally disable him or her from performing the duties of his or her position or office Provided That in cases where the nature of such disability is such as to disable the employe from performing any work whatsoever either within or without the scope of his regular duties or within the service of such city or county the board may upon a recommendation of the three practicing physicians herein provided for retire upon pension such applicant after a service of fifteen years Provided further That the benefits of this amendment shall apply to members of the pension fund who have been contributors to the said fund for five years or more The pension paid to any one employe whose monthly payments into the pension fund have been four dollars or less a month shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month The pension paid to any one employe whose monthly payments into the pension fund have been more than four dollars a month for a period of at least two years may exceed one hundred dollars per month but shall not exceed two hundred dollars per month Provided That if an employe upon the date of retirement from service shall have made payments of more than four dollars a month unto the pension fund for a period of less than two years his or her pension shall not exceed one hundred dollars per month but an amount equal to the total amount paid in excess over four dollars a month shall be returned to such employe

The pension to be paid to any former employe who was dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner was deprived of his position and employment after having twenty years of service as an employe of said city and who has continued making payments to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service and who has not accepted any pension under the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment shall be at the pension rate as provided in section five and his payments to the board of pensions after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five shall be in an amount equal to the amount which he would have been permitted to make had he continued in the employ of said city after the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five and had continued to be paid the same salary as he received when he was last employed by said city This new amount whether it be more less or the same as the amount which he paid prior to the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five he shall continue to pay until he applies for a pension under the provisions of this act If there be any difference between the amount which he has paid from the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-five and the amount which he has elected to pay under the provisions of section five he shall pay such difference into the board of pensions within six months of the effective date of this amendment

Section 3 Section 4.1 of said act as added thereto by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 845) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 4.1 (a) Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding and except as otherwise provided in this section any employe of such cities or paid out of the city treasuries thereof in active service on or after the effective date of this act who is a contributor to and member of the pension fund of such cities may elect to receive and shall be paid a lesser pension during his lifetime if and when he meets the requirements of this section Such election shall be made by application to the board of pensions

(b) Every employe in active service on or after the effective date of this act who is dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner deprived of his position or employment with fifteen years or more but less than twenty years of service and who has contributed to the pension fund for a like period and who has reached the age of [sixty] fifty-five years or upwards may apply for such lesser pension

(c) Every employe in active service on or after the effective date of this act who is dismissed voluntarily retired or in any manner deprived of his position or employment after fifteen years or more but less than twenty years of service before attaining the age of [sixty] fifty-five years upon continuing until he reaches the age of [sixty] fifty-five years a monthly payment to the fund equal to the last amount due and paid monthly while in active service may apply for such lesser pension when he reaches the age of [sixty] fifty-five years

(d) Every such lesser pension shall be proportionate to the pension which the employe would be entitled to receive after twenty years of service and contribution computed as if he had continued to receive during the remainder of the twenty years the same salary as at the time of the termination of his active service as his number of months of service is to two hundred forty months

(e) Payment of the monthly amount of contribution shall cease and be discontinued at the time any such employe begins to receive the lesser pension provided by this section

Section 4 Section 14 of said act as added thereto by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 852) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 14 In addition to the pension which is authorized by this act and notwithstanding the limitations therein placed upon pensions and upon contributions every contributor who shall become entitled to the payment of a pension and who has been employed by the said city or county for at least twenty-one years shall also be entitled to the payment in addition to the said pension of a "service increment" in accordance with and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth

(1) Service increment shall be the sum obtained by computing the number of whole years in excess of twenty years during which a contributor has been employed by such city or county and paid out of the city treasury and multiplying the said number of years so computed by an amount equal to one-fortieth of the pension which has become payable to such contributor in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided That no service increment may be paid for employment of more than twenty such excess years nor for any excess years which shall accrue after a contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years and no service increment shall be paid in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per month

(2) Each contributor from and after the effective date of this amendment shall pay into the board of pensions a monthly sum in addition to his or her pension contribution which shall be equal to one-half of one percentum of his or her salary Provided That such payment shall not exceed the sum of one dollar ($1.00) per month nor shall the total payment for pension contribution and service increment contribution exceed thirteen dollars ($13.00) per month And Provided That such service increment contribution shall not be paid after a contributor has reached the age of sixty-five year

(3) Persons who are pension fund contributors on the effective date of this amendment who have already reached the age of sixty-five years shall have his or her service increment computed on the years of employment prior to the date of reaching his or her sixty-fifth birthday

(4) Any pension fund contributor who shall after the effective date of this act leave the service of such city or county after having completed at least twenty years' service but before reaching the age of [sixty] fifty-five years and who shall continue to pay pension contributions into the pension fund shall not pay service increment contributions after the date of leaving the service of such city or county and shall have his or her service increment limited to the actual years spent in the service of such city or county

(5) Service increment contributions shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as pension contributions and may be withdrawn in full without interest by persons who leave the employment of such city or county subject to the same conditions by which pension contributions may be withdrawn When any person is re-employed by the city or county after withdrawal of pension contributions his or her prior service shall not be used in the computation of service increment unless the amount of such contributions be repaid into the pension fund subject to the same conditions by which pension fund withdrawals are permitted to be repaid

(6) All employes of such city or county who are now contributors to the pension fund and all persons who are employed by such city and county after the effective date of this amendment who are required to become contributors to the pension fund shall be subject to the provisions of this amendment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

THOMAS LAVELLE PRESENTED TO SENATE

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to advise the Senate and visitors that we have a treat in store for us. We have the State Champion of the Oratorical Contest conducted by the American Legion on Americanism. He not only won the State Championship, but he went up to the quarter finals. He is from St. Patricks High School in Scranton, and his name is Tommy Lavelle.

It is the Chair's pleasure to present to you at this time Mr. Thomas Lavelle.

Mr. LAVELLE. Mr. Speaker, Reverend Father, Members of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

"With liberty and justice for all." These are the constitutional rights of every free-born American man and woman. How did we come by them? Still more important, how are we using them?

A little more than a century and a half ago, a down-trodden persecuted people of Europe came to this country to begin life anew. Their experiences with tyranny in their native lands were bitter. Hatred, anger, yes, even envy and misunderstanding had possession of their very souls. The darkness of those days made them love light; hardships made them crave rest, injustice, justice, persecution, freedom.

That they might serve their God according to their consciences, speak without fear, enjoy trial with justice, they risked the hazardous journey of treacherous seas for the uncertainty of a new and unsettled country. Once here, however, they were determined that their children, you and I, would not live in slavery as they did. So they struggled and they labored. They shed bitter tears and precious blood, but they handed down to American citizens a charter of liberty that blazed across the entire world in flaming letters, "Here is life, because here is liberty."

Those people were our forefathers, their charter of liberty, our Bill of Rights, a heritage unsurpassed by any other people on the face of the earth. And under its protecting hand America grew strong, powerfully strong. From the laughing stock of every European court to the strongest and most respected government in the world was America's glorious history.

But now, the important question: How are we modern Americans using our constitutional privileges?

It is now 1951. Not one nation, but an entire world is engulfed in a great crisis. Yes, America, too, is in a turmoil. Our scientists look across the waters with powerful telescopes, spend time, energy and money for atomic control and hydrogen bombs that we might have the proper protection.

But America's line of defense is not drawn by any geographical boundary. It lies in every human heart that can honestly say: "I am an American." America's strength and weaknesses lie in America. No, our enemy is not a foreign foe; it is every American man, woman and child who enjoys American privileges, but forgets he has responsibilities. "A duty for every right" is the motto of every real American.

A different caliber of citizen now walks the American street. He is one who has grown soft with ease. He is too used to the good things of life. He forgets that little insecurities are good for his character; comfort and amusement come first. He yields to the avenues of least resistance; and so, he becomes a prey of false prophets who try to build a new Utopia in his mind. Can you imagine what our founders would say to such a citizen?

Well, let us listen to their voices, the voices that rise from every grain of free soil from Maine to Florida. Their words come in whispers, but swell to a mighty crescendo to impress us with our responsibilities.

Listen: "We are your dead. We once had dreams, dreams of a free people. We wrote those dreams and gave them to you. They are your Bill of Rights. You have more privileges than any other people on the face of the earth; but you have also a God-given duty to preserve them."

Now we see men of high governmental offices standing in court, being tried for disloyalty. Why? Why these doubtful characters? How did they get there? You had the right to vote. You put them there. Did they buy your vote? If they did, you sold your freedom. It is your duty to put Americans, red-blooded Americans, in our government. This is why you have the privilege of voting.

We see a new crisis facing America. It is a grave situation, probably the beginning of another world war. But we can hear bickering and quibbling over taxes, housing shortages, and who will do the fighting. Criticism of our military and government officials is rampant. Why? Yes, you have freedom of speech, the most enjoyable facet of the American way of life. However, Young America, it is traditional as well as practical that in time of war or national crisis, you voluntarily forego, at least partially, destructive criticism. It breeds disunity. It breaks down morale. It doesn't help your cause, but it does aid your enemies.

Why can't the colored boy go to any American college? Why do some so-called sportsmen refuse to play basketball on the same court with a Negro? Yes, his skin is dark; but he is a citizen—an American citizen, too. This is the land of equality regardless of race, color or creed. To deprive him of such was un-American. Why not now?

And now their voices mingle with those of every other patriot echoing in harmony with the stars that shine forever, as they continue: "We are your dead. Short days ago we lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, loved and were loved. Take up your quarrel with the foe; to you from failing hands we throw the torch. Be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with use who die, we shall not sleep."

And so, the story of Americanism goes on. Sometimes it descends to the valley of despair or travels over the fertile plains of peace, or scales the snow-capped peaks of patriotism.

You have heard their words, the whisper of their voices, these voices of your dead. And since you are one of their American children, they clasp your hand and guide you over the rugged roads of doubt, lest you fall into the chasms of disunity and irresponsibility. Every freedom loving American who loves his country, who loves his own liberty, will take his Bill of Rights and draw up a bill of duties to match every privilege that is his American birthright. Such a citizen, united with his fellow Americans, forms an impregnable America, a wall of defense against any form of totalitarianism. Wake up America. Your foe is within your gates. You, by your indifference toward responsibility, may be that enemy. Resolve to be stalwart Americans. To live to defend America, to be eternally vigilant, to defend our Bill of Rights, so that this Nation, under God, shall not perish from the earth. I thank you.

The PRESIDENT. Thank you, Tommy. On behalf of the Members of the Senate and myself, I wish to congratulate you on that splendid oration and the skilled manner in which you delivered it. Keep up the good work. All of us enjoyed your presence and your very fine speech.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN SENATE AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 844 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill No. 844, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the fourteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 341), entitled, as amended "Cigarette Tax Act" by providing that the provisions of said act shall continue in effect until repealed.

and has appointed Messrs. SMITH, YEAKEL and ANDREWS, as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that a Committee of Conference be appointed to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The President Pro Tempore appoints Messrs. WOOD, BERGER and DENT to be said committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 416,
PRINTER'S No. 117

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, May 22, 1951.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 416, Printer's No. 117, entitled "An act to amend Section 704 of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 364) entitled 'An act relating to business corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation reorganization winding up and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and shareholders prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the second class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign business corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain State departments boards commissions or officers to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations' by changing and clarifying the provisions with respect to payment of dividends from paid-in surplus."

JOHN S. FINE

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For the information of the Senate, the Lieutenant-Governor has requested me to take charge of the rostrum at this time.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 844, entitled:

An Act to reenact and further amend the title and the act, approved the fourteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 341), entitled, as amended "Cigarette Tax Act" by providing that the provisions of said act shall continue in effect until repealed.

I am submitting the majority report and also a statement by Senator Dent stating his reasons for refusing to concur with the other members of the Committee.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules. The statement from Senator Dent will be spread upon the record.

STATEMENT FROM SENATOR JOHN H. DENT STATING HIS REASONS FOR REFUSING TO CONCUR WITH THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

I refuse to concur in the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 844 for the following reasons:

(1) This bill allows taxation by local municipalities under Act 481 upon a subject matter already taxed by the Commonwealth which is contrary to the understanding given to the members of the Finance Committee in the Senate when the passage of Act 481 was before that Committee. It was clearly stated at the meeting of the Finance Committee that under the language of Act 481, local municipalities would not be permitted to tax a subject already taxed by the Commonwealth, specifically taxes on cigarettes.

(2) The wholesale distributor of cigarettes works upon the gross margin of 1.6% on a national scale and that the 1½ mills tax now assessed in some communities under Act 481 against this item of taxation is in reality a tax of 10% or more upon gross profits.

(3) The perpetration of this gross injustice to a group of businessmen does not compare to the weak policy of limited taxation upon the great corporate interest of the State because taxation was reduced from 10% on a gross income tax to a 5% by the same forces that are now taxing this industry beyond its ability to pay.

(4) The application of local mercantile and gross receipts tax against this item of taxation applies not only to the sale price of the item but as well against the State Tax itself which is in direct contravention of the Constitutional provisions of Pennsylvania.

(5) When the cigarette tax was originally passed under the Earle Administration they were relieved of the responsibility of paying the State Mercantile Tax. When the State Mercantile Tax was removed, this protection was taken from the cigarette tax on the grounds there was no necessity for this section of the Act. When Act 481 was passed, it was clearly understood that the language of Act 481 was supposed to protect the cigarette vendors from any possibility of a dual tax. This mis-construction of the language of Act 481 has caused an injustice to be perpetrated against this industry. I cannot in good conscience continue the perpetration of this injustice because I believe it to be a violation of the mandate of the Legislature and a violation of the Constitutional protection given to Pennsylvania industry by the Constitution. I further oppose the Conference Report because it is a continuation of the program of unjust taxation under a "hodge-podge" system in the Commonwealth.

JOHN H. DENT
Senate Minority Leader

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, is the statement of Senator Dent considered a minority report?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. No.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Dent has prepared a minority report which he wishes to present before we leave this afternoon.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It is here. May I advise the gentleman from Northampton that the minority report is in the form of a statement; it is not a conference report.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, May 23, 1951, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. LEADER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:44 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, May 23, 1951, at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, May 22, 1951.

The House met at 12:00 noon EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God, Who hast called our nation to a place of trust and great responsibility throughout the world; We humbly thank Thee for all the ways in which Thou hast blessed and guided us unto this day. Take from us, we pray Thee, all pride and injustice and selfish desire, and all our forgetfulness of Thee and Thy laws; grant us the spirit of humble obedience to Thee and of service to our fellow-men; and may the love of Christ be so truly manifested in us that His Name may be glorified among all nations; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, May 21, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

PENNSYLVANIA AMERICAN LEGION ORATORICAL CHAMPION WELCOMED

Mr. NEEDHAM. Mr. Speaker, it is a pleasure and privilege to introduce to you at this time Thomas Lavelle of Scranton, Pennsylvania. He is seventeen years of age, a senior at St. Patrick's High School in West Scranton. In the recent American Legion Oratorical contest, Thomas became the Pennsylvania champion. He went on to the interstate competition, losing out in the semi-finals. His speech is on "Americanism." It is dramatic and thrilling. I am sure that it would be well worth the time of the Members of this House to hear it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to present to the House Mr. Thomas Lavelle, winner of the American Legion state-wide oratorical contest, and second in American Legion National contest.

ADDRESS OF MR. THOMAS LAVELLE

Mr. THOMAS LAVELLE. Mr. Speaker, Reverend clergy and Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

With liberty and justice for all . . . these are the constitutional rights of every free-born American man and woman. How did we come by them? Still, more important, how are we using them?

A little more than a century and a half ago, a down-trodden, persecuted people of Europe came to this country to begin life anew. Their experiences with tyranny in their native lands were bitter. Hatred, anger, yes, even envy and misunderstanding had possession of their very souls. The darkness of those days made them love light; hardships made them crave rest; injustice, justice, persecution, freedom.

That they might serve their God according to their consciences, speak without fear, enjoy trial with justice, they risked the hazardous journey of treacherous seas for the uncertainty of a new and unsettled country. Once here, however, they were determined that their children—you and I—would not live in slavery as they did. So they struggled and they slaved. They shed bitter tears and precious blood, but they handed down to American citizens a charter of liberty that blazed across the entire world in flaming letters, "Here is life, because here is liberty."

Those people were our forefathers, their charter of liberty, our Bill of Rights—a heritage unsurpassed by any other people on the face of the earth. And under its protecting hand America grew strong, powerfully strong—from the laughing stock of every European court to the strongest and most respected government in the world was America's glorious history.

But, now, the important question: How are we modern Americans using our constitutional privileges?

It is now 1951. Not one nation but an entire world is engulfed in a great crisis. Yes, America too, is in a turmoil. Our scientists look across the waters with powerful telescopes, spend time, energy and money for atomic control and hydrogen bombs that we might have the proper protection.

But America's line of defense is not drawn by any geographical boundary. It lies in every human heart that can honestly say: "I am an American." America's strengths and weaknesses lie in America. No, our enemy is not a foreign foe; it is every American man, woman and child who enjoys American privileges but forgets he has responsibilities; "A duty for every right" is the motto of every real American.

A different caliber of citizen now walks the American street. He is one who has grown soft with ease. He is too used to the good things of life. He forgets a little insecurity is good for his character; comfort and amusement come first. He yields to the avenues of least resistance; and so, he becomes a prey of false prophets who try to build a new Utopia in his mind. Can you imagine what our founders would say to such a citizen?

Well, let us listen to their voices; the voices that rise from every grain of free soil from Maine to Florida. Their words come in whispers, but swell to a mighty crescendo to impress us with our responsibilities.

Listen: "We are dead. We once had dreams—dreams of a free people. We wrote those dreams and gave them to you. Thy are your Bill of Rights. You have more privileges than any other people on the face of the earth; but you have also a God-given duty to preserve them."

Now we see men of high government offices standing in court, being tried for disloyalty. Why? Why these doubtful characters? How did they get there? You have the right to vote. You put them there. Did they buy your vote? If they did, you sold your freedom. It is your duty to put Americans, red-blooded Americans, in our government. That's why you have the privilege of voting.

We see a new crisis facing America. It is a grave situation, probably the beginning of another world war. But we can hear bickering and quibbling over taxes, housing shortages and who will do the fighting. Criticism of our military and government officials is rampant. Why? Yes, you have freedom of speech—the most enjoyable facet of the American way of life. However, young America, it is traditional as well as practical that in time of war or national crisis, you voluntarily forego, at least partially, destructive criticism. It breeds disunity. It breaks down morale. It doesn't help your cause, but it does aid your enemies.

Why can't that colored boy go to any American college? Why do some so-called sportsmen refuse to play basket ball on the same court with a negro? Yes, his skin is black; but he is a citizen—an American citizen, too. This is the land of equality regardless of race, color, creed. To deprive him of such was un-American. Why not now?

And now their voices mingle with those of every other patriot echoing in harmony with the stars that shine forever, as they continue: "We are your dead. Short days ago we lived, loved and were loved. Take up your quarrel with the foe; to you from weary hands we throw the torch. Be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who died, we shall not sleep."

And so, the story of Americanism goes on. Sometimes it descends to the valley of despair, sometimes it travels over fertile plains of peace, or stills the voice of patriotism.

You have heard their words—the whisper of their voices, these voices of your dead. And since you are one of their American children, they clasp your hand and guide you over the rugged roads of doubt, lest you fall into the caverns of disunity and irresponsibility. Every freedom loving American who loves his country, who loves his own liberty will take his Bill of Rights and draw up a bill of duties that matches every privilege that is his American birthright. Such a citizen, united with his fellow Americans, forms an impregnable America, a wall of defense against any form of totalitarianism. Wake up America! Your foe is within your gates!

You, by your indifference to responsibility, may be that enemy. Resolve to be stalwart Americans. To live to defend America, to be eternally vigilant, to defend our Bill of Rights, so that this Nation, under God shall not perish from the earth. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks a winner.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 350, as follows:

An Act to amend Section 699.4 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by authorizing the production and performance of civic opera between certain hours on Sundays in cities of the second class upon approval of the electors

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 699.4 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 699.4 Worldly Employment or Business on Sunday Whoever does or performs any worldly employment or business whatsoever on the Lord's day commonly called Sunday (works of necessity and charity only excepted) or uses or practices any game hunting shooting sport or diversion whatsoever on the same day not authorized by law shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of four dollars ($4) for the use of the Commonwealth or in default of the payment thereof shall suffer six (6) days imprisonment

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the dressing of victuals in private families bakehouses lodging-houses inns and other houses of entertainment for the use of sojourners travellers or strangers or to hinder watermen from landing their passengers or ferry-men from carrying over the water travellers or persons removing with their families on the Lord's day commonly called Sunday nor to the delivery of milk or the necessities of life before nine of the clock in the forenoon nor after five of the clock in the afternoon of the same day nor shall anything herein contained be construed to prohibit the production and performance of civic opera in cities of the second class on Sundays between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and twelve o'clock midnight by nonprofit corporations and such cities with right to charge admission if the question of the production and performance of such civic opera is first submitted to the electors of the city within which such production and performance is proposed and approved by the affirmative vote of the electors The hours prescribed by this amendment shall be daylight saving time in any such city during such part of the year when daylight saving time may be observed generally in such political subdivision

Section 2 Not oftener than once every four years the governing body of any city of the second class upon resolution duly adopted or electors equal to at least five per centum of the highest vote cast for any candidate in the city at the last preceding municipal election may petition the county board of elections to have a question concerning the production and performance of civic opera as prescribed in the preceding section submitted to the electors of the city and the county board of elections shall cause a question to be placed on the ballots or on the voting machines and submitted to the electors of the city at the first general or municipal election occurring at least sixty (60) days thereafter in the manner provided by the election laws of the commonwealth

Do you favor the production and performance of civic opera in cities of the second class by nonprofit corporations and cities of the second class regardless of whether an admission charge is made or is incidental thereto between the hours of 2 o'clock post-meridian and 12 o'clock midnight on Sunday?

Yes

No

If a majority of the persons voting on such question vote "yes" then until a majority of the persons voting on the question vote "no" at a subsequent election civic opera may be produced and performed by nonprofit corporations and any such cities on Sundays between the hours of two o'clock post meridian and twelve o'clock midnight within the city voting thereon with the right to charge admission if a majority of the persons voting on the question vote "no" such right shall be denied and the same question shall not be voted upon again prior to the election occurring approximately four years thereafter

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Schmidt, at this time I desire to yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Ronald L. Thompson.

Mr. RONALD L. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, it has been my privileges to attend a great many performances of the Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera Association. With a few exceptions, I have found that the programs have been very high class operatic musical entertainment.

The bill before us today is a bill that would give the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh the privilege of holding a referendum as to whether or not they would like the Civic Light Opera Association to render these musical operettas on Sunday evenings.

In the city of Pittsburgh we have Sunday baseball, Sunday football, movie theatres. All of these things are forms of entertainment, and they are commercial forms of entertainment. The Civic Light Opera is not a commercial proposition; it is a non-profit organization; there are no profits made from the Light Opera. As a matter of fact, the performances are held in a tax-free stadium that belongs to the University of Pittsburgh at the present time. It is the intention of this association and of the city of Pittsburgh to build a suitable arena in which to hold these light opera sessions.

I can assure you that in general the light opera performances are, as I have already said, a high grade operatic musical entertainment. I feel that if the people of the city of Pittsburgh would like to have a referendum as to whether or not they should have these performances on Sunday evening, this House should grant them that privilege.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, at this time I desire to yield further to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Paul F. Jones.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I would just like, without abusing either the time or the patience of the Members of the House, to ask you to vote for this bill to give the citizens of Pittsburgh the right to vote on this particular proposition.

The University of Pittsburgh stadium is some two or three blocks from my home. I have noticed crowds up as high as 15,000 who come from all sections of the city to witness these performances. I think it can be successfully stated that they have added to the cultural development of our community. They are strictly high class and in line with the spirit of progress that prevails there.

I think the amendments that have been prepared for this bill will make it acceptable to all of the people, including religious groups and those who might have other scruples about this type of entertainment on a Sunday.

I have witnessed too, on a Sunday that our highways are crowded with working people who are going to neighboring states such as West Virginia and Ohio. I say to you in all fairness that if we can have this type of cultural entertainment, that they will stay at home; we will alleviate the risk of so many highway accidents that occur as a result of this exodus of people who are seeking some form of recreation on the only day that they are not employed.

I ask both sides of the House to go along with this in the spirit of progress and I believe that the people of Pittsburgh if given the opportunity will decide whether or not they want it.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. Speaker, it is not my intention to continue this debate at any length. I merely wish to inform the Members of this House that this request is being made on behalf of the Civic Opera Association in the city of Pittsburgh, which as a non-profit organization and which has for the past six or seven years conducted civic operas that we now have during a nine week's period during the summer months in the city of Pittsburgh.

Certain objections were raised to the bill as originally introduced by the Lord's Day Alliance, to which objections I have yielded and have amended the bill in such a way that not only would a referendum be held in order that we might have civic opera, but if after a period of time the people of the city of Pittsburgh should decide that they do not longer wish to have it they may vote it out.

These referenda may be held at least once in every four years, so that in either direction a referendum may be held. This is good, clean entertainment and, as been mentioned, we do have these other forms of entertainment in the city, and we desire to have this.

I ask you in all fairness to the people of our city to give us the opportunity to decide whether or not we shall have it, and the majority will then speak upon this subject once you have given them that privilege.

I want to thank you very much for your attentiveness to this discussion.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Bower, Flack,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1113, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 17 of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by providing for partial reimbursement of taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of certain tractors and machinery for agricultural purposes providing penalties and making appropriations from the Motor License Fund for the payment of such reimbursements and expenses in connection therewith

Section 1 Section 17 of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" as temporarily amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1880) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 17 Refunds The Board of Finance and Revenue may refund to distributors taxes penalties and interest paid by them on liquid fuels delivered to the United States government or paid as the result of an error of law or of fact or of both law and fact Claims for such refunds shall be made under the procedure prescribed by The Fiscal Code.

Any person who shall use or buy liquid fuels on which the tax imposed by this act shall have been paid and shall consume the same in the operation of any non-licensed farm tractor or licensed farm tractor when used off the highways for agricultural purposes or non-licensed powered farm machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products shall be reimbursed one-half the amount of such tax

All such claims for reimbursement shall be made upon a form to be furnished by the Board of Finance and Revenue and shall include in addition to such other information as the board may by regulation prescribe the name and address of the claimant the period of time and the number of gallons of liquid fuels used for which reimbursement is claimed a description of the farm machinery in which such liquid fuels have been used and the purpose for which such machinery has been used the size of the farm and part thereof in cultivation on which such liquid fuels have been used Each such claim shall contain statements that the liquid fuels for which reimbursement is claimed have been used only for purposes for which reimbursements are permitted that records of the amounts of such fuels used in each piece of farm machinery have been kept and that no part of such claim has been paid except as stated Each such claim shall contain a declaration that it and accompanying receipts are true and correct to the best of claimant's knowledge and shall be signed by the claimant or the person claiming on his behalf Every claim shall be accompanied by receipts indicating that the liquid fuels tax was paid on the liquid fuels for which reimbursement is claimed All records of purchases of liquid fuels and use in each tractor or powered machinery shall be kept for a period of two years Every such claim shall be made [quarterly for a period represented by the preceding three months] annually for the preceding year ending on the thirtieth day of June and shall be submitted to the Board of Finance and Revenue not later than the [fifteenth day of April July October and January following the end of each three-months period] thirtieth day of September of each year and the board shall refuse to consider any claim received or post-marked later than such date The claimant shall satisfy the board that he has paid the tax and that the liquid fuels have been consumed by him in the operation of a tractor or piece of powered machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products The board may require any claimant to furnish such further information proof or fuller explanation as it shall deem necessary The action of the Board of Finance and Revenue in granting or refusing reimbursement shall be final The board shall deduct the sum of one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) which shall be considered as a filing fee from every claim for reimbursement granted Such filing fees are hereby specifically appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue and to the Department of Revenue for expenses of any nature whatsoever incurred in the administration of the reimbursement provisions of this act The Board of Finance and Revenue shall have the power to refuse to the Department of Revenue for investigation any claim for reimbursement filed under the provisions of this act and it shall be the duty of the Department of Revenue to investigate such application and report to the Board of Finance and Revenue relative thereto. Any person making any false or fraudulent statement for the purpose of obtaining reimbursement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to undergo imprisonment for not more than six (6) months or both.

All refunds and reimbursements of moneys allowed hereunder shall be paid from the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund in amounts equal to the original distribution and payment of such moneys into said funds. Provided however that reimbursement for taxes paid on liquid fuels consumed in the operation of tractors and powered machinery for purposes relating to the actual production of farm products shall be paid out of the Motor License Fund.

As much of the moneys from time to time in the Motor License Fund and the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Board of Finance and Revenue for the purpose of making refunds and reimbursements as herein authorized. Estimates of the amounts to be expended from these funds for refunds and reimbursements from time to time by the board shall be submitted to the Governor for his approval or disapproval as in the case of other appropriations to administrative departments, boards and commissions and it shall be unlawful for the Auditor General to honor any requisition of the Board of Finance and Revenue for the expenditure of moneys hereunder in excess of the estimates approved by the Governor.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one and shall apply only to liquid fuels purchased on and after said date.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Bower, Flack,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1226, as follows:

An Act authorizing certain existing beneficial or protective societies heretofore incorporated to reincorporate or to merge and reincorporate as limited life insurance companies for the purpose of making insurance upon the health of individuals and against personal injury and disablement and death including endowment insurance regulating such corporations and limiting the amounts for which such corporations may issue policies

Section 1 Any corporation or any two corporations now formed or organized under the provisions of the ninth paragraph of section two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four (P. L. '73) entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" namely "The maintenance of a society for beneficial or protective purposes to its members from funds collected therein" except fraternal benevolent charitable or secret societies issuing beneficial certificates and paying benefits to their membership through the lodge system and insurance or relief associations formed by or for the exclusive benefit of employees of corporations or firms or formed by or for the exclusive benefit of members of any religious corporation or associations may be reincorporated or merged and reincorporated as the case may be as a life insurance company of the class known as limited life insurance companies for the purpose of making insurance either upon the stock or mutual principle upon the health of individuals and against personal injury or disablement and against death resulting from natural or accidental causes including endowment insurance in such amounts and upon such conditions as is now or hereafter may be provided by law in the case of limited life insurance companies Provided however That any such corporation or any two such corporations may not reincorporate or merge and reincorporate as a limited life insurance company under this act unless such corporation or corporations are operating in compliance with the requirements of this act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1643) entitled "An act relating to certain existing beneficial societies conferring certain rights powers and duties upon them their officers and members authorizing the payment of benefits by them in the event of sickness accident disability or death regulating such societies and corporations and limiting the amount for which they may issue membership certificates or policies providing for reserves imposing penalties and repealing certain existing laws and parts of law"

Section 2 Any such corporation or any two such corporations desiring to reincorporate or to merge and reincorporate as the case may be under the provisions of this act shall proceed in the following manner A meeting of the members of such corporation or of each such corporation shall be held and if a majority of the members of such corporation or corporations shall vote or authorize a vote in favor of the reincorporation or merger and reincorporation a resolution or resolutions to that effect shall be adopted and upon the recording of such resolution or resolutions in the office for the recording of deeds in the county where such corporations or each such corporation has its principal office the directors of such corporations or the respective directors of such two corporations acting jointly as the case may be may make articles of association as provided by law for the incorporation of insurance companies upon which articles shall be had the same proceedings as provided by law for the incorporation of new insurance companies and upon the approval of said articles such corporation or corporations shall become a corporation under this act and all the estate and property real and personal rights of action liabilities and obligations of such former corporation or corporations shall be deemed and taken to be transferred to and vested in or attached to the corporation formed under this act without further act or deed

As soon as the entire amount of the authorized capital of a stock insurance company incorporated under this act has been paid in certificates shall be issued therefor to the persons entitled to receive the same which certificates shall be transferable upon the books of the company and the president or secretary of the company shall notify the Insurance Commissioner that the entire capital of the company has been paid in and that it is ready to commence business Upon receipt of such notice the Insurance Commissioner shall in person or by deputy or examiners examine the company and in case he finds that it has complied with the provisions of this act and is possessed of funds equal to the amount of its capital he shall issue to said company a certificate showing that it has been organized in accordance with the provisions of this act and that it has the requisite amount of capital for the transaction of business in the Commonwealth which certificate shall empower the company to issue policies and otherwise transact the business of insurance for which it was incorporated

In the case of a mutual life insurance company incorporated under this act upon the receipt of a notice from the president or secretary of such company the Insurance Commissioner shall make an examination and if he finds that it has the necessary amount of insurance in force and that the guarantee capital has been paid in he shall issue a certificate authorizing the company to commence business

The Insurance Commissioner may also conduct such examination of any proposed company as may be deemed necessary to determine whether the responsibility character and general fitness for the business of the incorporators and directors named in the articles are such as to command the confidence of the public and to warrant the belief that the business of the proposed company will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the intent and purpose of this act

Until such time as the Insurance Commissioner shall issue a certificate authorizing companies to commence business under this act said companies shall have the same powers to transact the business of insurance as were possessed by said companies prior to their reincorporation under this act

Any corporation formed under this act shall be authorized to transact the business of insurance in the same manner and upon the same conditions as insurance companies are by law authorized to do in so far as not inconsistent with the provisions of law relating to limited life insurance companies

Section 3 Any corporation formed under the provisions of this act shall place reserves on the life portion contained in all policies issued based upon a standard table of mortality with interest at a rate of not more than three and one-half per cent (3½%) as approved by the Insurance Department of the Commonwealth and reserves shall be carried on the disability feature of fifty per centum of the actual weekly monthly or annual premiums in force and reserves shall be charged on all definite and outstanding incurred claims

Section 4 Capital stock of a stock company formed under this act shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars and shall be divided into shares of not less than ten dollars each payment of which shall be made in lawful money ten per centum on each share at the time of subscribing and the balance at such times as the company may direct not exceeding one year from the time of subscription and the company may provide such rules with regard to forfeiture of partial payments on subscriptions as they may deem advisable which rules shall be binding upon the subscribers provided they are made known at the time of subscription Each such company shall in addition thereto have a surplus paid in at least equal to the amount of the capital stock

Section 5 The annual meeting for election of directors of any company formed under this act shall be held at such time on or before the first day of May as the by-laws of the company may direct and such notice of the time and place of meeting shall be given to the stockholders or members as may be provided in the by-laws and at such annual meeting the stockholders or members shall elect by ballot not less than five nor more than thirteen directors to serve for one year and until their successors are duly chosen Provided That at any annual meeting of the stockholders or members it may and shall be lawful to divide the directors which are to be chosen into two three or four classes and to elect the first class to serve for the term of one year and the second third and four to serve two three and four years respectively and at all ensuing elections of said company the stockholders or members shall only elect the number of directors necessary to take the place of those whose terms of office shall then expire and such directors shall be elected as hereinbefore provided and in case of vacancy or vacancies shall happen in the number of said directors the board of directors shall choose and elect a proper person or proper persons to fill such vacancy or vacancies during the remainder of the term or terms for which the person or persons in whose place or places such vacancy or vacancies shall have happened shall have been elected

Section 6 Any mutual company formed under this act shall be authorized to do the business of insurance when it shall have insurance in force against death amounting to not less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars upon at least two thousand persons Provided That no such company shall be authorized to do the business of insurance until it shall have a guarantee capital of at least twenty-five thousand dollars and a surplus of at least twenty-five thousand dollars and until it shall have deposited with the Insurance Commissioner the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars in cash or approved securities which sum the Insurance Commissioner is hereby authorized and empowered to receive and it shall be his duty to hold the same for the benefit of the member of such corporation and its creditors preference being given thereto in the following order to wit first claims under policies second salaries of employes third general creditors

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

JOHN S. FINE.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, today we find on our desk what I think is a very beautiful book. It is a copy of the Memorial Services we held for the departed Members of this House last February.

I know nothing can be done too well to keep the memory of them in our hearts. I think for a book such as this the Committee, the Chief Official Reporter, the office of the Chief Clerk, and whoever else is responsible for it, should certainly be congratulated.

To me it is a very, very, beautiful memento; it is something that every Member of this House can be proud to keep in memory of our friends who have gone before us. It is certainly something that we as Members can be proud to send to the families of our departed friends. I do not think anything can be said that would not be complimentary about this piece of literature. It is a beautiful book and again I think that congratulations of the House are in order to those responsible for it.

RESOLUTION

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1951.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT L. CURRY, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, St. Clair, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

God, today is Yours and because of You, ours. Help us use every minute of it well. During this day may we never do anything we ought not do; may we do all we ought to do. We have so much on our minds. We have so many burdens and problems to care for, tax problems, budgets to balance, margarine to color, liquor to control, Sunday to keep holy and on and on.

Father, within the tumbling whirlpool of our feverish activities, make us, force us to stop and listen to You, for always out of the terrible turmoil of living there can come to us the Still Small Voice. O grant us patience and wisdom, patience to believe that things can work out to the good, and wisdom to make it possible to work those things out. Give us large minds and broad views, God. Teach us that self ego and smallness of mind is eventual decay and eternal destruction. Let not our faith in God or man or nation ever be weaned away from us. Let us never give ourselves to the philosophy of defeat, or to the idealism that Democracy might pass away.

God, bless America; God, bless our Commonwealth. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE RESOLUTIONS

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO PROFESSOR JOHN S. STECKBECK FOR HIS CONTRIBUTION OF "THE FABULUS REDMEN"

Mr. WADE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, May 23, 1951.

The two hundredth anniversary of the founding of Cumberland County with its county seat at Carlisle is an outstanding event in the history of Pennsylvania and the Nation. For a proud record of brilliant achievement in Education, Agriculture, Government and related fields, Cumberland County yields to no other place in this State and Nation—since its magnificent leadership in peace and in war has been widely recognized and enthusiastically acclaimed.

Against the historic background of State annals shines the unique and spectacular record of the Carlisle Indian School, a truly flourishing institution for almost half a century from 1879 to 1918.

This Trade School for the Indian, established by the Federal Government as a token expression of this Nation's gratitude and appreciation to its first inhabitants, became nationally known and respected for the triumphant achievements of its athletes, particularly on the gridiron. Throughout many years, the Carlisle Indians played and defeated with consistent regularity the best foot ball teams in the United States. Its famous teams and outstanding stars—Jim Thorpe, "Pop" Warner, and "Lone Star" Dietz—occupy a preferential niche in the saga of American sports and will remain forever enshrined in the memory of the followers of clean and hard fought athletic contests.

The Carlisle Indian School, now closed for thirty-odd years, has become a legendary tradition to the present generation. Happily, its record of athletic prowess has been assembled—while the source of reliable information is still intact—in a volume to be published and released on June 1st, 1951. This timely book, entitled "The Fabulous Redmen" by John S. Steckbeck, a native Pennsylvanian and Assistant Professor of Physical Education at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pennsylvania, is a painstaking and accurate record that has been drawn from interviews with the gridiron Notables themselves, with hundreds of town residents who saw the teams in action and knew the players personally, and has been documented by the newspaper files recounting the halcyon days of an unforgettable athletic era; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate hereby congratulate Professor Steckbeck for his splendid contribution of The Fabulous Redmen to the golden story of American history in which all Pennsylvanians can express justifiable pride; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate extend to Cumberland County and to Carlisle its boundless thanks for their share in nurturing The Fabulous Redmen as a generous gift to the people of Pennsylvania and the United States during its illustrious two century history.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I would like to express to the Senate that we are privileged today to have in our presence the author of the book entitled, "The Fabulous Redmen," Professor John S. Steckbeck, and I now present him to the Members of the Senate.

URGING THAT THE SECRETARY OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES LOCATE PROPERTY SUITABLE FOR THE ERECTION OF STATE OFFICE BUILDING WITHIN AREA OF PROPOSED INDEPENDENCE HALL MALL

Messrs. MEADE, CHAPMAN and STIEFEL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and greed to:

In the Senate, May 23, 1951.

Whereas the dispersal and inconvenient location of the offices of the various departments, commissions, bureaus and boards of our State Government in the City of Philadelphia is not conducive to the convenience of the citizens, efficiency of functions and economy of maintaining and above all not commensurate with the dignity and greatness of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas the rentals paid by the Commonwealth for its Philadelphia offices for the last two decades would have amply covered the costs of an imposing State-owned edifice erected structurally and artistically according to the highest and most modern standards of office-building architecture and in a style, attuned to Pennsylvania's glorious past and

Whereas the completion of the Independence Hall Mall will create a terminus in Philadelphia of a highway system that will bring annually thousands of tourists from all over the United States converging upon the National Shrines of the City of Brotherly Love and

Whereas the completion of both the Independence Hall Mall by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the Independence National Historical Park by the Federal Government will stimulate the elimination of dilapidated areas in their vicinity and ensuing construction therein of modern office buildings as well as residential dwellings, thereby causing a concomitant rise in realty values, and

Whereas the erection of a State office building along Independence Hall Mall or Independence National Historical Park will link befittingly the immortal chapters of Pennsylvania's Eighteenth Century History with its modern progress and leadership, now therefore be it

Resolved that the Secretary of Property and Supplies explore forthwith the availability of a suitable parcel of land or old building along the proposed Independence Hall Mall or Independence National Historical Park that would be suitable for the erection of a State Office Building and could be acquired before the completion of the Mall and Park and the ensuing "boom" in the adjacent areas, and be it further

Resolved that the Secretary of Property and Supplies submit, if possible, a report covering his preliminary survey before the adjournment of the current Session of the General Assembly in order that appropriate legislation may be enacted.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGIN THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA TO PROVIDE PROPER CARE OF PENN TREATY PARK AND CRISPIN CEMETERY AND OTHER HISTORIC SITES

Messrs. STIEFEL, CHAPMAN and BYRNE offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, May 23, 1951.

Whereas the State and Federal governments have assumed the responsibility for the restoration, improvement and maintenance of the major historical treasurers of Philadelphia through the creation of the Independence National Historical Park project including Independence Hall, Carpenters' Hall and other historic structures, and through the development of the Mall in Philadelphia;

Whereas Philadelphia has many other historic sites of lesser significance when compared with Independence Hall, but nevertheless of great importance in the history of the Commonwealth, such cites including the Penn Treaty Park which marks the site of William Penn's famous treaty with the Indians under the Shackamaxon Elm, and the Crispin Cemetery in which is buried Thomas Holme, first surveyor-general of the Province of Pennsylvania, the man who laid out Philadelphia;

Whereas these two historic sites, the Penn Treaty Park and the Crispin Cemetery, have been in such a state of neglect that they have repeatedly been the subject of proposed appropriations in the General Assembly of the Commonwealth; Now therefore be it

Resolved that the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby calls upon the City of Philadelphia, in view of the fact that the responsibility for the major historic shrines of the City has been assumed by the State and Federal governments, to take measures for the proper care and development of the Penn Treaty Park and care of Crispin Cemetery and such other minor historic sites which are the proper subject for civic action; and be it further

Resolved that the City of Philadelphia should without delay carry out its responsibility for the proper care and improvement of the Penns Treaty Park, which is a property of the City.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President with my sincere apologies to the sponsors of the resolution, I must object to immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 844, as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 844, entitled:

"An act to reenact the title and to reenact and further amend the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. dictions and excepting retail dealers located in veterans' administration hospitals as to sales of cigarettes to patients in said hospitals to continue to engage in or thereafter to begin to engage in the sale of cigarettes at retail within this Commonwealth unless a cigarette permit or permits shall have been issued to him as hereinafter prescribed

(b) Every person desiring to continue to engage in or hereafter to begin to engage in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale or retail within this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall file an application for a cigarette permit or permits with the department. Every application for a cigarette permit shall be made upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department and shall set forth the name under which the applicant transacts or intends to transact business the location of his place of business within this Commonwealth and such other information as the department may require. If the applicant has or intends to have more than one place of business within the Commonwealth the application shall state the location of each place of business. If the applicant is an association the application shall set forth the names and addresses of the persons constituting the association and if a corporation the names and addresses of the principal officers thereof and any other information prescribed by the department for purposes of identification. The application shall be signed by the owner if a natural person and in the case of an association by a member or partner thereof and in the case of a corporation by an executive officer thereof or some person specifically authorized by the corporation to sign the application to which shall be attached the written evidence of his authority.

At the time of making such application the applicant shall pay to the department a permit fee of one dollar ($1.00) for each permit.

Upon approval of the application and the payment of the permit fee or fees herein required the department shall grant and issue to each applicant a cigarette permit for each place of business within the Commonwealth set forth in his application. Cigarette permits shall not be assignable and shall be valid only for the persons in whose names issued and for the transaction of business at the places designated therein and shall at all times be conspicuously displayed at the places for which issued.

All permits shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date upon which they are issued unless sooner suspended surrendered or revoked for cause by the department.

(c) Permits issued under the provisions of this act may be renewed annually before the first day of January upon application made to the department and the payment of a renewal fee of one dollar ($1.00).

Whenever any permit issued under the provisions of this act is defaced destroyed or lost the department may issue a duplicate permit to the holder of the defaced destroyed or lost permit upon the payment of a fee of fifty cents ($.50).

(d) The department may suspend or after hearing revoke a cigarette permit whenever it finds that the holder thereof has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this act or any rules or regulations of the department prescribed and promulgated under this act. Upon suspending or revoking any cigarette permit the department shall request the holder thereof to surrender to it immediately all permits or duplicates thereof issued to him and the holder shall surrender promptly all such permits to the department as requested. Whenever the department suspends a cigarette permit it shall notify the holder immediately and afford him a hearing if desired and if a hearing has not already been afforded. After such hearing the department shall either rescind its order of suspension or good cause appearing therefor shall continue the suspension or revoke the permit.

Section 4 A State excise tax is hereby imposed and assessed upon sale of cigarettes by dealers at the rate of two cents per ten cigarettes or fraction thereof except such sales of cigarettes as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the commerce clause of the Constitution of the United States and except such sales as are made to authorized purchasers by those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof. Provided That only one sale of the same package of cigarettes shall be used in computing the amount of tax due hereunder.

Except as hereinafter provided dealers shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall pay the tax into the State Treasury through the department by purchasing from the department adhesive stamps of such design and denominations as may be prescribed by the department.

Manufacturers of cigarettes located either within or outside of this Commonwealth and wholesale dealers in cigarettes located outside of this Commonwealth may purchase stamps from the department and affix such stamps in the manner hereinafter prescribed to packages of cigarettes to be sold within this Commonwealth in which case the dealer within this Commonwealth receiving such stamped packages of cigarettes will not be required to purchase and affix stamps on such packages of cigarettes.

Section 5 Each dealer shall affix within the time hereinafter prescribed to each package of cigarettes stamps furnished by and purchased from the department evidencing the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall cancel stamps before such cigarettes are offered for sale or before they are otherwise disposed of unless stamps have been affixed to such packages of cigarettes before such dealer received them. Each wholesale dealer in this Commonwealth shall affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department prior to the delivery of such packages to any retail dealer in this Commonwealth.

Each retail dealer in this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall immediately upon the receipt of any cigarettes at his place of business so affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department or shall immediately mark in ink on each unopened box carton or other container of such cigarettes the word "received" and the month day and year of such receipt and shall affix his signature thereto. The retail dealer shall in any event open such box carton or other container and immediately affix such stamps to each package therein and cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department within twenty-four hours after such receipt and prior to the sale of such cigarettes.

Whenever any cigarettes are found in the place of business of such retail dealer without the stamps affixed and cancelled or not marked as having been received within the preceding twenty-four hours as required by this section the prima facie presumption shall arise that such cigarettes are kept therein in violation of the provisions of this act.

Stamps shall be affixed to each package of cigarettes of an aggregate denomination not less than the amount of the tax upon the contents therein and shall be affixed in such manner that they will be visible to the purchaser. Upon affixing stamps to a package of cigarettes the person affixing them shall cancel them by such method or in such manner as may be prescribed by the department.

Section 6 The department shall prescribe prepare and furnish adhesive stamps of such denominations and quantities as may be necessary for the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. The department shall make provisions for the sale of such stamps in such places and at such times as it may deem necessary.

The department shall appoint wholesale dealers in cigarettes within this Commonwealth and may appoint any other persons within or without the Commonwealth as agents to affix the stamps to be used in paying the tax herein imposed upon sales of cigarettes but a wholesale dealer shall at all times have the right to appoint the person who is to affix the stamps to any cigarettes under his control and whenever the department shall sell consign or deliver to any agent any such stamps such agent shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services and expenses as such agent in affixing such stamps and to retain out of the moneys to be paid by him for such stamps a commission of four per centum on the par value thereof if and when such agent has purchased the stamps affixed by him directly from the department. The department is hereby authorized and required to allow such commission or compensation in the settlement of the accounts of such agent upon payment by him into the State Treasury through the department of any moneys which may be or become due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such agent of such stamps.

Section 7 Every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale within this Commonwealth and every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail within this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall maintain and keep for a period of two years such record or records of cigarettes received sold and delivered within this Commonwealth by him together with invoices bills of lading and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department.

The department or any agent appointed in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers invoices and other records the stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are placed stored and sold and equipment of any such wholesale or retail dealer pertaining to the sale and delivery of cigarettes taxable under this act to verify the accuracy of the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. Every such person is hereby directed and required to give to the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized representative the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations as are hereby provided and required.

Section 8 The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to

(a) The method and the means to be used in the cancellation of stamps

(b) The denominations and sale of stamps

(c) Any other matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act

Section 9 Whenever any cigarettes upon which stamps have been placed by a dealer have been sold and shipped by him into another state for sale or use therein or have been sold to those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof for resale to authorized purchasers or have become unfit for use and consumption or unsalable or have been destroyed such dealer shall be entitled to a refund of the actual amount of tax paid by him with respect to such cigarettes. If the department is satisfied that any dealer is entitled to a refund it shall certify the proposed amount of such refund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for approval and thereafter shall issue to such dealer stamps of sufficient value to cover the refund as approved by the board. The department is hereby authorized to adopt prescribe and promulgate such rules and regulations with regard to the presentation and proof of claim for refunds as it may deem advisable.

The department may promulgate rules and regulations to relieve manufacturers and dealers from affixing the stamps on such cigarettes as are sold and shipped to points outside the Commonwealth for use outside the Commonwealth or on such cigarettes as are sold to those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof for resale to authorized purchasers.

Section 10 Every persons other than a common carrier or the employees thereof who shall possess or transport any cigarettes upon the public highways roads or streets of this Commonwealth for the purpose of delivery sale or disposition shall be required to have in his actual possession invoices or delivery tickets for such cigarettes. The absence of such invoices or delivery tickets shall be prima facie evidence that such person is a dealer in cigarettes in this Commonwealth and subject to the provisions of this act.

Section 11 (a) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without being the holder of a cigarette permit or permits as required by this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof to undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

(b) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without purchasing and affixing stamps to each package thereof as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court and in the case of a conviction of a second or subsequent offense hereunder shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000) and to suffer imprisonment for a term not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years.

(c) Any persons who shall fail neglect or refuse to comply with or shall violate the rules and regulations prescribed adopted and promulgated by the department under the provisions of this act or who shall refuse to permit the department or any agent appointed by it in writing to examine his books papers invoices and other records his stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are prepared stored and sold and his equipment pertaining to the sale of cigarettes taxable under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to suffer imprisonment of not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court.

(d) Any person who falsely or fraudulently makes forges alters [for] or counterfeits any stamp prescribed by the department under the provisions of this act or causes or procures to be falsely or fraudulently made forged altered or counterfeited any such stamp or knowingly and wilfully utters publishes passes or tenders as true any such false altered forged or counterfeited stamp or uses more than once any stamp provided for and required by this act for the purpose of evading the tax hereby imposed and assessed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to suffer imprisonment for a term of not less than two (2) years or more than five (5) years.

(e) Any person not being a duly licensed dealer under the provisions of this act or not exempt under section 3 (a) hereof who shall have in his possession two hundred (200) or more cigarettes upon which State cigarette tax has not been paid or to the containers of which Pennsylvania cigarette tax stamps are not affixed in the amount herein required shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution for each two hundred (200) cigarettes found in his possession the cigarettes shall be forfeited to the Commonwealth and in default of the payment of the said fine costs shall be imprisoned in the county jail one (1) day for each dollar of fine and costs unpaid.

Section 12 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein.

Section 13 This act shall become effective thirty days after its final enactment and shall continue in effect until [and including the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one] repealed.

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 844

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 844.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to take any more of the time of the Senate. We have taken quite a deal of it today already. There is a dinner tonight that some folks are anxious to attend.

However, Mr. President, I was a Member of the Conference Committee, and in the Conference Committee I protested the action of the House in refusing to go along with the Senate Finance Committee's amendment. I have had attached to all the reports of the Conference today a statement of my position on the conference.

I refuse to concur in the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 844 for the following reasons:

(1) This bill allows taxation by local municipalities under Act 481 upon a subject matter already taxed by the Commonwealth which is contrary to the understanding given to the members of the Finance Committee in the Senate when the passage of Act 481 was before that Committee. It was clearly stated at the meeting of the Finance Committee that under the language of Act 481, local municipalities would not be permitted to tax a subject already taxed by the Commonwealth, specifically taxes on cigarettes.

(2) The wholesale distributor of cigarettes works upon the gross margin of 1.6% on a national scale and that the 1 ½ mills tax now assessed in some communities under Act 481 against this item of taxation is in reality a tax of 10% or more upon gross profits.

(3) The perpetration of this gross injustice to a group of businessmen does not compare to the weak policy of limited taxation upon the great corporate interest of the State because taxation was reduced from 10% on a gross income tax to a 5% by the same forces that are now taxing this industry beyond its ability to pay.

(4) The application of local mercantile and gross receipts tax against this item of taxation applies not only to the sale price of the item but as well against the State Tax itself which is in direct contravention of the Constitutional provisions of Pennsylvania.

(5) When the cigarette tax was originally passed under the Earle Administration they were relieved of the responsibility of paying the State Mercantile Tax. When the State Mercantile Tax was removed, this protection was taken from the cigarette tax on the grounds there was no necessity for this section of the Act. When Act 481 was passed, it was clearly understood that the language of Act 481 was supposed to protect the cigarette vendors from any possibility of a dual tax. This mis-construction of the language of Act 481 has caused an injustice to be perpetrated against this industry. I cannot in good conscience continue the perpetration of this injustice because I believe it to be a violation of the mandate of the Legislature and a violation of the Constitutional protection given to Pennsylvania industry by the Constitution. I further oppose the Conference Report because it is a continuation of the program of unjust taxation under a "hodge-podge" system in the Commonwealth.

Signed, "John H. Dent, Member of the Conference Committee, Senate Minority Leader."

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in order that there be no misunderstanding of the whole picture, I do not believe that we can long continue this policy of tax upon tax. I do not know how many of you men have studied the implications of what we are voting for today. Let us take an example of just exactly what is happening. You take a wholesaler who buys cigarettes from the manufacturer, he pays to the local municipality a mercantile tax upon the sale price of that cigarette, including the State and Federal taxes. This makes a tax upon tax. He then sells this article to a retailer. The retailer in the same community then pays a mercantile tax upon the mercantile tax, upon the State tax, upon the Federal tax.

Now, Mr. President, sooner or later, somewhere along the line, we must stop the proposition of tax upon tax. I say to the Members of the Senate that I can, with just a little bit of extra thinking, come up with more and numerous taxes than have ever been conceived before in the minds of a taxing authority under Act 481, if we allow a taxation by a local municipality upon a tax placed by the Commonwealth.

To prove my point, gasoline is a commodity the same as cigarettes, and yet gasoline taxes are not assessed by the local community when they place a mercantile tax upon the tax placed by the Commonwealth. There can be no difference, there can be no separation, except in the weaknesses of persons afraid to face the issue. I know the school boards have been calling on the phone, and I know that they have been threatening some members of the Legislature with reprisals, because they say they need the money. Well, that is perfectly all right. I have yet in eighteen years to have ever been in Harrisburg when the school boards did not need money, and I suppose if I stay here eighteen years more, they will still need money, but that still does not give them the excuse to place a tax upon a tax placed by the Commonwealth.

Now, Mr. President, they say to me, "Well, the Supreme Court has found that the tax is proper." Mr. President, I have a great deal of respect for the Supreme Court and I admire the men that serve upon the Supreme Court, but I think that they, too, ought to have the proper respect for the Legislative Members of the Senate and House who are performing the duty prescribed by the Constitution, the same as the Supreme Court is performing a duty. In the language of Act 481, it says that no tax shall be assessed against an item taxed by the Commonwealth. Now, if they can turn gymnastics mentally and come up with a theory of taxation far and beyond that which was conceived or meant by the Legislature, then they, too, are entitled to no more respect than they gave the thinking of the Members of the Legislature, because I have found upon close examination that most of the men who serve upon the Supreme Court were born, the same as were the Members of the Senate, that they go through life on about the same plane; that they are individuals susceptible to the same weaknesses that we have, and the history of the Supreme Court or any court has been that they enjoy the prerogative of changing their mind. I think that the Legislature today ought to stand pat upon the theory of taxation that no subdivision of government ought to be permitted to tax upon the tax placed by the Commonwealth. If we are not sound in that proposition, then why do we exempt manufactured products because we say that manufacturers pay a corporate net income tax, and we exempt them specifically because, and that is the only reason we exempted them under Act 481.

Now, Mr. President, some others have said to me, "Why, your colleagues in the House on the Democratic side voted unanimously for it." I will tell you why they voted unanimously for it. It is no secret. The Democratic Members of the House are opposed to Act 481, the spokesman for the Democratic Members was a Member of this Conference. I am not betraying any secret when I tell you exactly his position because I have cleared it with him, and he said that it is perfectly all right, because he intended to make the position clear upon the floor anyway. His position is that the premise upon which I stood was right, that it is a tax upon a tax, and as such it is immoral and illegal, but he said, "I am so opposed to Act 481 that I do not want everybody crawling out from under it. I want it to become so darn obnoxious that the people in this Commonwealth will rise up and repeal it." So, he votes for it for one reason, and I vote against it for another.

I think the time has come when this Senate ought to take a position. I have found upon inquiry that the Republican Caucus has taken the position that, right or wrong, they are going to go along on this Conference Report. That does not stop me from registering a protest vote because I expect, if God willing, that I will be here at a later date, and I will still keep fighting for the same principle. A municipality has no right, absolutely no right under the Constitution or under the mandates of the General Assembly, to pass a tax upon a tax placed by the Commonwealth. If this principle of taxation is not clearly defined by the Legislature, then I predict that within the next year I will personally see to it that in my dual capacity as a Commissioner and a State Senator, I will dig up some "beauties" for the Supreme Court to work on, because if you can place a tax upon a tax, there is no limit under Act 481 that a municipality can go to in its search for tax moneys; there is no limit whatsoever except the limits prescribed by the General Assembly itself, and I say that the General Assembly clearly stated its position when it said that Act 481 was written in such a manner that the local municipalities had no right to tax a commodity taxed by the Commonwealth.

The Governor, in his statement to the Joint Assembly, acknowledged this fact because he said that if we pass the State income or wage tax, that it would be necessary to amend Act 481 to allow a municipality that had already passed a wage tax to allow them to continue to collect this tax. Now, we cannot be fish on one side and fowl on another. You cannot exempt the gasoline dealer, you cannot exempt the beer distributor, you cannot exempt others from the responsibility of paying a local mercantile tax, and then just because a mistake was made, a mistake and a misconstruction, by the Chairman of the Finance Committee in the Senate, that this particular group of businessmen have to suffer under this burden.

Now, Mr. President, I am holding no brief; I am not trying to kid the Members of the Senate into the belief that this is one of those hardships that is breaking the back of anybody. I am not interested in that angle. I am more interested in whether this Senate means what it says in saying that we cannot tax items in local government that we tax in State Government, or whether we do not mean it, and I am also interested to the extent of saying that I personally have no objection, if it were necessary and the money was needed, if we needed another cent on cigarettes, I would be for that cent on cigarettes rather than a subterfuge tax of this nature or an unfair tax of this nature, because you have so many elements that enter into it.

Mr. President, here is a community on this hand that imposes a mercantile tax. A mercantile tax on a low profit item such as this amounts to anywhere from ten to fifteen per cent of the gross profit. Here is another community within a mile or so that does not place a mercantile tax upon it. The Legislature very wisely tried to provide for a competitive basis of equality in a like business back in the local communities, and what have we done by allowing this amendment to be stricken from this bill? We have allowed an inequality to exist in a competitive field where the profits are prescribed by the taxes that are paid. This is another item that has been growing larger and larger on the horizon and looming larger and larger, and this a problem that must be solved.

Business, under a free enterprise system of government, in my conception of such, is the operation of a business or an enterprise on a profit making basis. When government taxes that business, it becomes a partner. Now, when government taxes amount to more than the item itself costs to produce, costs to sell, then the time has come when one partner is taking too much out of the business, and if government persists in taking more out of the business than what the business can return, the business will soon die. We must stop somewhere along the line and keep from drying up our sources of revenue, because the more that we allow revenue sources to be dried up, the more we are going to have to create new revenue sources.

The time has come when the cost of government itself is a subject of great concern, not only amongst Republicans in Federal Government, but amongst Democrats in Pennsylvania. I am sorry that the two cannot get together. I wish the Republicans here were just as conscientious of taxation as what the Democrats are, and I wish the Democrats in Washington were just as conscientious as the Republicans are down there. I do not know whether we can have a joint convention this summer, but since Philadelphia is being denied the Republican Convention and, perhaps, the Democratic Convention, maybe the Mugwump Party of Democrats in Pennsylvania and the Republicans in Congress could have a convention in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, getting back to the subject, this is something that may interest you.

I called Pittsburgh just to find out what the application of their tax was, and I find that there is now a case being tested in the courts as to whether or not the mercantile tax can be assessed against the tax itself, and it is in litigation. Of course, you will say, "Leave it in the hands of the courts." That is not the proper thing. I think that this is the time to do it. I think that the General Assembly ought to sit down and let personalities sit by the wayside, and take the real meat of the problem and discuss it; but no, we are not doing that in this particular instance. It has now developed into whether someone is right or whether someone is wrong, or whether this fellow ought to be chastised or that fellow ought to be chastised, and I think, Mr. President, for the benefit of the people in Pennsylvania, we have almost reached that stage in this Session of the Legislature where we better go home. I think we should just better fold up and go home, because it is beginning to degrade into a fight that may end up where the people themselves will suffer, and I think that this is one of the items that could have been argued more rationally if it had been taken up early in the Session.

Now, Mr. President, we are faced with a decision that is important. The Members on the Democratic side do not want to be committed to vote against the cigarette tax as it is contained in the Conference Report. The question of whether or not we can have the people understand that we are voting on the Conference Report rather than upon the bill itself remains within the rights of the newspapermen that are here. I do not know whether they can sell to the people of Pennsylvania the idea that the Democratic Members of the Senate are for the tax, but against the Conference Report. So, in order not to take a chance upon the papers selling that idea, I am going to ask my Democratic colleagues to vote for the Conference Report, and I, personally, will vote against it to highlight the situation. Personally, I do not care much what people think about what I am doing if in my own conscience I think I am doing right.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I want to say just one thing to the gentleman from Westmoreland. Because of the time element, I do not want to cover the various fields that he covered in his principal address.

Mr. President, there was some confusion that I would like to straighten out, and I think it only fair to say that when these figures were originally given, they were given to me and through carelessness or perhaps inattention to what I was being told, I transmitted these figures to the Executive Department and advised the Executive Department that the loss to the City of Pittsburgh would be $15,000.

Now, Mr. President, that was not the proper figure and it certainly was misinformation as far as the front office is concerned. So for whatever sentence is meted out, I want to take the rap for that one because the $15,000 was simply the estimate furnished by the City Treasurer of the City of Pittsburgh on the wholesale tax in this particular tax division, and the misinformation, or the leading astray of the front office, was strictly my inadvertent error. I want to say that to the gentlemen of the Senate so that there will be a clear understanding.

Mr. President, with regard to the Conference Report which I think should be the subject for discussion, as the gentleman from Westmoreland has said, out of the six conferees, he, like the oft famous song, "walks alone," and as he has stated in his written opinion as well as in his statement on the floor, he has certainly set forth his position in regard to this, and I think the gentleman of the Senate understand it.

Frankly, Mr. President, the position we take is simply this. We are convinced at this point that the school boards of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, with their budgets set up, need this money. We are approaching this simply from that basis, and expect to act accordingly. I, therefore, suggest to the gentleman of the Senate that we vote to concur in this Conference Report.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, will the Minority Floor Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. With pleasure, Mr. President.

Mr. WOOD. Mr. President, I understood the Minority Leader to say in his remarks that the Chairman of the Finance Committee had made misstatements to him, and I think that he should correct that for the record if he means "Yours Truly".

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think it is already corrected in the statement that I made, and I only read from my statement, and I want the Senate to know that Senator T. Newell Wood was not the Chairman of the Finance Committee when Act 481 was up before us. I only referred to the Chairman of the Finance Committee when Act 481 was before us and not the cigarette tax. The gentleman from Luzerne had no part in that discussion.

Mr. President, if I may, I appreciate the problem as it is stated by Senator Walker, that the school boards need the money. I knew that all along, but I cannot justify my position on those grounds. The morality of a tax, or the justification of a tax, cannot be measured by the action of any individual or group of individual communities of government. If it is wrong, if the principle is wrong, then it ought to be corrected, and as the Legislature always meets after the budgets are set by the school boards, can anybody within the hearing of my voice tell me how and when we will ever correct this injustice? At what time of the year can we meet when a budget of the school board does not interfere? I might say that in the Supreme Court decision, the reason the Supreme Court gave them the right to tax upon a tax is because a school board had a budget.

Now, Mr. President, the Constitution came before the budget and it will outlive the budgets of the various localities, and I do not think that we ought to determine our position on whether a school board circumvents the Constitution or not. I think that we ought to take a position, and I will live to see the day that we will take the position that you cannot put a tax upon a tax and survive.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, in following the reply of the Majority Leader to the objections in the Minority Report as delivered by the Minority Leader, is it correct when I say that I am led to believe that the Majority Leader concurs in the Minority Report in principle, but has acted as he has, as one of the majority, on the basis of political expediency and a need for finances as expressed by the school board in the City of Pittsburgh?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, in answer to the gentleman's question, if I might divide the question up, I certainly am not taking this position on the grounds of political expediency. I think that has been very apparent.

I take this position, Mr. President, because I, as I said formerly, am convinced from taking to the representatives of the school boards from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and the city setup, that they do need the money. I am not, by any stretch of the imagination, attempting to rebut any of the comments made by the gentleman from Westmoreland on the Conference Report. I, of course, am not including in my comments, Senator Neff, any of this collateral discussion on the Supreme Court because that would certainly be inept for me at this point.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, may I once again direct a question to the Majority Floor Leader?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Surely, Mr. President.

Mr. NEFF. Senator Walker, I take it then that you do agree in principle with the Minority Report that a tax upon a tax, such as we have here, is morally and constitutionally wrong?

Mr. WALKER. I do not want to go that far afield, Senator. Let me say this. I agree with the position that it is a tax on a tax. Now, I do not want to get involved in discussing a formal opinion of the Supreme Court from the standpoint of it being morally wrong, because I do not think that the Legislative Branch of the State Government should criticize either the Executive or Judicial Branch, and I do not want to be put in the position of suggesting, even indirectly, that the Supreme Court was morally wrong in arriving at that decision.

May I say to you, sir, if you, Senator Dent and I had been three of the members of the Supreme Court, we probably would not have voted with the majority in that decision.

Mr. NEFF. Mr. President, I think that the Majority Leader has satisfied my question.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the distinguished Minority Leader said he was going to ask the Democratic Members to vote for the Conference Report because he did not want some of the Minority Members to get in wrong with the people back home, in particular those municipalities where a mercantile tax or a gross receipts tax has been levied. I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland, and the Members of the Senate, that that does not worry me. We have a gross receipts tax in the city of Bethlehem, which includes a tax on cigarettes and other items. Of course, I cannot say much about the other items because they are not at issue here, but the cigarette tax is at issue.

I opposed the gross receipts tax by the city when it was proposed, and I opposed it because there were other sources of taxation from which funds could be realized. For instance, and this is a little bit off the subject, we have the Bethlehem Steel Company in Bethlehem, and it is said that the Bethlehem Steel Company property is worth about $950,000,000, and yet the city assesses the Steel Company property at only $16,000,000. If they would have increased the assessment of the Bethlehem

Steel property in Bethlehem to at least $50,000,000, they would not have need for the imposition of the gross receipts tax, which the people there are compelled to pay, so that I have no scruples in voting against this Conference Report with the Minority Leader.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 847, as follows:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1199) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as users on fuels used within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such users to secure licenses to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records imposing duties on dealers, wholesalers and carriers for hire imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensed users and making appropriations" by extending the provisions of the additional tax for a limited time

Section 1 Section four of the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1199) entitled "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as users on fuels within the Commonwealth in internal combustion engines for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles using the public highways providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such users to secure licenses to file bonds as a guarantee of payment of taxes penalties interest fines uncollectible check fees and Attorney General's fees to file reports and to compile and retain certain records imposing duties on dealers wholesalers and carriers for hire imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds of taxes penalties and interest illegally or erroneously collected from licensed users and making appropriations" as amended by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 893) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions A permanent excise tax at the rate of three cents (3c) a gallon or a fractional part thereof is hereby imposed on all users of fuel upon the use as herein defined of such fuel by any person within this Commonwealth when such fuel is used in whole or in part in an internal combustion engine for the generation of power to propel motor vehicles of any kind or character on the public highways to be computed in the manner hereinafter set forth in this act. The tax herein imposed shall not apply on fuels not within the taxing powers of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States. Provided That the tax herein imposed and assessed shall be paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any fuels. Provided further however That no tax is hereby imposed upon 1) any fuel that is used by the United States Government or (2) upon any fuel brought into this State in the fuel supply tank of the motor vehicle directly connected to the motor or (3) upon any fuel used in farm machinery or equipment engaged in the production or harvesting of farm or agricultural products involving the use of the public highways within a ten (10) mile radius of the domicile of the owner of the machinery or the equipment

In addition to such tax an additional State excise tax of two cents (c) a gallon or a fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed on all users of fuel upon the use as herein defined of such fuel by any person within this Commonwealth when such fuel is used in whole or in part in an internal combustion engine for the generation of powers to propel motor vehicles of any kind or character on the public highways for the period beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-nine and ending on the thirty-first day of May [one thousand nine hundred fifty-one] one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

The tax shall be payable upon fuels used by the Commonwealth and the political subdivisions thereof

Section 2 Effective Date This act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 848, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" by extending the provisions of the additional tax for a limited time

Section 1 Sections four and ten of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 149) entitled as amended "An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records imposing duties on retail dealers common carriers county commissioners and such distributors providing for rewards imposing certain costs on counties conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments providing for refunds imposing penalties and making an appropriation" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 315) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 Imposition of Tax Exemptions and Deductions A permanent State tax of three cents a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth excepting liquid fuels delivered to the United States Government on presentation of a duly authorized United States Government exemption certificate or other evidence satisfactory to the department and such liquid fuels used or sold and delivered as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the Commerce Clause of the Constitution of the United States Provided That the tax herein imposed and assessed shall be collected by and paid to the Commonwealth but once in respect to any liquid fuels

In addition to such tax on an additional State tax of two cents a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth for the period beginning on the day this act becomes effective and ending on the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred [fifty-one], fifty-three

Distributors shall be liable to the Commonwealth for the collection and payment of the tax imposed by this act The tax imposed by this act shall be collected by the distributor at the time the liquid fuels are used or sold and delivered by the distributor and shall be borne by the consumer

The tax shall be payable upon liquid fuels sold and delivered to or used by the Commonwealth and every political subdivision thereof

The department shall allow such handling and storage losses of liquid fuels as are substantiated to its satisfaction

Section 10 Disposition and Use of Tax (a) One-half cent per gallon of the permanent tax collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund of the State Treasury and such moneys paid into said fund are hereby specifically appropriated for the purposes hereinafter set forth

The moneys so paid into the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund except those that are refunded as hereinafter provided shall be paid to the respective counties of this Commonwealth on the first day of June and December of each year in the ratio that the average return made during the three (3) preceding years of each county bears to the average amount returned to all counties for the three preceding years Providing That the distribution of tax to the counties from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund that is payable the first day of August one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one shall be made under the provisions of the acts of Assembly repealed by this act

All moneys received by the counties hereunder shall be deposited and maintained in a special fund designated as the "County Liquid Fuels Tax Fund" into which no other moneys shall be deposited and commingled except in any county which does not have sufficient money in such special fund to provide for payments designated in the current annual budget for payment from such special fund for the purposes of construction reconstruction maintenance and repair of county-owned roads highways and bridges property damages interest and principal payments on road or bridge bonds or sinking fund charged for such bonds becoming due within the current calendar year The county for the purpose of such payments and such payments only may borrow and place in such special funds moneys not in excess of the liquid fuels tax funds to be received during the current calendar year and all such loans shall be repaid from such special fund before the expiration of the current calendar year and not thereafter Moneys so received and deposited shall be used only for the purpose of construction reconstruction maintenance and repair of roads highways and bridges including the payment of property damage now due or hereafter to become due occasioned

SENATE BILL No. 525 CALLED UP FROM POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I call up from the Third Reading Postponed Calendar Senate Bill No. 525 for consideration at this time.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 525, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 2 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five P. L. 275) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this State into three classes with respect to their population and designating the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification thereof in accordance therewith" by providing for the regression in classification of cities upon their decrease in population. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 2 of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand eight hundred ninety-five (P. L. 275) entitled "An act dividing the cities of this State into three classes with respect to their population and redesigning the mode of ascertaining and changing the classification thereof in accordance therewith" as amended by the act approved the ninth day of March one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 18) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 The classification of said cities respectively to determine whether they shall advance in classification shall be ascertained and fixed by reference to their population according to the last preceding United States census and whenever it shall appear by any such census that any city of the second second A or third class has attained a population entitling it to an advance in classification as herein prescribed it shall be the duty of the Governor under the great seal of this Commonwealth to certify the fact accordingly which certificate shall be entered at large upon the minutes of the councils of such city and recorded in the office for recording the deeds of the proper county

The classification of said cities respectively to determine whether they shall regress in classification shall be ascertained and fixed by reference to the last two preceding United States decennial censuses and whenever it shall appear by both of such censuses that any city of the first second or second A class has decreased in population below the minimum population figures prescribed for its current classification it shall be the duty of the Governor under the great seal of the Commonwealth to certify the fact accordingly which certificate shall be entered at large upon the minutes of the councils of such city and recorded in the office for recording the deeds of the proper county

It is the intent of the preceding paragraph that the classification of any city of the first second and second class A shall not be changed because its population was below the minimum figure for its class at the time of one United States decennial census because it is recognized that a change in the form of a municipal government is attended by certain expense and hardship and such change should not be occasioned by a temporary fluctuation in population but rather only after it is demonstrated by two censuses that the population of a city has remained below the minimum figure of its class for at least a decade

At the municipal election occurring not less than one month after the date of such certificate the proper officers shall be elected to which the said city will become entitled under the change in classification and upon the first Monday of April next ensuing the term of all officers of said city then in office whose offices are superseded by reason thereof shall cease and determine and the city government shall be duly organized and shall thereafter be controlled and regulated by the laws of this Commonwealth applicable to the same under the classification hereby fixed and appointed

Until otherwise provided by law cities of the second class A shall continue to be governed and shall have all the powers privileges and prerogatives now provided by the laws of the Commonwealth relating to cities of the second class

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, May 24, 1951, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 4:19 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, May 24, 1951, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1951.

The House met at 11:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Herbert P. Sorg) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend William Hugh Fryer, offered the following prayer:

O God our Father, good beyond all that is good, fair beyond all that is fair, in Whom is calmness and peace; make up, we beseech Thee, the dissensions which divide us from each other and bring us back into that unity of love which is the likeness of Thy sublime nature; that bound together in Thy Spirit, we may know that peace of Thine which maketh all things one; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Tuesday, May 22, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

STUDY OF NEEDS OF THE AGING AND AGED

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

(Serial No. 122) In the Senate, May 1, 1951.

Whereas, The personal, family, social, medical, financial and related problems arising from the continued increase in the number and proportion of Pennsylvanians of advanced age are of growing magnitude; and

Whereas, These problems are of such striking significance and so intricate as to warrant special and intensive attention by the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, All aspects of this rise in the aging population presents the Commonwealth with increasingly serious social and human problems; now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a comprehensive and intensive study of the state-wide needs and problems of the aging and the aged and to develop in cooperation with other governmental and voluntary groups ways and means to assist the Commonwealth in meeting these needs and problems and in such study the commission may appoint and consult with a Citizen Advisory Committee of competent lay and professional citizens who have demonstrated interests in and knowledge of the aging and the aged. Such study shall concentrate on the following:

1. Employment opportunities for older persons.
2. Facilities and services for the aged including: counseling and personal services, employment guidance and placement services, medical care services, institutional services, treatment and rehabilitation for the chronically ill, care of and rehabilitation for the disabled and handicapped, recreation, education and related community services.
3. Analysis of the problems of the aged receiving old-age assistance with special reference to the adequacy of grants and standards of living, boarding homes and other sheltered care for the indigent aged.

4. Special attention to the problems of care and treatment of the senile aged.

5. Study of other special needs as develop in the course of the study; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission shall report to the General Assembly on or before February first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, the results of its studies and investigations and recommendations.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. One hundred seventy-eight Members have answered and a quorum is present. The House is ready to proceed with the business of the day.

FURTHER PROCEEDINGS UNDER CALL DISPENSED WITH

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to send for absentees, I move that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with at this time.

The motion was agreed to.

PUPILS OF UNIONTOWN ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome one hundred twenty pupils of the Uniontown Elementary School of Coal Township, Northumberland County, under the supervision of their principal, Mr. Ralph Kramer. They are the guests of the gentleman from Northumberland, Mr. Stank.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. HALL for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. MADDEN for himself for the week after today's session because of illness in the family.

Mr. DOUGHERTY for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. HAGERTY for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. GUARNIERI for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. AMARANDO for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. PETA for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. PETTIGREW for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. WACHHAUS for himself for the week after today's session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent of the House to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to make what might be a clarifying statement.

First of all, there are important bills which will be pending upon tomorrow's calendar, various liquor bills and other bills upon which Members of the House may desire to vote. Those bills will proceed in their regular order. There is no consent calendar for tomorrow.

If there is a quorum in the House, I understand the bills on the calendar will be called up for consideration.

Obviously, if there is not a quorum in the House, a quorum will be sent for. It is not my intention tomorrow to make a call of the House. However, I would have no power to prevent someone else from making such a call. It should also be understood, that whatever members are in the Hall of the House tomorrow, can revoke leaves of absence and send for absentees.

Such Members as desire to vote upon the bills on the calendar which we will have tomorrow must necessarily be in their seats. And if there is not a quorum, I understand the majority leadership will take steps to see to it that there is a quorum.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman, and understands that the gentleman refers to those for whom no valid excuse is offered.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. ROSE for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. TAHL for himself for the week after today's session.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Am I to understand from the statement by the Minority Leader that we will progress through the calendar without passing over any bills upon the calendar tomorrow.

The SPEAKER. The Chair was given the impression by the Minority Leader that the calendar would be acted upon in accordance with the usual process of treating a calendar.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that was not my decision. I understand that that is the position of the Majority Leader.

If that is not the position of the Majority Leader, I am not the one who is saying that the bills on the calendar tomorrow will be called in their order and acted upon.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, my only comment is, that I believe it has been the agreement of the House that there will be no consent calendar tomorrow. Bills that are called up, those present will be recorded as voting; and no member will be recorded as voting so far as I am concerned who is not present in the Hall of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, in the event that there would be no consent calendar, and only those present will be recorded as voting, is it true that one Member objecting to the passing over of a bill will necessitate action upon that measure?

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman, a motion to postpone may be made and it would be within the control of the majority of the Members present as to whether that bill would be acted upon or not.

In order to pass over a bill, unanimous consent of the Members present is necessary.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank you, Mr. Speaker.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. GRANVILLE E. JONES for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. PICHNEY for himself for the week after today's session for business reasons.

Mr. ROSEN for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. BRETH for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. BOIES for himself for the week after today's session because of urgent personal business.

Mr. WILT for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. FILO for himself for the week after today's session to assist the Board of Undertakers of the State of Pennsylvania in holding hearings in Pittsburgh.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ for himself for the week after today's session because of professional business.

Mr. Polen for Mr. MAZZA for today and the week to attend a funeral.

Mr. PAUL F. JONES for himself for the week after today's session.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON for himself for the week after today's session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MUSTO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I suggest to the rest of the Members of the House, to fit in with the leaves of absence, that we all ask for a leave of absence for the rest of the week after today's session.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I offer the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 844.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that this report has been printed.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 844

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 844, entitled:

"An act to reenact the title and to reenact and further amend the act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. diction and excepting retail dealers located in veterans' administration hospitals as to sales of cigarettes to patients in said hospital to continue to engage in or thereafter to begin to engage in the sale of cigarettes at retail within this Commonwealth unless a cigarette permit or permits shall have been issued to him as hereinafter prescribed

(b) Every person desiring to continue to engage in or hereafter to being to engage in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale or retail within this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall file an application for a cigarette permit or permits with the department Every application for a cigarette permit shall be made upon a form prescribed prepared and furnished by the department and shall set forth the name under which the applicant transacts or intends to transact business the location of his place of business within this Commonwealth and such other information as the department may require If the applicant has or intends to have more than one place of business within the Commonwealth the application shall state the location of each place of business If the applicant is an association the application shall set forth the names and addresses of the persons constituting the association and if a corporation the names and addresses of the principal officers thereof and any other information prescribed by the department for purposes of identification The application shall be signed by the owner if a natural person and in the case of an association by a member or partner thereof and in the case of a corporation by an executive officer thereof or some person specifically authorized by the corporation to sign the application to which shall be attached the written evidence of his authority

At the time of making such application the applicant shall pay to the department a permit fee of one dollar ($1.00) for each permit

Upon approval of the application and the payment of the permit fee or fees herein required the department shall grant and issue to each applicant a cigarette permit for each place of business within the Commonwealth set forth in his application Cigarette permits shall not be assignable and shall be valid only for the persons in whose names issued and for the transaction of business at the places designated therein and shall at all times be conspicuously displayed at the places for which issued

All permits shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date upon which they are issued unless sooner suspended surrendered or revoked for cause by the department

(c) Permits issued under the provisions of this act may be renewed annually before the first day of January upon application made to the department and the payment of a renewal fee of one dollar ($1.00)

Whenever any permit issued under the provisions of this act is defaced destroyed or lost the department may issue a duplicate permit to the holder of the defaced destroyed or lost permit upon the payment of a fee of fifty cents ($.50)

(d) The department may suspend or after hearing revoke a cigarette permit whenever it finds that the holder thereof has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this act or any rules or regulations of the department prescribed adopted and promulgated under this act Upon suspending or revoking any cigarette permit the department shall request the holder thereof to surrender to it immediately all permits or duplicates thereof issued to him and the holder shall surrender promptly all such permits to the department as requested Whenever the department suspends a cigarette permit it shall notify the holder immediately and afford him a hearing if desired and if a hearing has not already been afforded After such hearing the department shall either rescind its order of suspension or good cause appearing therefor shall continue the suspension or revoke the permit

Section 4 A State excise tax is hereby imposed and assessed upon sale of cigarettes by dealers at the rate of two cents per ten cigarettes or fraction thereof except such sales of cigarettes as are not within the taxing power of this Commonwealth under the commerce clause

of the Constitution of the United States and except such sales as are made to authorized purchasers by those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof Provided That only one sale of the same package of cigarettes shall be used in computing the amount of tax due hereunder

Except as hereinafter provided dealers shall be liable to the Commonwealth as taxpayers for the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall pay the tax into the State Treasury through the department by purchasing from the department adhesive stamps of such design and denominations as may be prescribed by the department

Manufacturers of cigarettes located either within or outside of this Commonwealth and wholesale dealers in cigarettes located outside of this Commonwealth may purchase stamps from the department and affix such stamps in the manner hereinafter prescribed to packages of cigarettes to be sold within this Commonwealth in which case the dealer within this Commonwealth receiving such stamped packages of cigarettes will not be required to purchase and affix stamps on such packages of cigarettes

Section 5 Each dealer shall affix within the time hereinafter prescribed to each package of cigarettes stamps furnished by and purchased from the department evidencing the payment of the tax imposed by this act and shall cancel such stamps before such cigarettes are offered for sale or before they are otherwise disposed of unless stamps have been affixed to such packages of cigarettes before such dealer received them Each wholesale dealer in this Commonwealth shall affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department prior to the delivery of such packages to any retail dealer in this Commonwealth

Each retail dealer in this Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof shall immediately upon the receipt of any cigarettes at his place of business so affix such stamps to each package of cigarettes unless such stamps shall have been previously affixed thereto and shall cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department or shall immediately mark in ink on each unopened box carton or other container of such cigarettes the word "received" and the month day and year of such receipt and shall affix his signature thereto The retail dealer shall in any event open such box carton or other container and immediately affix such stamps to each package therein and cancel the same in the manner prescribed by the department within twenty-four hours after such receipt and prior to the sale of such cigarettes

Whenever any cigarettes are found in the place of business of such retail dealer without the stamps affixed and cancelled or not marked as having been received within the preceding twenty-four hours as required by this section the prima facie presumption shall arise that such cigarettes are kept therein in violation of the provisions of this act

Stamps shall be affixed to each package of cigarettes of and aggregate denomination not less than the amount of the tax upon the contents therein and shall be affixed in such manner that they will be visible to the purchaser Upon affixing stamps to a package of cigarettes the person affixing them shall cancel them by such method or in such manner as may be prescribed by the department

Section 6 The department shall prescribe prepare and furnish adhesive stamps of such denominations and quantities as may be necessary for the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act The department shall make provisions for the sale of such stamps in such places and at such times as it may deem necessary

The department shall appoint wholesale dealers in cigarettes within this Commonwealth and may appoint any other persons within or without the Commonwealth as agents to affix the stamps to be used in paying the tax herein imposed upon sales of cigarettes but a wholesale dealer shall at all times have the right to appoint the person who is to affix the stamps to any cigarettes under his control and whenever the department shall sell consign or deliver to any such agent any such stamps such agent shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services and expenses as such agent in affixing such stamps and to retain out of the moneys to be paid by him for such stamps a commission of four per centum on the par value thereof if and when such agent has purchased the stamps affixed by him directly from the department. The department is hereby authorized and required to allow such commission or compensation in the settlement of the accounts of such agent upon payment by him into the State Treasury through the department of any moneys which may be or become due to the Commonwealth by reason of the sale delivery or consignment to such agent of such stamps.

Section 7 Every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at wholesale within this Commonwealth and every person engaged in the sale of cigarettes at retail within the Commonwealth except those persons exempt under section 3(a) hereof shall maintain and keep for a period of two years such record or records of cigarettes received sold and delivered within this Commonwealth by him together with invoices bills of lading and other pertinent papers as may be required by the department.

The department or any agent appointed in writing by it is hereby authorized to examine the books papers invoices and other records the stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are placed stored and sold and equipment of any such wholesale or retail dealer pertaining to the sale and delivery of cigarettes taxable under this act to verify the accuracy of the payment of the tax imposed and assessed by this act. Every such person is hereby directed and required to give to the Secretary of Revenue or his duly authorized representative the means facilities and opportunity for such examinations as are hereby provided and required.

Section 8 The department is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act and is hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe adopt promulgate and enforce rules and regulations relating to

(a) The method and the means to be used in the cancellation of stamps

(b) The denominations and sale of stamps

(c) Any other matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this act.

Section 9 Whenever any cigarettes upon which stamps have been placed by a dealer have been sold and shipped by him into another state for sale or use therein or have been sold to those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof for resale to authorized purchasers or have become unfit for use and consumption or unsalable or have been destroyed such dealer shall be entitled to a refund of the actual amount of tax paid by him with respect to such cigarettes. If the department is satisfied that any dealer is entitled to a refund it shall certify the proposed amount of such refund to the Board of Finance and Revenue for approval and thereafter shall issue to such dealer stamps of sufficient value to cover the refund as approved by the board. The department is hereby authorized to adopt prescribe and promulgate such rules and regulations with regard to the presentation and proof of claim for refunds as it may deem advisable.

The department may promulgate rules and regulations to relieve manufacturers and dealers from affixing the stamps on such cigarettes as are sold and shipped to points outside the Commonwealth for use outside the Commonwealth or on such cigarettes as are sold to those persons exempt under section 3 (a) hereof for resale to authorized purchasers.

Section 10 Every person other than a common carrier or the employee thereof who shall possess or transport any cigarettes upon the public highways roads or streets of this Commonwealth for the purpose of delivery sale or disposition shall be required to have in his actual possession invoices or delivery tickets for such cigarettes. The absence of such invoices or delivery tickets shall be prima facie evidence that such person is a dealer in cigarettes in this Commonwealth and subject to the provisions of this act.

Section 11 (a) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without being the holder of a cigarette permit or permits as required by this act shall upon conviction in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars ($25) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment thereof to undergo imprisonment for not more than ten (10) days.

(b) Any person who shall sell cigarettes without purchasing and affixing stamps to each package thereof as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced for the first offense to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000) or to suffer imprisonment for a term not exceeding six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court and in the case of a conviction of a second or subsequent offense hereunder shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500) or more than one thousand dollars ($1000) and to suffer imprisonment for a term not less than six (6) months or more than three (3) years.

(c) Any person who shall fail neglect or refuse to comply with or shall violate the rules and regulations prescribed adopted and promulgated by the department under the provisions of this act or who shall refuse to permit the department or any agent appointed by it in writing to examine his books papers invoices and other records his stock of cigarettes in and upon any premises where the same are prepared stored and sold and his equipment pertaining to the sale of cigarettes taxable under this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than five hundred dollars ($500) or to suffer imprisonment of not more than six (6) months or both in the discretion of the court.

(d) Any person who falsely or fraudulently makes forges alters [for] or counterfeits any stamp prescribed by the department under the provisions of this act or causes or procures to be falsely or fraudulently made forged altered or counterfeited any such stamp or knowingly and wilfully utters publishes passes or tenders as true any such false altered forged or counterfeited stamp or uses more than once any stamp provided for and required by this act for the purpose of evading the tax hereby imposed and assessed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to suffer imprisonment for a term of not less than two (2) years or more than five (5) years.

(e) Any person not being a duly licensed dealer under the provisions of this act or not exempt under section 3 (a) hereof who shall have in his possession two hundred (200) or more cigarettes upon which State cigarette tax has not been paid or to the containers of which Pennsylvania cigarette tax stamps are not affixed in the amount herein required shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars ($25) and cost of prosecution for each two hundred (200) cigarettes found in his possession the cigarettes shall be forfeited to the Commonwealth and in default of the payment of the said fine and costs shall be imprisoned in the county jail one (1) day for each dollar of fine and costs unpaid.

Section 12 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of its provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional the decision of the court shall not affect or impair any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provisions not been included herein.

Section 13 This act shall become effective thirty days after its final enactment and shall continue in effect until [and including the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred fifty-one] repealed.

Section 2 This reenacting and amending act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-one.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, as the Members will see from the printed report, it was signed by all of the members of the Conference Committee with the exception of the minority representative in the Senate.

The report in question had to deal with whether or not cigarette interests in Allegheny County should be exempt from the mercantile tax. This was a matter in which the city of Pittsburgh was interested to the extent of at least revenue totalling $75,000, and in which the city or school district, or both in Philadelphia, would be interested to the tune of at least $250,000.

The minority representative in the Senate filed a minority report in which the position was taken that the imposition of this mercantile tax upon the cigarette interests was unjust and unfair and contrary to the traditions of the tax legislation upon which the General Assembly had acted.

My personal position was that I was opposed to the amendments imposed in the bill by the Senate, exempting the cigarette interests from the mercantile tax imposed under the provisions of Act 481. It is my position that one by one various interests are seeking to escape from beneath the tent of 481 and that there was a progressive movement to make the provisions of 481 apply ultimately solely to wages and it was upon that basis that I opposed the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate. I was not concerned with the argument made by the minority representative in the Senate that the bill was in some way unjust to the cigarette interests.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 685, entitled

An Act to further amend subsection four of Section 3 of the act approved the nineteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 1356) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and delivery of solid fuel as herein defined providing for appointment of licensed weighmasters prescribing their powers and duties authorizing substitute licensed weighmasters imposing certain duties on the Department of Internal Affairs and providing penalties" by providing that copies of weighmaster's certificates may be seized for use as evidence by any inspector of weights and measures

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 993, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Secretary of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor and the Board of Trustees of the Woodville State Hospital to sell and convey a certain tract of land in the township of Collier Allegheny County Pennsylvania owned by the Commonwealth to the Universal Concrete Pipe Company and providing for the disposition of the proceeds of the purchase moneys

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1038, entitled:

An Act regulating the sale and use of air and spring guns providing for the licensing of those defined as dealers in air guns conferring powers and imposing duties on the Commissioner of the State Police certain courts chief of police of cities and sheriffs and prescribing penalties

The first, second and third sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WACHHAUS offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 4, page 3, by inserting between lines 13 and 14 the following:

"The parents, guardian or instructor who give or make available to a minor an air gun shall by so doing assume civil liability for any harm or injury caused to any person or property by the use or misuse of the air gun by the minor."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, the intent of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wachhaus, to Section 4 for all intents and purposes makes the parents, guardians or instructors of a minor an insurer's liability. What these amendments do is to state that in event a parent, guardian or instructor gives or makes available to a minor an air gun, that he, she or they assume an absolute liability of a civil nature with regard to any damage done by the minor with the gun.

Now it can be very easily assumed that in the event that some parent buys the child a gun under this bill between the ages of, say 14 and 16, and puts the gun away to be only used on a range, and the child gets the gun without permission, goes out and does damage there is an absolute insurer's liability and no defense whatsoever.

I am asking that the House vote down the amendments to section 4 offered by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wachhaus.

Mr. WACHHAUS. Mr. Speaker, the intent of the amendment that I have offered is to put some teeth into what I consider a rather weak bill. The sponsor, Mr. Robertson from Delaware, points out that such an instance may happen to a youth between 14 and 16. He does not point out the fact that parents are apt to give children anywhere from 5 to 6 years of age an air rifle—6, 7, or 8— and those children are utterly irresponsible in the way they handle such a weapon.

It is children of that age, who usually use their guns in the back yard, where most of the damage to other children occurs. It is not so much with the boys between 14 and 16, where they are supposed to have a little more judgment in what they shoot at. But the lower age bracket from 6 up to 14 are the ones who need to be deterred. These amendments of mine bring on a civil liability to any parent or guardian who provides such a gun to youngsters.

I believe the bill will be strengthened considerably if there is some such deterrent. I am asking that the membership of the House give it careful consideration and pass these amendments. I believe that the general feeling is that the previous bills that have come up for consideration in a public hearing were much better, and would have been acceptable to the membership of the House had they been brought on the floor of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ROBERTSON. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding in the discussion of an amendment to a bill that discussion is restricted to the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct. However, the Chair would remind the gentleman that considerable latitude has been allowed.

The Chair would request the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Wachhaus, to confine his remarks to the subject matter of the amendments to Section 4.

Mr. WACHHAUS. Thank you Mr. Speaker, I shall.

As I have said before, it is my considered judgment, and that of many of the Members of the House here, that the bill is weak, that it needs strengthening and that my amendments will put teeth into the bill. We can pass many weak bills here, as we have done, and this is one opportunity where we can pass a strong bill. If this is not acceptable to the sponsor of the bill, then I say let us refer it back to Committee and study it further so that we can bring out a bill that is acceptable and will protect the eyes of the children in Pennsylvania. I urge the membership of the House to vote in favor of these amendments.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, as the gentleman has said his amendments will put teeth into this bill. I agree that is correct. However, the teeth that he puts in will bite too deeply.

As was pointed out by Mr. Robertson, this amendment places practically an insurer's liability upon the parents or the instructors in charge of a child. It is possible, as was pointed out, that the child has received the gun or gotten the gun without the parents' knowledge. His amendment does not require negligence on the part of the parent; but merely the fact that the child has the gun and does the damage makes the parents or the instructor liable.

The teeth that Mr. Wachhaus desires to put in, as I have said before, bite too deeply. I would urge that this amendment be voted down.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I regret very much that I must oppose the amendments proposed by a very dear friend of mine, Mr. Wachhaus, but as someone once said, a wasp on a baby's head is bad, but to hit the wasp with a hammer in order to kill it is worse.

I feel very deeply that these BB guns and air rifles should be outlawed completely in the state of Pennsylvania, but since my view did not prevail in the Committee and the bill is before use to regulate these devices, I think we should do it in a manner that does not unduly penalize people who should not be penalized in this manner.

In my opinion if this amendment goes into the bill it is going to become a booby trap bill. I think we will all agree that most parents who buy these BB guns in the future, should this bill become law, will not know anything about it. They will buy a gun in good faith, knowing that it is lawful to buy them, and let their children use them. They will understand that they are to be with their small children when they are used. But as Mr. Robertson and Mr. Lopresti have pointed out children will get these guns at times contrary to their parents' instructions and precautions and will hurt each other sometimes. Some good fathers and mothers are going to lose their homes, because they did not know that they were becoming insurers with reference to any damages or injuries caused by their child.

What I think should be done, and may be done eventually, if we want to completely protect from monetary laws at least, the family of an injured child, is to provide that any person who buys one of these guns and lets the minor child use it will, at the time he buys it, have to procure a policy of insurance which would cover any person who is injured by the use of one of these guns.

That amendment is not before us, and I merely suggest that that might be a sensible way of solving this problem. I do not think we should pass this amendment. It is not going to restore any child's sight, if a child loses his sight. It is simply going to pauperize some family, parents who perhaps have taken the greatest care not to let their child cause any damage.

I might also point out that a friend of a family might be out with a child when the child is using one of these guns, and if for just one moment he takes his eye off that child and at that moment an accident happens, not an intentional injury but just an accident, that friend would be just as liable as the father or mother to the extent of whatever that damage or injury might be. That of itself is a harsh manner of treating any good friend who takes a friend's child out for an afternoon.

I ask that these amendments be defeated.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, these amendments I think are probably offered in good faith. The proponents of these amendments want to strengthen the bill. I have had considerable to do with BB guns, air guns, rifles, shot guns and so forth. These amendments will do two things. And I am serious, I am not facetious about this at all.

First of all, if these amendments are put through and the bill goes through it is a, b, c, that the parents and the boys are going to forget and disregard BB guns entirely. Instead of the parent putting into the hands of the boy who wants to learn to shoot, which is the express purpose of the bill and its preamble, they are going to buy him a 22. They are not going to take the chance of putting into the hands of a boy a BB gun and come under the liabilities under these amendments. They will buy him a 22. There are no regulations of this sort, no liabilities connected with the handling of a 22 in the hands of a boy which these amendments put into the handling of a BB gun. So these amendments defeat the purpose of the bill.

Number two. Mr. Readinger raised the issue of its being a bobby trap. It is in another way of saying it. Lots of times when I go out into the woods, my friends say "Take Jimmy along, he is fourteen, fifteen, take him along out in the woods with you. He has a new BB gun," or "He wants to shoot." So okeh I take him along. Under these amendments, if he shoots something, anyone, or does any damage, I am liable. I am liable or any Member of this House would be liable, or any sportsman or person accompanying that youth of fourteen to sixteen would be liable, and that to my mind is ridiculous.

I think the amendments to this bill if added to it, would destroy the bill. I am not opposed to the bill as it stands, but I certainly, as a sportsman, an individual and as a citizen and with the future of the boy in mind in his handling of fire arms, which these bills intend to encourage, I say these amendments would defeat that purpose.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MAXWELL. For the information of this House would the gentleman please tell us whether parents are now liable for the acts of their minor children; I mean for any act.

Mr. LOPRESTI. As a general rule, Mr. Speaker, parents are not liable for the torts of their children, unless the parents contribute in some way by their negligence to the tort committed by the child.

Mr. MAXWELL. That is all I want to know. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the amendment that is presented should be voted into the bill. Personally since 1935 I have been the BB gun sponsor, and to me the BB gun is no toy whatever,—it is a weapon. There is no doubt about it, it is destructive, it is no toy at all. Even the sale of a BB gun means nothing to me. One child's eye is worth more than all the BB guns that are sold.

This argument about soldiers, about young men, is ridiculous. You men that were in the army, you give them the carbine, you get them to aim and you give them the routine and the basic training. These things do not do a thing like it. These amendments I believe, if anything, should outlaw entirely the BB gun in this state.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fifth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. WACHHAUS offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 5, page 4, line 9, by inserting after the word "from" the following: "into."

Amend Section 5, page 4, line 9, by inserting after the word "road" the following: "or sidewalk."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, there is no objection on my part as a co-sponsor to the amendments to section 5.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The sixth and seventh sections were separately read and agreed to.

The eighth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TAHL offered the following amendment:

Page 6, line 12, following the word disposition, by inserting the following: "Whenever a violation of this act results in injury to any person the magistrate or justice of the peace hearing the matter shall order that the fine or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be paid to the physician surgeon nurse pharmacist or hospital which shall have furnished services care or medicine to the injured person."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise in opposition to this particular amendment, for several reasons.

First of all, the amendment brings into law a procedure which I believe is almost totally foreign to our legal procedure in Pennsylvania.

I know of no case where a disposition of the fine is allowed to be made by a magistrate or a Justice of the Peace to certain individuals.

I raise that first objection merely on the basis of principle that it violates a principle of law where the fines are usually made payable to the community, to the state or to some department of the state.

Secondly, I object to this particular amendment because it provides that the fine or portion of it shall be paid to number of individuals.

It says that the fine may be paid to the physician, surgeon, nurse, pharmacist or hospital. It is conceivable that in the case of the person injured there will be a physician, the physician who attends the family, and also a surgeon, also a hospital and also a nurse to be considered. We have the total maximum fine of $300 which can be charged under this act. A Justice of the Peace is allowed discretion under this act to permit that money to be paid either to the hospital or to the doctor or any one of the individuals named. Where the expenses may amount to several thousand dollars, I do not know how the Justice of the Peace or the magistrate can judiciously divide $300 without creating some bad feelings among the various professional people involved.

I believe it is a bad amendment and should be voted down. Mr. Tahl might say that the money would be paid to the parents and then the parents in turn would use it toward payment of the medical expenses. But the bill and the amendment itself does not say that; it says that the money shall be paid to the various individuals, and does not say how the magistrate shall determine how much of the fine shall go to each of the individuals.

It is conceivable that the magistrate may allow the entire fine to be paid to the hospital, leaving the doctors, the surgeon and the nurse out; or he may order it all paid to the doctor, leaving the hospital out. I personally think it is a bad amendment and should be voted down.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to defend these amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

I think they might have been drawn in a little better manner so that the allocation of any fine imposed might have been distributed more scientifically, if you want to call it that, but I do think the amendment has merit.

This bill is seeking to regulate the use of BB guns, and of course a fine will only be imposed where there has been a violation of the law, or the regulations made under this law. It seems to me to be much more sensible to divert these fines, if any are imposed, to the use of the injured person, than to put them in the county treasury or into the state treasury.

It is conceivable that the person fined under this act might be a very poor person. He might be able to raise $300 to pay a fine and stay out of jail. He might not have any money with which to pay a civil judgment, if one should be rendered against him. And as I say, it seems manifestly more sensible to give this money to the doctor, or the hospital in whatever proportion the magistrate sees fit, than to put the money in the treasury.

The payment of the fine by the person who causes the injury is his penalty, not to enrich the county or to enrich the state at the expense of some doctor who has given his time, or some nurse or hospital. It simply does not make sense. I would like to see this amendment passed.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state whether or not he is a member of the bar?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman tell us how, if he were a magistrate, he would proceed to divide the fine collected for these violations where a hospital, nurse, surgeon and doctor are all involved?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would total up all the bills of the various individuals involved and I would prorate the fine among them. What could be fairer than that?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, is there anything in this amendment which would require the Justice of the Peace to do that?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, there is not.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, is it possible, under this amendment that the Justice of the Peace could favor the doctor as against the hospital, the nurse, and the pharmacist?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, very possible. He could prefer anyone he wanted.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in other words, the gentleman says he could prefer the hospital as against the doctor or the doctor as against the hospital, and make a preference in awarding the amount.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, he certainly could.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, and I desire to know further whether the gentleman from Berks does not think that the fine imposed by the magistrate in a great many instances would be governed to some extent at least, by the amount of bills submitted to the parent of the child?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, believing all magistrates and Justices of the Peace to be eminently fair persons, I do not think that the amount of the bills would have anything to do with the amount of the fine imposed.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, it is not possible that the fine here could range anywhere up to $300?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, and does not the gentleman think that that would influence the magistrate in fining the individual?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think it might in some cases, but I think in the main it would not.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman believe actually that in most cases the magistrate would be governed in his fine by the amount of the bills?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think not.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I believe the answers given by Mr. Readinger constitute a good argument to vote down these amendments.

He has admitted that in effect, the magistrate can prefer one class of individuals over and above another class, and I think that that sort of legislation is very bad legislation.

I want to repeat again that I do not believe that we in this Legislature should depart from our general rule that we collect fines for the use of the general public and not for the individual. I do not believe we should make magistrates and the criminal courts a collection bureau.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker, in defending these amendments, I would say that Mr. Readinger has thoroughly covered the point as to why these amendments should pass.

It is only a matter of fairness that those who are injured should be paid medical expenses. So far as the inconsistency is concerned, I want to call the attention of the gentlemen to the fact that the game laws at the present time provide that in case a person is shot and is injured, the magistrate has the right to apply part of the fine to the payment of the medical expenses.

I think this is fair, it is reasonable. I ask the Members to vote for these amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

L. 1225), entitled, "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," by changing the shooting restrictions on regulated shooting grounds.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. GOODLING offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 411), page 4, line 3, by striking out the bracket before the word "be."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 411), page 4, lines 6, 7, and 8, by striking out the following "begin" in line 6, and all of lines 7 and 8.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Goodling.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODLING. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I notice that this bill speaks about second generation ducks. I would like to know whether Mr. Goodling's amendment has anything to do with second generation ducks, and if so what they are and how you tell them from other ducks?

Mr. GOODLING. It does not Mr. Speaker. But in order that this House may have scientific advice on this subject I should like to yield to an outstanding geneticist, the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York, Mr. Goodling, yields to the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth.

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for yielding to such an eminent authority. I could be an authority on second generation horse thieves or something like that.

It seems to me if the gentleman is serious well, Mr. Speaker, in any species of life or wild life, the first generation is the first generation. And if the first generation is wild and mated with another species of the opposite sex which is wild, the progeny is wild too. Some of the Members of this House may understand what I mean by their "night life."

However, scientifically this comes, I think, under the federal regulation that you dare not shoot wild ducks. They are national property, federal property and in order to get around that on a public shooting ground—now frankly I am serious—they will take a tame duck and mate it, cross it with a wild duck, and then you get half wild ducks. If they mate the progeny of a half wild duck of that mating, and mate them again, they get the second generation, which is about a quarter wild, which this bill would allow to be shot.

I hope that explanation will satisfy the Chairman of the Game Committee, Mr. Goodling, and also the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, if I may be permitted to observe I think both these gentlemen have been ducking the issue.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, would I be permitted to interrogate the eminent geneticist from Clearfield County?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, it is a privilege to be questioned by the eminent Legislator of America.

Mr. ANDREWS. Do these second generation ducks travel with genealogical tables attached, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BRETH. I did not actually understand the word, Mr. Speaker; was it table or trail?

Mr. ANDREWS. Family tree. Do they carry around with them, or do they nest with them, or do they in any way carry their family tree so that you can detect the descent and the intermingling of blood in connection with the result that you picture in this bill?

Mr. BRETH. They do, Mr. Speaker. The half-wild progeny and the quarter-wild progeny are kept strictly under control.

Mr. ANDREWS. He is not an eminent geneticist, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 426, entitled

An Act to amend section seven hundred twenty-one of the act, approved the third day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1225), entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," by changing the period for retriever trials.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 753, as follows:

An Act relating to appeals from decisions of magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace limiting in certain cases the right of appeal and transferring jurisdiction in such appeals in certain cases to county court of Allegheny county and municipal court of Philadelphia The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In every action of trespass before a magistrate alderman or justice of the peace in which a right of appeal from the decision thereof to the court of common pleas now exists such right of appeal shall hereafter apply only where the judgment given by the magistrate alderman or justice of the peace shall exceed the amount of one hundred dollars ($100) excluding costs In case the amount of the judgment in any action of trespass does not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) the judgment of the magistrate alderman or justice of the peace shall be final except by petition for special allowance

There shall not be a right of appeal in any case of trespass where the defendant fails to appear at the hearing except for cause shown upon petition for special allowance

Section 2 Appeals from decisions of magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace in Allegheny county shall hereafter be taken to county court of Allegheny county and in Philadelphia county to the municipal court of Philadelphia the jurisdiction hereby conferred shall be exclusive within the territorial limits of such courts

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 971, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 493) entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof" by permitting the use of bituminized-fibre pipe in certain plumbing construction authorizing the use of substitute materials in certain cases and adding certain persons to the hearing board in cities of the second class

Section 1 The third paragraph of Section 8 of the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred one (P. L. 493) entitled as amended "An act providing for the examination licensure and registration of persons firms or corporations engaged or engaging in the business or work of plumbing or house drainage and prescribing certain rules regulations and requirements for the construction of plumbing house drainage and cesspools in cities of the second class second class A and third class and imposing fines penalties and forfeiture for violation thereof" as last amended by the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 168) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Materials of House or Building Drains

* * * * *

The size of the main house drain shall be determined by the total area of the buildings and paved surfaces to be drained according to the following table if iron pipe or bituminized-fibre pipe is used If the pipe is terra cotta the diameter shall be one size larger for the same amount of area drainage

Diameter	Fall $\frac{1}{4}$ inch Per Foot	Fall $\frac{1}{2}$ inch Per Foot
4 in	1,800 sq ft drainage area	2,500 sq ft drainage area
5 in	3,000 sq ft drainage area	4,500 sq ft drainage area
6 in	5,000 sq ft drainage area	7,500 sq ft drainage area
8 in	9,100 sq ft drainage area	13,600 sq ft drainage area
10 in	14,000 sq ft drainage area	20,000 sq ft drainage area

Section 13.1 Where the ground is of sufficient solidity for a proper foundation cylindrical bituminized-fibre pipe of the best quality free from flaws splits or cracks and meeting the applicable commercial standards of the United States Department of Commerce may be used if laid on a smooth bottom in order to give the pipe a solid bearing on its entire length and the soil well rammed on each side of the pipe the tapered ends connected with a bituminized-fibre coupling

Where bituminized-fibre drain pipe joins cast iron drain pipe a slitable adapter must be used and caulked with oakum or a suitable material of a similar nature and poured lead and where bituminized-fibre drain pipe joins terra cotta drain pipe a suitable adapter must be used and caulked with oakum or a suitable material of a similar nature and a hot pitch tar or asphaltum compound It must not be laid closer than five feet to any exterior wall of a building or when the sewer passes near a well nor will it be allowed in bad or made ground

Section 3 Section 27 of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 314) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 27 Joints in cast-iron pipes and soil and waste-pipes must be so filled with oakum and lead and hand caulked as to make them gas-tight connections of lead and cast iron pipes must be made with brass sleeve or ferrule of the same size as the lead pipe inserted in the hub of the iron pipe and caulked with lead the lead pipe must be attached to the ferrule by wiped joint joints between lead and wrought-iron pipes must be made with brass nipple of same size as lead pipe the lead pipe must be attached to the nipple by wiped joint all connections of lead waste pipe must be made by means of wiped joints all connections for brass or copper pipe (which shall be full iron pipe size and weight) shall be screw joints properly secured all connections for type K copper pipe shall be sweated or soldered adequate substitute materials may be used when lead cast iron brass or copper (of full iron pipe size and weight) or type K copper pipe are not available

the act approved the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 168) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 70 In case of any dispute or difference of opinion existing between the department or board or Bureau of Health and any person firm or corporation as aforesaid regarding the construction or plumbing house or building drainage or cesspools the same shall be submitted by either party to the director of the Department of Public Safety or the presiding officer of the department or board or Bureau of Health together with the two plumbers of the examining board who are in no wise connected with the city or municipal government and in cities of the second class in addition to the foregoing the public health engineer a plumbing inspector and an architect to be designated by the director of public safety who shall pass upon the same and whose findings therein after hearing shall be final and conclusive upon all parties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as this bill was talked about at great length two weeks ago I am not going to abuse my privilege on the floor of the House and extend the time of debate on this bill.

I would like to inform the membership of the House that we are now acting on House Bill No. 971, Printer's No. 393, and I respectfully urge the membership of the House to vote against this bill, in the hope that we can have the same roll call that we had two weeks ago.

Mr. ZEIGLER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to yield to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Zeigler, yields to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Katz.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, this bill seems to have caused quite a lot of controversy here in the House.

The pipe in question is used in Pennsylvania in various places. As a matter of fact in the township of Upper Dublin from which I come in Montgomery County, it is permitted by our plumbing code.

Bituminous pipe is not a new material. We used hundreds of thousands of feet of it during the war. It is a pipe that can stand on its own merits. It is much stronger than some of the types of pipe on the market. It has much more resistance to loads moving over it, and above all things it is practically impossible to have root growth get into the pipe. That is a thing that has cost our people lots of money. The small householder very often has roots getting into his pipes, the drainage pipes, filling up and costing considerable money to have them cleared out.

The opponents to this bill the last time we debated it, brought up the question of its manufacture. Some statements were made that were on the border line. I do not suppose I should say they were erroneous, but they were not complete. I want to take this opportunity to correct the impression that was given to this House when the manufacture of the pipe was discussed.

The statement was made that the pipes were first made of old newspapers or old paper in general, and then they were coated with bituminous asphalt or coal tar. That is not so. The paper is taken and digested thoroughly in large steam kettles; it is boiled down and all the material in paper manufacture known as a filler is eliminated. The only thing that is left is the fibre of the wood from which paper is originally made. This material is then molded into the shape of a pipe and put in a large machine, known as a vacuum pan or a vacuum vessel, the air is extracted, and then at rather high pressure and high temperatures the bituminous material is put into the kettle. That vacuum process allows that material to go into the fibres so that they disappear to the normal eye. They can only be discovered by microscopic examination. The pipe comes out a finished product.

The method of putting it together is by slipping a sleeve over the pipe. The sleeve is forced into position with pressure of sufficient magnitude to practically weld the joint and the pipe together.

It can be said that this is a new development. It is a new engineering material offered to the various trades and approved by them. It is a step in the right direction. It is a modern improvement, and I see no reason why the state of Pennsylvania should deny material of this type to its citizens.

I would ask the House to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I was assured some days ago when this bill was defeated in the House that if I had kept my seat and said nothing about it that the bill would have passed.

Several Members of the House said that to me. They said that my support of the measure was evidence of some kind of collusion, that there must be tremendous pressure back of this bill that would bring me to its support, since it was fathered on the other side of the House.

I have been in Harrisburg off and on connected with legislative matters since 1933, and a few days ago was the first time that anybody in this House, or out of this House or in this state ever intimated that I had opposed or supported a measure because of some special interest that might work to my advantage. So much for that.

I am not appearing as an expert. I do want to read into the record a statement made by someone I believe could be an expert, one Jimmy Lutz of Harrisburg. His letter to me says,

"For forty years, ever since the introduction of plumbing rules in cities of the Third Class, the manufacturers of clay pipe had a monopoly."

That is true. My argument while the bill was pending the first time was that it was not the business of this House to assure clay products a monopoly, or bituminized pipe a monopoly, but if both were recognized products, that they should have an opportunity to go into the market and compete on the basis of their respective values. That in all the third class cities and all the first class cities and second class cities there were engineering staffs and that it should be the privilege of those engineering staffs, from time to time as technological progress became evident, to use those products which they believed were best suited to particular uses.

My argument a couple of weeks ago was not in favor of any particular product, but in favor of the idea that our devotion to free enterprise should be given practical expression and that if there was a good product it should have a right to compete in the open market.

Now this plumber, this master plumber, goes on to say,

"The law provides that if clay pipe is used instead of cast iron, the size shall be one size larger, but they charge just as much for five inch pipe as they do for six inch. You know it costs more to make six inch pipe than five inch pipe, but there was nothing that the progressive master plumber could do about it but pay the price. This fibre pipe has been thoroughly tested in every detail for its strength, its lasting qualities, and has been used as sewerage for forty-two years, and approved by leading engineers in the United States. Hundreds of cities and boroughs and some States have approved this pipe. This pipe can be installed a little cheaper than clay pipe."

"This pipe will not be installed or used for the larger buildings, but will be used in the smaller homes, and as a master plumber I believe that we should have the right to install fibre pipe for our clients."

My only contention is that if master plumbers believe that there is a product suitable for the use of the small home owner they should be permitted to give that product a trial.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, as I originally intimated, I did not want to get into a long debate on this, but I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KRATZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, am I right when I state that there is no guarantee given on bituminized fibre pipe?

Mr. KRATZ. Will the gentleman state that question again?

Mr. PETROSKY. Am I right when I say that there is no guarantee given on bituminized fibre pipe?

Mr. KRATZ. I would answer that by saying this, that no guarantee is given on clay pipe or on cast iron pipe either.

Mr. PETROSKY. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, from the information I have at hand I have been given the assurance and the information that various kinds of pipe are guaranteed for a period of fifty years.

In respect to the low-cost home buyer, I say that he receives better protection when a guaranteed material is used in his drainage system than he would with a material that is not proven to the extent that a guarantee is offered for its use in underground drainage.

I want to leave at this time the case in the hands of the House for its approval or disapproval, and request the Members of the House to vote against House Bill 971.

Mr. KRATZ. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland Mr. Petrosky, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PETROSKY. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from Westmoreland just outline what he considers a guarantee on cast iron pipe or clay pipe, and also let me know under what conditions the guarantee will be made good, and by whom it will be made good.

Mr. PETROSKY. My information, Mr. Speaker, on that matter, is that the manufacturer guarantees clay pipe for a period of fifty years.

The conditions I do not have at hand. Incidentally may I say to the gentleman at this time that the information was in my hands two weeks ago. But inasmuch as the bill fell at that particular time I did not know that it was going to be up for action again, and although of course I realize this is the proper procedure, I do not have the entirety of that information here today.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make a brief statement about the so called guarantees and the disposition of them.

Clay pipe, cast iron pipe and bituminized pipe are made by manufacturers. These manufacturers sell to people known as distributors. The distributor in turn sells it to the plumber or other privileged contractor who does sanitary work. Now it is absolutely impossible for any manufacturer to follow a specific piece of pipe from his plant to its final point of usage. There is no identification on it when it gets in the ground at its final point of usage and any guarantee given by any manufacturer on that class of material is of no value whatsoever.

There is another condition. These pipes must be so placed that they are protected from outside forces such as trucks, or wagons moving over them. Therefore when they do break under that condition the only thing that possibly can happen is a replacement of the material itself, and the ultimate user pays plenty to the plumber or other man that installs it.

As for the length of life of a given piece of pipe that fact is absolutely of no value whatsoever.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Kratz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KRATZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, just for some information, I would like to know whether any Pennsylvania companies are manufacturing bituminized pipe, and whether or not any Pennsylvania people are employed in the manufacture of this pipe.

Mr. KRATZ. There is no company in Pennsylvania manufacturing bituminized pipe, but there is a large company in Pittsburgh that manufactures the pigment that goes into the filler of the pipe. And that pigment I believe constitutes in the neighborhood of 85 per cent of the volume of the pipe.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I would further like to know if the gentleman knows the name of that company?

Mr. KRATZ. Yes, I believe that is the Koppers Coke Company, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. This bituminized pipe would compete chiefly with terra cotta pipe, is that right?

Mr. KRATZ. That is correct, yes sir.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman know of his own knowledge whether or not any Pennsylvania company is manufacturing terra cotta pipe, and whether or not there are any Pennsylvanians employed in the manufacture of that pipe?

Mr. KRATZ. Well, not in Montgomery County.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Is the gentleman familiar with Western Pennsylvania?

Mr. KRATZ. To some extent.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Has the gentleman ever seen the extensive pottery industry in western Pennsylvania up through Clearfield?

Mr. KRATZ. Yes I have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. There are a number of those industries that would be affected then by the sale of bituminized pipe, are there not?

Mr. KRATZ. Not by this bill, no.

Mr. LOPRESTI. No, but by the use of that pipe it would tend to cut down the use of terra cotta pipe and therefore remove at least some of the demand for that pipe, is that right?

Mr. KRATZ. I would say this, if they are not affected at the present time they will not be affected because there are thousands of feet of that pipe being used in Pennsylvania right now, and have been for the last fifteen years.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Will the gentleman state how he arrives at the conclusion; if no terra cotta pipe is replaced, why we need the bill?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, this bill only asks that it be used in . . .

Mr. LOPRESTI. Tell where it is not now permitted.

Mr. KRATZ. No, no. It says cities of the second class A, that is the only thing that this bill seems to provide for—its use in those cities. It is used all over Pennsylvania right now.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, but in those cities that you have mentioned it is not permitted to be used?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, now if you permit the use of bituminized pipe and it actually comes into actual use, then it will affect the clay products, will it not?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, that I would not know. Of course, there would be some less clay pipe used, yes, but there would be some money saved by the citizens, too; and they would get a better product.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, you would say it is a better product?

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, absolutely.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has mentioned something about roots causing a stoppage in the clay pipe. I would like to know how the bituminized pipe is put together.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, the bituminized pipe is put together by a sleeve. The interior diameter of the sleeve is approximately the same diameter as the exterior diameter of the pipe. Now by the use of force the sleeve is slipped over one pipe and the other pipe is slipped into it, and it is pressed together. The friction developed eliminates a joint.

I have right out in my locker a piece of this pipe with a slip joint on it, which I would be very glad to bring into this mouse in two minutes and let you look at it.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether the House would be interested in seeing it or not; but being a user of clay products myself and also installing some sewers here and there, I would like to see the piece after adjournment.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad to show it to you, and I do not sell it, unfortunately.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria has raised the point that is the nub of my position on this particular bill. If we are going to legislate to put trade barriers at state boundaries, we destroy the integrity of our entire commercial fabric. There has been an increasing insistence that this Legislature come to the rescue of this particular local product or some other particular local product, and we have only to extend this principle where we will insist through legislation on making each state a self-contained economic unit, which will destroy the very commercial and manufacturing progress of which we are so proud.

Now we either have to accept the principle that clay products, many of which are manufactured in my county, can go into the market and hold their own against competition or we have to accept the principle that it is our duty as Legislators to come here and build a boundary, that will protect some local industry that happens to be in our district.

I hold that it is a dangerous, reactionary idea that I am down here representing clay products, petroleum products, bituminized pipe or any other kind of product. My sole purpose as a legislator is to see that acceptable products have a free market in this state and throughout the United States.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, I purposely refrained from a long discussion of this bill, due to the fact that it was gone over two weeks ago. I can see now where I would have been better off if I had repeated my discussion at the time, and the nub of it was at that particular time, not the point raised by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, but upon the fact that from the structure and the makeup of this pipe were placing our stamp of approval upon a commodity that was inferior in its very makeup, and foisting it upon the public.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members upon the basis of the arguments of two weeks ago, cutting down this debate, to vote upon this on its merits, upon the fact, that at that time I expressed perfectly well that the coal tar pitch could be washed off of this fiber pipe, and then the wet drainage getting at the fiber would disintegrate it and would create a terribly unsanitary condition in the breakdown of that system.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I hate to disagree with my distinguished leader, and his point is well taken. We should not be selfish. But I am selfish enough to want to protect the people of Pennsylvania and the industries of Pennsylvania when I can do so without harming the rest of the state. I think we can do it in this particular instance without doing any harm.

In reading over the bill, on page 4, I find there are a great many "ifs" and "ands" concerning the use of this fiber pipe. It says here: "it may be used if laid on a smooth bottom in order to give the pipe a solid bearing in its entire length."

Now let us stop there for a minute; "On a smooth bottom" if you can give it solid support over its entire length. In a great many places in Pennsylvania it is almost an impossibility to get a smooth bottom over the entire length because we run into stone and sometimes you cannot make a uniformly smooth bottom.

Then it goes on to say: "Tamp soil well around on each side of the pipe, the tapered ends connected with the bituminized fiber carefully." In other words, you must take additional care and additional pains in installing this pipe if it is to be used, under the very terms of the bill itself.

When you lay terra cotta pipe you do not have to worry about a smooth bottom along the entire length of the pipe and you do not have to worry about tamping it all the way around solidly with dirt. You can lay it in there and then if you want to, if you have good ground conditions, you can push your dirt over it with a bulldozer. There are a lot of things in this bill which say it is good if used under certain conditions, and I do not think you need those certain conditions in the use of terra cotta.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate Mr. Lopresti, the gentleman from Cambria?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, as an engineer, to start off with I never had the privilege of laying anything on a smooth bottom. I would like the gentleman to tell me how he avoids breaking terra cotta pipe unless he uses a cradle.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, in laying terra cotta pipe, we lay a line and then we come down from that line a certain distance and where we run across a bottom which is not entirely smooth, we place pieces of stone on one side and then on the other side until we get it adjusted to the proper fall and we do not have to make the entire bottom smooth, but we make it conform by underpinning it in the proper manner.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make this statement. As the only registered professional engineer in this House, I would not approve that type of construction.

Mr. LOPRESTI. If the gentleman will come to Cambria County he will find that type of construction in practically every section of Cambria, because it is the only type you can use.

Mr. KRATZ. It may be a little more frontier practice out there than it is in my section of the country, but you would not get away with it down in my territory.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, of course we are out in the "sticks" but we do have sewers that have been functioning for hundreds of years, and they are pretty good.

Mr. KRATZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make this further observation about laying this bituminized pipe; you can lay it with a greater degree of safety on any bottom than you can lay terra cotta pipe. And I want to make a further observation about water — — —

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the gentleman is through with me; if so, I will sit down.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Cambria?

Mr. KRATZ. I do not, Sir, but I would like to make a further statement, if I may.

I would like to make a statement in regard to water washing out bituminous material and leaving the fiber structure. I made the statement some time ago, I made it on scientific information, that the fiber structure does not even exist in the finished pipe.

Mr. ZEIGLER. Mr. Speaker, just to correct an erroneous statement made by the gentleman.

The phraseology in this Bill 971 with respect to laying bituminized fibre pipe on a smooth bottom is exactly the same language as is used in this original act, and is required where terra-cotta pipe is used. It is exactly the same language.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 55, as follows:

An Act prohibiting certain practices of discrimination because of race color religious creed ancestry or national origin by employers employment agencies labor organizations and others as herein defined creating the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission in the Department of Labor and Industry defining its functions powers and duties providing for procedure and enforcement providing for formulation of an educational program to prevent prejudice providing for judicial review and enforcement and imposing penalties

Section 1 Short Title This act may be cited as the "Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Act"

Section 2 Findings and Declaration of Policy

(a) The practice or policy of discrimination against individuals or groups by reason of their race color religious creed ancestry or national origin is a matter of concern to the Commonwealth. Such discrimination foments domestic strife and unrest threatens the rights and privileges of the inhabitants of the Commonwealth and undermines the foundation of a free democratic state. The denial of equal employment opportunities because of such discrimination and the consequent failure to utilize the productive capacities of individuals to their fullest extent deprive large segments of the population of the Commonwealth of earnings necessary to maintain decent standards of living necessitates their resort to public relief and intensifies group conflicts thereby resulting in grave injury to the public health and welfare.

(b) It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this Commonwealth to foster the employment of all persons in accordance with their fullest capacities regardless of their race color religious creed ancestry or national origin and to safeguard their right to obtain and hold employment without such discrimination.

(c) This act shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the Commonwealth for the protection of the public welfare prosperity health and peace of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Section 3 Right to Freedom from Discrimination in Employment. The opportunity to obtain employment without discrimination because of race color religious creed ancestry or national origin is hereby recognized as and declared to be a civil right.

Section 4 Definitions. As used in this act unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context.

(a) The term "person" includes one or more individuals partnerships associations organizations corporations legal representatives trustees in bankruptcy or receivers.

(b) The term "employer" includes the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and any person employing six or more persons within the Commonwealth but does not include religious fraternal charitable or sectarian corporations or associations except such corporations or associations supported in whole or in part by governmental appropriations.

(c) The term "employee" does not include any individual employed in the domestic service of any person nor any individual employed by his parents spouse or child.

(d) The term "labor organizations" includes any organization which exists for the purpose in whole or in part of collective bargaining or of dealing with employers concerning grievances terms or conditions of employment or of other mutual aid or protection in relation to employment.

(e) The term "employment agency" includes any person regularly undertaking with or without compensation to procure opportunities to work or to procure recruit refer or place employees.

(f) The term "Commission" means the Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practice Commission created by this act.

(g) The term "discriminate" includes segregate.

(h) The term "department" means the Department of Labor and Industry.

Section 5 Unlawful Employment Practices. Except when the Commission shall have determined and certified that a particular occupation or position reasonably requires the employment of a person or persons of a particular race color religious creed ancestry or national origin and that such qualification is not adopted as a means of circumventing the spirit and intent of this act it shall be an unlawful employment practice.

(a) For any employer because of the race color religious creed ancestry or national origin of any individual to refuse to hire or employ or to bar or to discharge from employment such individual or to otherwise discriminate against such individual with respect to compensation hire tenure terms conditions or privileges of employment.

(b) For any employer employment agency or labor organization prior to the employment or admission to membership to

(1) Elicit any information or make or keep a record of or use any form of application or application blank containing questions or entries concerning the race color religious creed ancestry or national origin of any applicant for employment or membership

(2) Print or publish or cause to be printed or published any notice or advertisement relating to employment or membership indicating any preference limitation specification or discrimination based upon race color religious creed ancestry or national origin

(3) Establish announce or follow a policy of denying or limiting through a quota system or otherwise employment or membership opportunities of any group because of the race color religious creed ancestry or national origin of such group

Section 8 Educational Program

(a) In order to eliminate prejudice among the various racial religious and nationality groups in this Commonwealth and to further good-will among such groups the Commission in cooperation with the Department of Public Instruction is authorized to prepare a comprehensive education program designed for the students of the public schools of this Commonwealth and for all other residents thereof calculated to emphasize the origin of prejudice against such groups its harmful effects and its incompatibility with American principles of equality and fair play.

(b) The Commission is hereby authorized to accept contributions from any person to assist in the effectuation of this section and may seek and enlist the cooperation of private charitable religious labor civic and benevolent organizations for the purpose of this section.

Section 9 Procedure Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an alleged unlawful employment practice may by himself or his attorney-at-law make sign and file with the Commission a verified complaint in writing which shall state the name and address of the person employer labor organization or employment agency alleged to have committed the unlawful employment practice complained of and which shall set forth the particulars thereof and contain such other information as may be required by the Commission. The Commission upon its own initiative the Secretary of Labor and Industry or the Attorney General may in like manner make sign and file such complaint. Any employer whose employee or some of them refuse or threaten to refuse to comply with the provisions of this act may file with the Commission a verified complaint asking for assistance by conciliation or other remedial action.

After the filing of any complaint the chairman of the Commission shall or whenever there is reason to believe that an unlawful employment practice has been committed he may designate one of the Commissioners to make with the assistance of the Commission's staff prompt investigation in connection therewith.

If such Commissioner shall determine after such investigation that no probable cause exists for crediting the allegations of the complaint the Commission shall within ten days from such determination cause to be issued and served upon the complainant written notice of such determination and the said complainant or his attorney may within ten days after such service file with the Commission a written request for a preliminary hearing before the Commission to determine probable cause for crediting the allegations of the complaint. If such Commissioner shall determine after such investigation that probable cause exists for crediting the allegations of the complaint he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the unlawful employment practice complained of by conference conciliation and persuasion. The members of the Commission and its staff shall not disclose what has transpired in the course of such endeavors provided that the Commission may publish the facts in the case of any complaint which has been dismissed and the terms of conciliation when the complaint has been adjusted.

In case of failure so to eliminate such practice or in advance thereof if in the judgment of the Commission circumstances so warrant the Commission shall cause to be issued and served a written notice together with a copy of such complaint as the same may have been amended requiring the person employer labor organization or employment agency named in such complaint hereinafter referred to as respondent to answer the charges of such complaint at a hearing before the Commission at a time and place to be specified in such notice. The place of any such hearing shall be the office of the Commission or such other place as may be designated by it.

The case in support of the complaint shall be presented before the Commission by one of its attorneys or agents and the Commissioner who shall have previously made the investigation shall not participate in the hearing except as a witness nor shall he participate in the deliberations of the Commission in such case and the aforesaid endeavors at conciliation shall not be received in evidence. The respondent may file a written verified answer to the complaint and appear at such hearing in person or otherwise with or without counsel and submit testimony. The complainant may likewise appear at such hearing in person or otherwise with or without counsel and submit testimony. The Commission or the complainant shall have the power reasonably and fairly to amend any complaint and the respondent shall have like power to amend his answer. The Commission shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity. The testimony taken at the hearing shall be under oath and be transcribed.

If upon all the evidence at the hearing the Commission shall find that a respondent has engaged in or is engaging in any unlawful employment practice as defined in this act the Commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unlawful employment practice and to take such affirmative action including but not limited to hiring reinstatement or upgrading of employees with or without back pay admission or restoration to membership in any respondent labor organization as in the judgment of the Commission will effectuate the purposes of this act and including a requirement for report of the manner of compliance. If upon all the evidence the Commission shall find that a respondent has not engaged in any such unlawful employment practice the Commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing the said complaint as to such respondent.

The Commission shall establish rules of practice to govern expedite and effectuate the foregoing procedure and its own actions thereunder. Any complaint filed pursuant to this section must be so filed within six months after the alleged act of discrimination

Section 10 Enforcement and Judicial Review

On the question, Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMILLEN. Mr. Speaker, it is with some reluctance that I take the floor on this bill, yet I feel that it is an absolute necessity. I regret it, for several reasons, one being that I hesitate to delay the proceedings of the House, but after all that is what we are here for. We are here to discuss legislation regardless of time. And, Mr. Speaker, a little bit of time of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania is very, very unimportant when you compare it to the importance and the immensity of this piece of legislation, as it will be reflected in the lives of each of us and in the lives of our children for generations to come.

We have here a bill which proposes to control a moral issue; a bill which proposes to control your actions and mine in our human associations one with the other. And that, Mr. Speaker, is a piece of legislation that has importance for time, ages to come.

It is the age old problem of man's inhumanity to man. It is the same old problem which Christ himself dealt with when he started his tour on this earth. And, Mr. Speaker, in spite of the immense influence, in spite of the tremendous impact of the life, the example of Christ Himself and the men who were chosen directly by Him, the twelve disciples, we still have man's inhumanity to man. I say to you that this piece of legislation or any other legislation so designed can not accomplish a change in man's heart unless he himself wills that change.

This bill sets out first of all to eliminate discrimination, and while the bill purports and says that it will eliminate discrimination, the bill itself is full of discriminations.

It might be wise if you took this bill and followed along so you too could read the words as they are printed.

I feel in starting out to discuss this bill that it is so serious and is so close to the human relationships that actually any discussion ought to be started out with the words of the Psalmist when he says "Let the words of my mouth and the meditations of my heart be acceptable in Thy sight." I debate it with no rancor, with no ill will, as I feel my record will demonstrate.

Take the bill itself, and turn to page 2, Section 1 (b), the bill starts out by declaring

"It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this Commonwealth to foster the employment of all persons in accordance with their fullest capacities."

I can thoroughly agree with that, and with that I would agree and go along.

But the bill continues, "regardless of their race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin," and there Mr. Speaker, you begin discrimination itself.

"The term 'employer' includes the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof and any person employing six or more persons within the Commonwealth."

Here again is another discrimination, it does not include religious, fraternal, charitable or sectarian corporations or associations except such corporations or associations are supported in whole or in part by governmental appropriations.

The very same people who are in here fighting to support this bill have very definitely seen to it that they themselves are left out of the confines of this bill.

I point out again to you that it says that anyone who employs "six or more." If discrimination exists in the employment of six or more people, why is not there discrimination in the employment of one or more. If you are setting out to cure an evil, let us start and cure it all the way.

We turn again to Section 5, page 5, which I think is one of the most damaging things of this whole bill. It says,

"It will be illegal to elicit any information or make or keep a record of or use any form of application or application blank containing questions or entries concerning the race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin of any applicant for employment or membership."

Now, Mr. Speaker, I am the father of two children.

I hope that someday they will be coming to some employer asking for a job. It is altogether likely and possible that I will not be around to give too much guidance on it. I want the employer of my daughters, either one of them, when that time comes, to jerk her up quickly with this question, "Young lady, do you have any Christian faith, any moral foundation upon which I could judge whether you can be depended upon or not?" That is the basic principle and the foundation of all character. I want it to be such that even though I may fail in my obligation to impress upon those children the importance of this, that an employer at some future time will take my girls to task and say "It is important that you have the basic foundations of a belief, I am not asking you what it is, Protestant or Catholic, Jew or Gentile, I just want to know whether you practice that belief honestly and conscientiously."

This can be carried on a little bit farther, and when the time comes for this youngster to apply for a job, if this bill is permitted to pass in its present form, she can not graduate from school and then advertise or even I, or you hunting for employment, can not come out and say to a broader field of people, "I am available"—"I need a job, I want a job," and expressly state the fact that you are a white man, a colored man, an Indian, a Chinese or a Japanese. You cannot state that you believe in any religion, that you are Christian or non-Christian, because it reads on page 7, part (g)

"It is unlawful for any individual seeking employment to publish or cause to be published any advertisement which specifies or in any manner expresses his race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin or in any manner expresses a limitation or preference as to the race, color, religious creed, ancestry or national origin of any prospective employer."

Have we gotten to the place in this country where we have to disallow the fact that we are white men, that we belong to a colored race, the Chinese race. I like a man because he is what he is, not because he belongs to any one particular group. There are scoundrels in all groups. There are individuals of my own group with whom I do not like to associate. I do not want them in my family. I do not want them near my house because of their own habits, their own approach to these problems of living.

I like the fellowship of the men in this House regardless of creed or nationality because they are what they are. I would have less regard, in fact I would have no regard for any one of us that tried to evade the facts of our ancestry or our origin.

If you set up a commission and you continue this kind of propaganda, this kind of thinking, if the Communists are not behind this bill—and I am not convinced they are not—they are certainly missing an opportunity and a good chance to do the thing they had to do through revolution in Russia to stamp out the Christian faith, and a man's willingness to stand up and be counted as a Pole, a Slav, whatever he might be.

On page 6, we open the door for another type of individual. Under Section d, page 6,

"It is unlawful for any employer, employment agency or labor organization to discriminate in any manner against any individual because such individual has opposed any practice forbidden by this act or because such individual has made a charge, testified or assisted in any manner in any investigation, proceeding or hearing under this act."

It does not make any difference how well known and how sure we are that a man is a professional trouble maker, and we have them in this country today whose only business is to be professional agitators.

I was amazed one day in one of my own classes in college at the answer which a young man gave to a query from the professor. In going around the class he said to this fellow, "What is it that you intend to do when you get out of school here?"

To the amazement of the professor and everybody the fellow said, "I expect to be a professional agitator."

I have followed the man since that time and today that is exactly what he is, a professional agitator.

It is possible through this commission and the protection that is provided to this commission to slip these individuals from one organization to another to foment trouble, and yet in spite of the history that you know about the individual you do not have a thing to do with keeping him out of your organization.

Over on page 9—I am taking them as we go along, I am not trying to follow any particular pattern—I wanted to point out some of the problems that are involved here. On Page 9, we come to the creation of this Commission. We find that it is going to cost $26,000 for just the three Commissioners. But I can not find anywhere in this bill a limitation on expenditures. I do know that the budget carries approximately $350,000 for FEPC. I turn over and find on Page 10, part (a) of Section 7, that this Commission after it is established has the power to open a principal office in Harrisburg and other such offices elsewhere as the Department may deem necessary.

Now that certainly is the opening wedge for the development of a bureaucracy without end.

On page 11, part e, let us see what else you do with this commission. You are promulgating rules and regulations which can be changed previous to a hearing and a meeting of any kind, there is no limitation. An employer can be hailed up in front of this commission and before they go into the hearing, these three commissioners can meet and they can make any rule or regulation they feel might be necessary to cope with any particular individual.

Not only that, but under part e, it gives the commission the power to initiate complaints in addition to receiving, investigating and passing upon complaints. The commission may go out looking for complaints.

We have enough trouble in this country right now without a lot of professional snoopers out looking for trouble. Not only can they initiate the complaint but they can act as both the prosecutor and the judge, and you do not have anything much to say about it.

We can go on over here to another section, while we are dealing with that particular thing, and you will find that it reads something like this.

"The Commission shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence prevailing in the courts of law or equity.

They shall not be bound by the strict rules of evidence. Just someone explain to me what they will be bound by. What is their limitation?

We go on over to page 12, part g, it says that

"This commission may utilize the voluntary and uncompensated services of private individuals and organizations as may from time be offered and needed.

They may

"Create such advisory agencies and councils, local or statewide, as will aid in effectuating the purposes of this act."

Will someone explain to me what the limitations are there?

Under (i) on page 13, they are authorized to issue such publications, results of investigations and so forth. And then worse than that even, the most diabolical, underhanded method I have ever had the misfortune to run up against, on the part of, not the sponsor of this bill—please understand that—but of those who were instrumental in drawing this act and those who influenced the thinking that went into this act, the diabolical attempt to infiltrate further than what they now have, the schools of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. And that's the place where your child and mine learns what America is. It is the place where they should learn and do learn to get along together.

This commission is authorized to cooperate with the Department of Public Instruction to prepare a comprehensive educational program designed for the students of the public schools of this Commonwealth.

I say to you in all seriousness, if after 1900 years of the Christian faith and the efforts of the ministry of the Holy Gospel we have not accomplished the brotherhood of man, then no course of study inspired by a man-made theory, by individuals who do not believe in Christ or the Christian faith, we will never do it in the public schools.

We might just as well draw the cloak off this thing and call it what it is. It is an attempt on the part of the enemies of the democratic system to tear out and tear apart the one bulwark of this country that they have never yet been able to conquer.

I turn over to another section—on page 23, Section 12:

Construction and Exclusiveness of Remedy. The provisions of this act shall be construed liberally for the accomplishment of the purposes thereof, and any law inconsistent with any provisions hereof shall not apply.

They are out and beyond the law; you have given them that power.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I have gone over the act rather hurriedly for such a serious business as it is.

To me America is and always has been a land of choices. And because it has been a land of choices, we are what we are today. It was for the very purpose of being able to make the choices that we wanted to make, that people left their homes and came to this country. They left the land of slavery; a land that is still a land of slavery for the great masses of people. And here we are, attempting by legislative means, to return ourselves to a type of slavery, taking away from us the choices which are inherently ours and have been for generations. You have the choice in this country of climate, of work, of association, profession, schools; about the only thing you do not have originally is the choice of parents.

Almost from the time of birth you are a creature of choice in a land of choice. Did you ever stop to think that you have the privilege of choosing whether you want to be employed or employ? If you have the intestinal fortitude to gamble all you have on a business, you can become an employer. If you want to take the easier method, and perhaps the more secure, you can tie yourself up with a man who has that at issue, and be his employee.

Did you ever stop to think that the same power that determines whether I employ you or not can also determine where you shall work and for what employer you shall work? It is only one single step farther than this bill goes, and that step is so simple. Do you, do the workers, do the people of the Commonwealth want to be placed in a position where they cannot select to work for a man they want to work for?

We are setting the stage, we are opening the door. We are giving legal status to an organization that could well become the Commissar or the Gestapo of both labor and capital in America.

I tell you that the influence and the power behind this type of thinking that is prevalent today in this country, will see to it that many of the proper kind of people are placed in these jobs. When once we have these agencies formed and we have one of them in each of the 48 states in the United States, and an association of all the 48 has been formed, it is only one simple step to complete control of the entire 48.

If you continue with this type of thing, you are going to have employers as well as employees running to this type of commission, and eventually you will find that this can become the employment agency of all agencies. This is the agency which could well do away with all employment agencies and all personnel departments of any industry, because no employer would dare face the wrath of this commission which is all-powerful.

I want to ask you another question: how much farther is it, how much farther do you need to go, once this bill is put on the statute books that they cannot write into it, sex, age? Talk about discrimination! I know what discrimination means. I personally lost—I personally was denied—I will say it that way—a commission as first lieutenant in the United States Navy Seabees, because I was an inch and a quarter too short. I did not look right on the parade ground in uniform. I had passed all the technical requirements—you think I do not know what discrimination means. I placed by life on the line. I did not squeal—I went on out as a carpenter's mate, first class.

It is only a very short way from one to the other and such an easy step that we had all better be careful as to what we are doing to start with. I say to you that I could have tried to amend this bill. I cannot see any good in it regardless of amendments, and therefore, I would not accord it the privilege of even attempting to amend it.

I believe that when you vote for this bill, you are either admitting in your own heart and your own conscience that you have intolerance, that you have been guilty of practicing intolerance, or that you are accusing your neighbor of intolerance and that you are going to say to him: "Either you believe as I do and you act as I believe, or we are going to put the law on you." I want to ask, who am I; who are you to judge your neighbor's tolerance or intolerance?

I have one more statement. The argument will be thrown up to me and back at me, that this is a part of the party platform of both the Republican and the Democratic parties. That is right. I will admit that. But I want to make this statement, and I do not want to be misunderstood, that I believe both the Democratic and the Republican parties were in much measure insincere in that they were hunting votes. It is more important today that we come out and state principles rather than petty approaches to a method of securing the vote of one block or another.

That is a statement which does not augur well with the leaders in both the Democratic and Republican parties. We have come to the place where we believe that anything in political expediency is the rule and not the exception. We have been going along the road of easy come and easy go so long; we have been teaching false philosophies and false fronts for the purpose of securing personal advantage, personal and party-wise that we can no longer see principles.

The principle of fair play, honesty and integrity, the principle of guarantee of freedom, of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, has long since been guaranteed and approved in the Constitution of the United States. I do not think anything we can do is going to change it.

Here is something that I think expresses this thing about as well as we can put it. It is this:

"America in the days of its infant weakness, the haven of heretics and the oppressed of all races, must not in the days of its power become the stronghold of bigots. The world has given America the vigor and the variety of its differences. America should protect and enrich its differences for the sake of America and the world. Understanding religious and racial differences makes for a better understanding of other differences and for an appreciation of the sacredness of the human personality as a basis of human freedom. The American answer to differences as to color and creed is not the concentration camp; but cooperation. The answer to human error is not terror; but life and liberty under the moral law. By this light and liberty the negro has made a contribution in work and faith, song and story, laughter and struggle, which are an enduring part of the spiritual heritage of America. It is an acknowledged fact that in spite of the handicaps of slavery and the discrimination, the negro in America has compressed more progress into the shortest time than any race in human history. Slavery gave the negro his christianity; christianity gave the negro his freedom. This freedom must give the negro and all other races equal rights to home, to health, to education, citizenship."

Once we depart from that principle we are taking one long step toward a further collectivization of the United States.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, it might appear that what I have to say may be anti-climactic to what Mr. McMillen has already said. I too approached this matter with some reluctance because of the fact that it is supposed to be a political issue. But I want to tell you that in my conscience this issue transcends all partisan politics and goes to the very heart of our constitutional American system of government. I trust that by the time I am finished with my argument today you will be in some agreement with me.

I further want to state that I too approach this problem, not with any feeling of rancor, not with any feeling of prejudice or hatred toward any Member of this House, toward any race, creed, color, religion or ancestry.

I am debating an issue, a fundamental issue of America. I am a Gentile. I am white. I am a Methodist by faith. My ancestry—I do not know what they mean by that word except what you might find on your family tree. I have not found any horse thieves yet, but I understand I had a drunken uncle. My national origin on my father's side of the house extends back to Wales in England and on my mother's side of the house to Holland. I am an American. Members of this House, under section 7(g) of this bill, if I go out looking for work and make that statement and persist in making that statement I can be fined up to a thousand dollars and be put in jail upward of a year.

If for no other reason than that one reason alone, which violates the principles of our Constitution guaranteeing the freedom of speech, I am against this bill.

The act itself is discriminatory in its very terms. It picks only on those who operate a business for profit, not any other kind, but on a person who is in business for profit or employs a person for the purpose of trying to make a profit, and who employs six or more persons.

The federal act says fifty. I do not know what the acts of the States contain, but where do they get this mythical number beyond which discrimination begins? Out of the air? Beyond what point does discrimination begin? Who is to determine that factor?

As Mr. McMillen has said, if you are going to eliminate discrimination let's eliminate it. If this is supposed to be an anti-discrimination bill let's make it an anti-discrimination bill. Why pick on certain people and not others, those who employ more than a certain number of people?

Our governmental policy itself is full of discrimination. How does our federal government fix up the immigration quotas for entry into this country, I ask you? They do not enter anybody as they come to our gates any more. They say "We will take so many from a certain nation; we will take so many of a certain race. They themselves have the greatest discriminatory policy that exists anywhere when they set up the quotas that come from any particular country of the world to the shores of this country.

Nowhere in this act does it state that an employee must pick out a certain employer and go and ask that particular employer for a job. He is given that freedom of choice. If he does not want to work for a man because the employer is of a certain race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin he has the choice of not going and filing an application with that employer. When he picks on a particular employer, you say to that employer "You either take this man or we will send you to jail." The act by its very terms is discriminatory.

The act further gives this commission the right to determine who shall be granted exemptions and who will not be bound by the provisions of this act. Do you know of anything that gives greater power to people to control other people than to give them discretion to say what shall be what and who shall be who. They spell nothing out; they just say "If you have the power go and do as you see fit." Those are the things which are the holes in the dikes of this whole problem. There is no possible way you can plug them unless you plug them all. If you leave one open the dikes are going to break. They are going to run through, they are bound to.

In connection with other Sections of this act I would call your attention to page 11, wherein the commission is given the right to either go into the courts of Dauphin County or any court of common pleas within the jurisdiction in which the hearing is to be held—and the commission is given the right to fix where the hearing shall be held. That means that if they have an employer in the city of Erie they can run to the city of Philadelphia, the court of common pleas and ask that court in Philadelphia for an order, and require the people from Erie and from all over the state of Pennsylvania to go to Philadelphia for the purpose of trying to defend their constitutional rights. It is a run-around section. They can jerk and haul you wherever they please. They can take you to a favorable territory. It has always been my understanding that people are entitled to have their hearings in the jurisdiction where they live.

I want to refer to this educational clause. In doing so I call your attention particularly to section 8b which reads

"The commission is hereby authorized to accept contributions from any person to assist in the effectuation of this section and may seek and enlist the cooperation of private charitable, religious, labor, civic and benevolent organizations for the purpose of this section."

There are no limitations upon the amount which anybody is allowed to contribute. There are no provisions for any accounting of these particular funds. There is nothing to say what shall be done with them and I say to you that the forces which are trying to enter this wedge into our governmental life do not have to have the funds accounted for which they give for the purposes of developing this propaganda machine.

It is these very funds which they are asking for which are to be used for the purposes of preparing literature to be sent into our public schools.

Mrs. Collums can go to the Supreme Court of the United States and have the Supreme Court of the United States tell all the schools in this country that they dare not teach religious education because of the fact that one of those children might be an atheist and might be influenced by those teachings, which they did in that case.

I say unto you that you have no right to develop an educational system of that kind from that kind of funds which are a general liberty of contract and essential to a free pursuit of happiness. There is nothing inherently wrong in having a preference to work with a person of a particular race, religion, color, national origin or ancestry. If racial and national congeniality is not sinful then noncongeniality cannot be a sin. Human brotherhood may be a beautiful ideal, but if the congeniality of Chinese to Chinese, and French to French, and Irish to Irish is a natural feeling and not a vice, how absurd it is to argue that the out growing uncongeniality toward other nationalities and races is so wrongful that action based upon it should be forbidden by law!

Of course racial prejudice and intolerance may be an ugly thing, fostering unjustifiable hatreds and leading to wasteful conflicts. All unreasoning prejudice and intolerance may be assumed to be evil. But bad thinking cannot be legislated out of the human mind, nor can a person's emotions be controlled by legislation nor can you legislate the brotherhood of man. And how can a government official be endowed with the celestial wisdom necessary to determine unaccounted for, from sources which we perhaps would not care to have if we knew where they come from.

I am going to take up just some phases of perhaps the legal side of this particular bill. It seems to be commonly assumed by opponents as well as by proponents of the bill that no fair-minded person will oppose the objectives of this bill, which is to develop a better feeling between mankind. So, I venture to point out that the dominant objective of the bill is to prohibit and to prevent by governmental action any freedom to choose one's associates or co-workers in business. If that choice is based on considerations of race, religion, color, national origin, or ancestry, yet freedom to choose one's associates because of personal liking and confidence, or individual judgment, whether rational or irrational, in the opinion of others, is one of the most essential freedoms of a free citizen which has been for decades guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States.

Freedom to choose one's associates is essential to a free exercise of the right to earn a livelihood, essential to whether that which is called "prejudice" and "intolerance" is really evil or is, on the contrary, righteous, dislike or hatred? Is it wrong or right for a deeply religious person to prefer not to associate with those who would like to destroy his religion and all its devotees? Is it wrong or right for a free individualist to object to enforced association with a fanatic Communist who seeks to enslave him.

We are forbidden to make any law "prohibiting the free exercise" of religion. But this law prohibits a man from freely exercising his religion and in carrying on a business in association with others who are of like faith. The maker of food products, drugs or sewing machines may desire to have the ethical standards of his religion effective throughout his business organization; but this proposed law would deny him this privilege—this constitutionally guaranteed liberty. The constitutional invalidity of such a law only emphasizes the point that the objective of the law as a denial of freedom of association, freedom of contract and freedom of religion, is not a righteous but a thoroughly unrighteous objective.

If the government is to undertake to prohibit and prevent all unjust discrimination in employment, why stop with "race, religion, color, national origin or ancestry"? The Charter of the United Nations also deprecates distinctions as to "sex" and "language." There are, furthermore, notorious discriminations in employment because of "age", which Mr. McMillen has already stated.

For your information I might state that the state of Massachusetts which adopted an FEPC law several years ago, in a referendum vote last November added something with reference to age to their discrimination law, which only goes to prove that you are only covering four subjects in connection with discriminations when you bring it down to race, creed, color, and so forth.

Persons are frequently not hired because "too old" or "too young." Many persons are refused employment because they are "tall" or "short" or "fat" or "thin" or "sickly" or "partially disabled" or because they have "holitosis" or "body odor."

More recently we have run into the subject of the discriminations which have arisen regarding the young men who are in the selective service. Now, if we are going to open the gates of discrimination, let us open the gates. Let us not have only four doors and close all the rest of them.

Thousands upon thousands of persons are always being denied employment for such discriminatory reasons. A government bureau would certify most of them as "qualified," but, "by accident of birth" or otherwise without personal fault, they do now appeal to the employer as desirable employees. If the employer, of more than six persons, is to be regarded as a mere instrument of state policy who can be required to employ anyone whom a government bureaucrat finds to be "qualified" for a particular job, why should not all employments be made through a government agency? This would save a great deal of time and energy which will otherwise be wasted in litigations between government and employers. Then the employer would have nothing to do except to try to run his business with "civil service" employees furnished by the government and made secure in their jobs and in advancement, as provided by this bill! The plain fact is that the function of the employer in private enterprise, and the system of private enterprise itself, would soon disappear as the high-sounding objectives of anti-discrimination laws were logically developed.

I was most happy to hear the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, get up and defend competition as the life of free enterprise, in the previous bill for consideration before this House. That is the basic foundation of this very bill itself, that if we are going to have competition in free enterprise we cannot limit it to certain people that may be employed. We will employ all people for the purposes of turning out our product.

Furthermore I would like to point out to you that the right to earn a livelihood is impaired by the lack of jobs, not by prejudice. The current FEPC enthusiasm is not directed at the economic problem of government; it is a venture in compulsory ethics only.

The findings of fact and declarations of policy by the Legislature are not conclusive as to the need or propriety or constitutional validity of the law." Any statement that is of debatable character and accuracy may be challenged.

I am not going to read the statement of policy; it is too long but I am only going to point out to you that liberty of contract, freedom of association and religious freedom are established constitutional principles and subject only to such limitations as are absolutely necessary to protect the good order of society and to prevent injury to others and undue restrictions upon freedom of others.

To insist that the government shall undertake to determine how and what employe shall be selected, and thus to restrict competition and the competitive judgment of the managers of private enterprise, is to undermine the very foundations of private enterprise and a competitive system. Paragraph (a) in the statement of policy in this particular bill is simply an oratorical justification of legislation based on assumptions which cannot be regarded as findings of fact.

Justice Holmes in one of his opinions stated "that any legislation attempted for the purpose of disintegrating society "into individual atoms" would be "an attempt to reconstruct society."

The proposed law is "an attempt to reconstruct society" by subjecting all private enterprise to regulation by the state for the purpose of substituting the moral judgment of a political majority for the independent judgment of an employer as to those persons with whom he wishes to associate himself in the activities of a private business enterprise. The sustaining of such an authority in the government would open the door wide to the complete domination of private business by the state and, as has been pointed out, the gradual but sure destruction of private enterprise."

Nothing in the proposed law requires a wage earner to work for a particular employer. That, of course, would violate the Thirteenth Amendment. But, an employer, in establishing an employment relation, accepts many obligations by law and custom to his employee. If an employer is required either to serve employees not of his selection, or else to go out of business, is he not given a choice between either not engaging in business or of accepting a form of "involuntary servitude?" The proposed law would thus compel every substantial employer to accept involuntary servitude as a condition of engaging in a lawful business. It would be invalid under the Thirteenth Amendment.

Now I could go on with a great deal more, which I am not going to burden you with, but I want to summarize some of the items which are in this bill as they relate to the constitutionality.

The attempt to compel employers to hire undesired persons and to deny employment to desired persons, and to substitute governmental judgment for personal judgment as to the qualifications and desirability of persons for employment and advancement, is a serious and indefensible denial of liberty of contract, in violation of the Fifth Amendment.

Section 5 furthermore prohibits a free exercise of religion, in violation of the First Amendment.

It also imposes arbitrary restraints on freedom of association in business, in schools and in labor organizations, denying an essential liberty of a free people, in violation of the Fifth Amendment.

It also denies to a minority of those operating private enterprises the same liberty of contract and the same freedom of association which are preserved for the majority, thus violating the constitutional guarantee of "equal protection of the laws," which is implicit in the Fifth Amendment.

It would operate to impose a species of involuntary servitude upon employers, in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment.

I have endeavored to bring to you the highlights of my objections to this particular bill, my legal objections to this bill and my God-given right as an American to oppose this bill.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Monroe.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the lady from Philadelphia, Mrs. Monroe.

Mrs. MONROE. Mr. Speaker, FEPC—the initials stand for fair employment practice. It is a government commission for the protection of all persons, against discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin.

All the religious and labor groups, women's and civic organizations are in favor of a strong FEPC.

There are State FEPC laws in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Oregon, Washington, New Mexico and Massachusetts. When we overcome discrimination, it takes away one of the Communist issues owing to the fact that an effective FEPC law is what all minority groups need.

Any foe of FEPC would oppose discrimination. Why? Because it is un-American and not in keeping with democratic traditions.

When prejudice is translated into active discrimination solely because of race or color, people are denied the opportunity of earning a living for themselves or their families.

It is the duty of our government to prevent such practices. Members of minority groups have fought, bled and died for the freedom of the people of all the world; but are denied by you here at home.

The argument is you are deprived of the right to work or the limitation of employment. It is not only an injustice to the individual, but a source of bad judgment to any community, and it drags down the economic level. Republicans and Democrats alike prompted the FEPC action by party platform.

Let us have equal job opportunity which will give encouragement to all people. This is evident to all thoughtful people, friends or foes of FEPC alike.

When discrimination is allowed, the buying power is reduced. Business will suffer, if we earn we buy; if we buy, production will continue.

In a country where civil liberties are ignored, free enterprise is doomed. Prejudice will not pay. Discrimination is destruction.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I am not reluctant to arise at this time. I am very happy to take this opportunity in spite of the fact that the hour is late to meet some of the distorted statements that have been made by the gentlemen on the other side who spoke against this bill.

I respect the views of the gentlemen. I respect their right to utter their views; but when they resort to distortions I think the Members of the House should be entitled to have such distortions reviewed by those who see through the smoke screen that has been erected here today.

The statement of the gentleman from Indiana that the respective political parties resorted to some political chicanery in placing in their platforms a pledge designed to pass fair employment practices legislation certainly should be met here.

I do not think that the party platform of either party was made by individuals who were motivated merely by political expediency, as has been indicated. I think the party platform planners, realizing that in America today we are at the cross roads, placed into their platforms a pledge to insure fair employment practices, and it is one of the few things that I am very happy to see both parties join in.

This is not a partisan issue; this is a matter that is going to insure real democracy in America.

If anyone were to say that any Member of this House was sympathetic to communism, he would meet with violent objections by everyone. And yet the failure to enact fair employment practices legislation has been one of the most damaging things in the great propaganda war that the free peoples are now fighting against the forces of communism and the forces of darkness throughout the world.

We all well know that at this very moment Communist agitators, not only in America, but throughout the world, are pointing to the fact that discriminatory tactics exist not only in Pennsylvania but in other states in this Union. They are using the fact that we do not have legislation of this nature upon the books as a point to press their communist literature and propaganda, and one of the things we have got to bring to the attention of the free peoples everywhere in the world, not only here but behind the Iron Curtain, is that in America we are not going to resort to the things that the Communists say we are resorting to.

One of the gentlemen said that this bill will eliminate professional agitators. The very fact that we do not have legislation of this nature upon the books has given a heyday to the professional agitators. Those men who are trying to array class against class, religion against religion, group against group have constantly been agitating against different groups, and it will be the existence of legislation of this nature upon the books that will strike down the weapons that these professional agitators have been using for these many years.

I have listened with some interest to the closing statement made by the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen. I do not know who he was quoting; I do not know the author of that statement. If the gentleman had arisen and merely made that statement, I would have been satisfied to allow this measure to be voted upon without any other statement, because I think he indicated in that statement the very thing that has made America great, the thing that we are called to vote upon today.

It is very true, Mr. Speaker, that we are trying to eliminate differences that have caused so many tensions in America, and if we, by this piece of legislation are enabled to do that very thing, we will have contributed a great deal in the battle that we are now facing against the foes of free people throughout the world.

The principle of fair play, honesty and integrity that the gentleman enumerated are the things we all seek. I say to you that the passage of this bill will go a long way in assuring that fair play, honesty and integrity will exist in the Commonwealth. It will go a long way in eliminating the bigotry and intolerance which is exhibited not only in dealings between peoples, but in our very economic fabric.

I cannot help, since one of the gentlemen who is an eminent member of the Bar and whose legal views I respect greatly mentioned some legal points, to point out to you that the gentleman was somewhat mistaken when he said that the bill that is before us today is in violation of the Fifth Amendment. The gentleman very well knows that the interpretations placed upon the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution are such as to preclude certain Federal action. If he felt that there was violation of the "due process" clause of the Fourteenth Amendment he would have said so, but I am quite certain that if there were any question of the constitutionality of fair employment practices legislation, not only of the Federal Constitution but of any state Constitution, those states where such legislation has already been enacted would have seen this question brought to the highest courts.

There is no doubt of the constitutionality of this measure, and if there were, certainly the forces of evil that are against this type of legislation would have brought the matter to the courts by now and tested its constitutionality.

We are on the threshold today. We are either going to join forces with those who believe in democracy and fight the evil forces throughout the world that are trying to stifle the initiative of free peoples, or we are going to give them further ammunition to spread their iniquitous propaganda and feed the fires of bigotry and intolerance that are all too prevalent in many areas throughout the world today.

I call upon the Members of this House to adhere to their party pledges and to exhibit the principles of fair play, honesty and integrity which we all seek.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to express some of the thoughts I have had while listening to the debate on the floor here today.

I think one thing that people more or less fail to see, is the difference between a theory and a fact. There is no question in my own mind that I am in favor of a fair employment practices act. But I am afraid this act goes beyond that.

During this last fracas which we called a war there were many races, creeds and colors that never came back. I was with them. But you know the particular thing that this very act denies was around the neck of every man who wore a uniform, and that was his dog-tag. On the dog-tag, was either a 'P' or a 'C' Protestant or Catholic. On it was his blood type.

This bill annoys me for two main reasons. Yes, I am a lawyer and maybe I can not get away from it. But in the bill it states that the commission is not bound by the rules of evidence. That means to me that someone can go before the commission; take an oath to testify and then he can say that "John said," that "Mary said," that "Jake said," that "Bill said" that something happened. Hearsay evidence. The hearsay evidence rule is as old as the common-law under which we act. And the reason why we cannot use hearsay is because we cannot question the person who originated the statement. To me that is a terrific back-down from the protection of anyone's rights.

The rules of evidence have been long established. They are what we work under, whether we be in court or out of court. I suspect a lot of times people have come up to some of the Members of the House and said, "Well, John said," or "Mary said . . . so and so." I suspect oftentimes we have said, "When John or Mary tells me that, I will believe it." Or we will go around and say to John or Mary, "Did you say so and so?" "Why of course not!" It is very easy to bend what a person says, especially if you go through several people's minds because they leave out certain parts and bring in certain parts.

Another Section of this act, which I think is bad, is the Section which prohibits anyone from publishing an advertisement in which he gives his race, creed, color and the rest.

What, Mr. Speaker, first of all, is an advertisement? If you will read that Section of the act, it does not say advertisement in the newspaper, over the radio or anything else; it merely says advertisement. I submit that under the definition of the word "advertisement," if any of us should write a letter that goes to our prospective employer, that is an advertisement.

This bill goes beyond, away beyond the basic concepts of fair employment practices. I think anything we can do to do away with the constant bickering, and as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Rose says, bigotry, then we have gone a long way toward making this country of ours a great democracy; but where we turn around on the other foot and deliberately prevent someone who is attempting to gain employment from stating what he is then I say we have gone well beyond what fair employment practice is.

Another thing I would like to bring to the attention of this House is that under the act charitable, religious and fraternal organizations are free from the act unless they receive money from the Commonwealth. Is not that a discrimination? Does the fact that one religious, fraternal or charitable organization operates on its own feet make it free from discrimination? Does the fact that they operate on their own feet mean they are not practicing discrimination? I do not think so, and I suggest that any proper bill would have included all or none.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, the question I bring up here is that under the public educational program as permitted by this act is the liberty on the part of the commission to accept aid and assistance from other organizations without pay.

There are a lot of organizations in this country, in this state, who would be willing to enter into this purely for the purpose of furthering their own ends. There are a lot of organizations in this country of ours that are based upon and which live on the idea of fomenting strife and trouble between their fellow men. I suggest that there are a lot of these organizations that are against bills which are presently on the calendar before this House in regard to question of our belief in our own country.

If those particular individuals who are either members, or who are, shall be say fellow "travelers," instructing in our public schools, get a chance to open up, they will take every advantage of it.

So there will be no question in anyone's mind, I am for a fair employment practice act, but from the objections and from a reading of this bill, particularly because of the fact that it makes it impossible for anyone to state to a prospective employer what he is, what he hopes to be, I regret that I must vote against this bill.

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERTSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether or not he is familiar with the rules of the various boards and commissions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania having to do with the admission of evidence?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I can honestly say that I do not know exactly to what board the gentleman from Dauphin is referring. I know some of them are bound by the rules of evidence and some are not.

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether or not he is familiar with the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act and whether or not in that Act it specifically sets forth that the administrators of the Act shall not be bound by the technical rules of evidence.

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I am not acquainted with that section.

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask whether or not the gentleman is familiar with the standard clause in the administrative policies of this Commonwealth having to do with the administrative acts, as to whether or not they shall be construed liberally. I am especially referring to an Act that has been on the statute books since 1916, the Pennsylvania Workmen's Compensation Act, more than 35 years in existence that has worked out an equitable result between the employer and the employee?

Mr. ROBERTSON. Mr. Speaker, I am acquainted with that and there are several other Acts which have the same principle, that they shall be construed liberally.

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a brief statement with respect to the question involving the administration of this particular Act that is set forth in House Bill 55.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Robertson?

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, no. Thank you, Mr. Robertson.

Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding of the administration of the various Acts having to do with the admission of evidence, that the Act itself specifically sets forth that all types of evidence shall be received, especially the type that was referred to by my distinguished friend from Delaware, as hearsay evidence.

I further believe that the decisions in this Commonwealth have set forth fully that no finding of fact can be based on anything but competent evidence in this Commonwealth.

I wish to make that position very clear. I did not wish to interrogate the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. McMillen, because he was not an attorney and I preferred to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware who discoursed on this point.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to speak on this bill when I came here today, but I have been sitting here and have been amazed that up to this time no member of the majority party has risen to defend this bill. That leads me to the belief that perhaps those of us who have any thoughts on this matter had better express them in order to persuade the members of the majority party to vote in favor of the bill. It may be that many of them are going to do so, but I see no evidence of it so far.

A lot of things have been said today, I think, which require some comment. The first two gentlemen to debate the bill in my opinion stated very ably the arguments against this particular legislation. Among their remarks they have both said that you cannot legislate the brotherhood of man, and with that I agree.

I do not think that anybody expects this bill to eliminate all prejudices, all bigotry and to eliminate all discrimination in employment. To hope for that much would be beyond the realm of good reasoning, in my opinion. But at least this is a start to eliminate to some extent by legislation, by law, discrimination which all of us know has existed, and I suppose will exist for many years to come.

Where bigotry and intolerance originate I can only guess. But my guess is that it is in the home as much as any place.

Children are born, they are raised with their parents and they are with their parents continually most of the time until they start going to school. I have no doubt, and my own opinion is that much of the bigotry and intolerance that exists in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the United States and in the world today comes from the mouths of the parents. They got it from their parents and probably from friends as they grew up, and got out into the world.

Mr. McMillen said in his discussion that for 1900 years we have not been able to eliminate intolerance and bigotry, and that is true. The churches have tried. They have not succeeded completely. The schools are one place where I have never heard any bigotry or intolerance taught, and I defy any man here to say that he was taught any such things in school.

I was amazed when I heard Mr. McMillen take exception to Section 8 of this bill, page 14, in which it is proposed to have this fair employment commission cooperate with the Department of Public Instruction to give to the school children some kind of an educational program designed to emphasize the origin of prejudice against certain groups and so forth, which is the basis for bigotry. In other words, unless we can clarify the minds of these children in some way and show them what the basis for bigotry and intolerance might be, I do not see how we will ever get rid of it.

It is my conception of this bill, its meaning and its operation, that the commission appointed by the Governor, and the personnel employed by the commission are not going to become a hob-goblin, sit in a high place and point a finger at every employer who says "I do not want to employ somebody because he happens to be Jewish" or "because he happens to be colored." If that employer has a valid reason, a good reason for being able to say "I would rather have an Irishman because I am an Irishman," this commission is not going to persecute people, but it is going to go a long way to try to educate employers that there is no reason why a Jew or a Catholic or a Negro should not be employed if he is equal to somebody else in intelligence and educational training and so forth.

I do not believe this commission would even think of trying to interfere with an employer who has to pick a competent person, if he has a choice between five different nationalities or five different creeds or whatever you have. I have not found anything in this bill which says that as an employer I can not pick out of five or six applicants for a job the one I think is best suited whether he happens to be black or white or Catholic or Jew.

The educational value of this bill in putting the force of the law back of a philosophy in my opinion is certainly worth a trial. We have passed laws before in this House and Senate and they have been on the statute books and they were found to be bad. We found that they did not do what we wanted them to do, so we either repealed or amended them. The same thing is true of this bill. If by experience it is found not to be feasible or workable or it interferes to such an extent with employment that employment in general ceases, we are here every two years—if most of us had our way we would be back every year—and we can correct these things.

But to take the position that this bill is bad because of minor defects such as the fact that you might use a little hearsay evidence before this commission or the fact that the commission might pick a county far removed from the point of employment and so forth, to stress technical matters of such a nature as reason to defeat this bill, in my opinion is not good sense.

I think we should vote for this bill today, not because the Republican platform said that it should be done, not because the Democratic platform said it should be done, but because it is the right thing to do. Unless we want to continue discrimination in employment because of race, color, creed and these other items, unless we want to see that continued in order to give everybody complete choice in choosing his employees—unless we want to do that, then this bill should be passed.

Much has been said today about restricting the matter of choice on the part of employers. Mr. McMillen I believe mentioned the fact that this country has grown great because we have had freedom of choice, but I would like to call your attention to the fact that year after year complete freedom of choice on the part of everybody has been curtailed. When we were a small group of colonies and we did not have a million complex situations as we do today to deal with, a lot more freedom of choice was a proper thing. But as we grow closer and closer to each other, as we live on each other's doorsteps it becomes more necessary all the time to limit that choice in a wise way.

Nobody likes to be told in detail how he has got to live; when he has got to get up; when he has got to go to bed; when he has got to go to work, but you will find that if you analyze your own life that your choice of avenues is limited in many respects and for the benefit of everybody.

I would like to see this bill passed.

Mr. DOWLING. Mr. Speaker, the hour is growing late and I am convinced that all of my colleagues in the House have studied this bill very thoroughly.

The distinguished Minority Whip, Mr. Readinger, has made the statement that no Member on the Republican side of this House has stood up to defend House Bill 55 introduced by Representative Mintess from Philadelphia. I stand here in defense of that bill and say to the Members on the Republican side of this House that I intend to vote for this bill.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make just one statement at this time. The only reason no one stood up on this side is because they just have not had a chance as yet.

I am standing now, and will yield to Mr. Mintess. I will stand up later and discuss the bill; but I absolutely have not had a chance and the Press is looking very anxiously up here, believe me.

Mr. MINTESS. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of House Bill 55, I earnestly seek the support of it from all Members of this House.

It is designed, as you know, to insure and to safeguard the basic rights that are inherent in all people.

During the last campaign, definite legislation concerning fair employment practice was a plank common to the platform of both parties, because our leaders on both sides of the aisle are acutely aware of the urgent necessity for fair and equitable laws that apply in like manner to all segments of our social groups.

I need only to direct your attention to the splendid encouragement that has been expressed in behalf of the pending bill by many religious, labor, veterans, civic and women's groups affiliated with the State Council for FEPC. Surely, a cause that wins such widespread appeal must enlist your support.

In urging your unqualified and sincere endorsement of House Bill 55, may I suggest that its educational features are worthy of more than passing notice. For, it is only by the slow and painstaking process of bringing the wholesome lessons of tolerance and fairness to our children in the schools that we shall ultimately enjoy the satisfying reward of a social group, unmarked by petty and irrational differences.

I appreciate the good will that has always motivated the deliberation of our Members, and I respectfully and feverently recommend that you respond in kind with your overwhelming approval of House Bill 55.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I intend just to make a very brief statement.

Fair employment practice was a pre-election promise that the Republican party made in its campaign during the last year.

House Bill 55 is the fulfillment of that pledge.

When you keep a promise, you are not trying to collect votes, like one of the gentlemen said here today. We are past collecting votes; we are now keeping our promises.

This is further proof that our Governor is keeping every platform pledge that it is humanly possible for him to keep, and I for one am proud of his attitude. He says a campaign platform and a campaign pledge should be kept when you are elected on it. If it is good enough to run on, it is good enough to operate on, and I do not think any man or any party can be condemned for keeping its platform pledges. FEPC was a Republican platform pledge.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I do not propose to discuss the synoptic gospels after the fashion of the gentleman from Indiana, nor do I propose to join in a constitutional argument with the gentleman from Cameron.

I would call the attention of the House to the fact that an FEPC bill has been a part of party promises these many Sessions. I would call the attention of the House to the fact that in 1945 we kept our promise. I would call the attention of the House to the fact that in 1947 we kept our promise. I would call the attention of the House to the fact that in 1949 we kept our promise.

I should also call the attention of the House to the fact that in keeping our promise in 1951 we can bring to the support of this measure the entire membership of the minority group on this floor.

It is my regret that since the two parties have joined these many years in an identical promise, it has come about at long last that the majority group, through its Governor, who I suggest will be surprised at the intimation that his adherence to the FEPC principle was communistic inspired—I say it is my regret that the majority side of this House is unable to rally to the support of this bill in the same unanimous fashion that I believe the minority will be able to rally to it, I still point out that the only opposition to this bill has come from the other side of the central aisle.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs Rose, Lovett and Snider.
